GALLANT SOLDIER LADS HOME FROM ENCAMPMENT

COMPANIES A AND C ARRIVE IN EUGENE ON OVERLAND TRAIN LAST NIGHT FROM FORT STEVENS

Best Time They Ever Had, They Say.

Became Quite Proficient at Use of Big Guns at Fort—Company A Members Bring Home Huge Projectile.

Companies A and C, First Separate Battalion, O. N. G., of this city, returned on the overland train last night from their ten days' encampment at Fort Stevens, at the mouth of the Columbia river. Every member of each company expresses himself as having had a better time than at any encampment for years. The practice with the big guns was a novelty, entirely different from the cut and dried infantry encampments with their hot, dusty drills and long hikes. The boys were kept pretty busy at the fort, but the duties were not nearly so onerous as at the regular encampments.

The guardsmen became quite proficient with the big guns, and they think they could repel any attacking force that might attempt to enter the Columbia for the purpose of shelling Astoria or of running up the river to Portland and capturing the city. The regulars were very willing teachers and the militiamen soon caught on the manipulation of the guns under their direction. The regulars and the state troops were very friendly and the usual friction between them was noticeably absent. Many of the guardsmen wanted to stay longer, so pleasant were their relations with the regular troops. There were several social functions peculiar to soldier life, participated in by officers and enlisted men alike. Some good stories of their stay there are being told.

Brought Home a Projectile. Company A brought home a big projectile which had been shot out of one of the big guns at the fort and which landed in the sand along the beach. It was a dummy used in target practice and weighs 200 or 300 pounds. Some of the members discovered the projectile in the sand and securing one of the mules belonging to the garrison hitched it to a cart and brought the missile to camp. It was boxed up and brought home, and will be kept in the armory as a souvenir of the trip.

None of the members of either company was very sick, and the hospital corps had little to do. Jos. Russell, a member of Company C, fell and pretty badly hurt one of his legs, and he was unable to walk for several days, but he is now getting along very well.

EUGENE WOMAN GOT TWO HUSBANDS

MARRIED ONE MAN THROUGH MATRIMONIAL AGENCY, SAW ANOTHER'S AD. AND MARRIED HIM.

While matrimonial societies as a rule are an excellent thing for the bringing of two lonely hearts together, sometimes they do not always bring happiness and content to those who are members. The case of Geo. W. Dow, who was granted a divorce this afternoon by Judge William Gallogly in the circuit court, is an instance of where things did not turn out as planned, says the Albany Herald.

In his testimony on the witness stand Mr. Dow related his matrimonial infidelities at length, and asserted that because his wife forgot to take her ad for a husband out of the paper after she had married him, she became acquainted with a Mr. Christenson, also a member of the matrimonial society, who lived in Blynn, Washington, and through correspondence previous to and after his marriage to her, the two decided to marry, and therefore on February 27, 1907, Mrs. Dow left her husband, and went to Blynn, Washington, where she was married to Mr. Christenson, only 13 days after her leaving this city.

The plaintiff, who is white haired and about 75 years old, said that he had gone to Blynn and met Mr. Christenson. "Have you a family?" queried Mr. Dow of Mr. Christenson on the occasion of their meeting. "I have a wife," replied the latter. "What's her name?" continued Dow, who was unknown to Christenson. "Before I married her it was Minnie Dolan."

"Well, you've married my wife, then," said Dow. In telling of the case on the witness stand, the plaintiff did not seem to be very downhearted over his wife's desertion and marriage to another man, and smiled throughout the time he was testifying. The defendant is 58 years old and formerly lived in Eugene. The plaintiff resides in Albany and is a cooper by trade.

LINN COUNTY ROAD TO BLUE RIVER MINES

Surveyor Hugh Fisher, S. A. Dawson and A. Blevins returned Saturday evening from the Blue River mines. They made a survey of the Linn county wagon road from the end of the road already built, of which there is between eleven and twelve miles, into the mines. Between thirteen and fourteen miles will be required to complete the road. The grade is easy, about ten per cent as a rule, the highest being fourteen per cent. When completed it will be about a twenty-five mile road. The cost of building the road is approximately $1500 a mile, which will mean something like $20,000 to complete the road, making it much more costly than was anticipated, but there was no stopping point this side of the mines, making its completion necessary in order to secure any use for that already built.

BUSINESS MEETING OF MERCHANTS' ASSOCIATION

answer the ad in the Monthly. It is proposed to get up something in the literature sent out by other cities in Eugene's class.

Other Matters.

The matter of a proposition of an Akron, Ohio, company to move its rubber factory was discussed and it was learned that some time ago agents for the company visited the coast and selected two places as possible locations for the plant. One was Eugene and the other was Los Angeles. For the reason that the latter city could more easily furnish the required labor than Eugene, it was decided to locate there and the buildings are now being erected. It requires 1300 girls to operate the plant, and it would have been a hard matter to secure them here. This is mentioned only to show that Eugene is getting some good advertising, even if it did lose this big enterprise.

MRS. ELIZABETH SHANNON DIES OF PARALYSIS

Mrs. Elizabeth Shannon, one of the state's earliest and best known pioneers, died at her home at 542 Lawrence street in Eugene this morning at 1 o'clock, after a short illness from paralysis. She was stricken Sunday and remained unconscious until her death.

Mrs. Shannon, whose maiden name was Simmons, was born in Randolph county, Indiana, March 30, 1830, making her age at the time of her death 77 years, 3 months and 16 days. She came to Oregon across the plains from Illinois with her father, Samuel Simons, in 1846, and settled in that year in what is now Marion county. She was married July 15, 1847, to Wesley Shannon, who, with Elijah Bristow, crossed the first trail over that up by a white man in Lane county. He died in Eugene some ten or twelve years ago. They lived at Salem and in Marion county a good many years after they were married, coming to Eugene about thirty years ago. Mrs. Shannon has lived here ever since. She possessed a fine farm in Marion county and a great deal of property in Eugene.

Mrs. Shannon was a woman of noble character and was loved by all who knew her. She was a member of the Congregational church. The funeral will be held at Salem tomorrow, the remains leaving Eugene on the 3 o'clock train in the morning. The funeral services will be conducted by her old pastor, Rev. P. S. Knight.

MAY BUILD SAWMILL IN THIS VICINITY

A. A. Damitio and Geo. E. Huntley, of Aberdeen, Wash., are in the city, having arrived from the Siuslaw country last night, where they have been looking for some timber to buy. They are contemplating erecting a small sawmill in this vicinity, although they have not yet fully decided upon the matter. In conversation with a Guard representative last night they said they might build in the timber west of here after the Carver railroad is built, or possibly may build in Eugene and ship their logs in. This all depends upon whether or not they secure enough timber land to suit them. They are well pleased with Eugene and say they would like very much to reside here. They see a great future in store for the city.

A GOOD RESULT

Under the operation of the new pure food laws baking powders now generally bear on their labels a statement of the ingredients. This is of the utmost importance because of the harmful ingredients used in many cases.

Royal Baking Powder is known to be the only baking powder made of Stoyal Grape cream of tartar, and this no doubt explains its greatly increased sale here.

Careful housekeepers are taking advantage of the protection which the laws afford and are examining all reading matter on the back of the label before adopting any brand for use in the home.

When in the place of the word "cream" of tartar the words "alum," "aluminum," or "phosphate of lime" appear among the ingredients, they heed the warning and avoid the baking powders containing these substitutes.
