ALL YOUNG MEN HAVE AMPLE CAPITAL

"If I only had the capital."

The above words were recently uttered in our hearing by a worthy boy and undoubtedly they are often reiterated by many who are out of employment, or have little or nothing to do. To all such we say, you have some capital; you have hands, feet, bone, muscle, health, and are not all these capital? What more capital has God given anybody? "But if I only had a few thousand in cash capital," says the young man. But these are better than cash capital, for no one can take them from you, and with these you can earn cash.

Our men of wealth and influence did not start with any cash capital. They went to work with their plow, the hoe, the jack plane or ax, and in time their capital brought them a rich harvest. Ah! but there's the rub; you don't want to work. You want money on credit so you can play the gentleman, speculate and end your career by playing vagabond. You want to marry a rich girl who can support you, while you wear fine clothes, smoke fine cigars and be a gentleman of leisure.

Shame on you, young man! Go to work with the capital you have and you will soon make interest enough on it to give you as much money as you need. If you cannot make money upon what capital you have, you could not if you had a larger amount in cash. If you waste your present capital you would waste money if you had it. So don't stand around, a great helpless fellow, waiting for something to turn up, but go to work. Take the first work you can get to do and do it well. Always do your best, and if you manage your capital that God has given you well, you will soon have plenty more to manage.

The world would be happier if all people were a little more generous with their praise. There is too much flattery, but a word of just appreciation would cheer the heart and strengthen the hands of many a discouraged worker in the home, in the school, in the church, and in the world.

WHAT EDITOR'S WASTE BASKET MIGHT REVEAL

If some day the newspaper man should print the contents of his waste basket there would probably be a riot. There would certainly be trouble in many homes, arrests in some directions, shot guns in others, trouble all around. But the patron never sees the waste basket. He only glances at the beautifully printed pages, complains if one letter in fifty is upside down, grows his disappointment if one name in five hundred has happened to go wrong, kicks because his communication, signed "Taxpayer," has been condensed into respectable English, frowns because the editor didn't take his advice about publicly warning his neighbor against throwing more melon in the alley, and is generally disgruntled, not so much at what he fails to find. He knows his share of the wastebasket, but if he could have one look at the contributions made to that receptacle by his neighbors and friends, he would thank God for the existence of a man with sufficient intelligence and courage not to print all that he knows, and to temper even that which he does print.

Estimates of the earnings of the Harriman roads for the last fiscal year show that the Southern Pacific has gross income to its credit amounting to $124,865,000, while the Union Pacific earned $75,781,000, a total of more than $200,000,000.

ords. Another interesting feature is that the net earnings of the Southern Pacific were very large, reaching $23,757,000, while only $9,392,000 was paid in dividends, $13,865,000 going into the reserve. The net earnings of the Union Pacific are not given in the published statement, but they were also large.

The Daily Guard has the most complete telegraphic service of any paper in Oregon outside of Portland. It is a member of the Associated Press and besides spends a large amount of money for special news matter not covered by the regular report. That its excellence as a newspaper is appreciated is shown by the splendid patronage it receives in all lines, as well as the fact that its circulation is larger than that of any other paper in the West published in a similar field. No other paper in Oregon, outside of Portland, has so large a number of regular readers.

The new Eugene-Wendling train, making two round trips daily, will be put on August 1, so it is new officially announced. The Guard last Friday made the exclusive announcement that this train would be put on, the news having been wired by our Salem correspondent.

In view of the gingers report the interstate commerce commission might have made on the Harriman investigation, Harriman's pretended anger at the mere statement of facts made closely approaches the farcical.

Only seven votes cast against the bill prohibiting the manufacture and sale of liquor in Georgia after January 1 next, which was passed by the state senate. Verily, prohibition "do grow."

If you believe all you see in print there's something wrong with every man Jack of them. Taft is too fat; Fairbanks too tall; Cannon too old, and so on through the whole outfit.

In failing to discover that the cruise upon which Archie Roosevelt is going with Captain Slocum, aboard the "Spray," is an expedition against Japan, the yellows overlooked a bet.

THE OTHER FEETLOW'S JOB

It's pretty soft for the motorman—He rides the whole day long, With nothing to do but start the car. And tap a warning gong.

The rest of us have to pay five cents. Whenever we want a ride; Lacking the fare we must use Shank's mare.

When we do our homeward glide, It's pretty soft for the doctor, Who deals in human ills. Though at 2 a. m. he must leave his bed.

Armed with a box of pills, A times he must face the wintry wind That stings like a knout. But the rest of us have to take The dope the doctor dishes out.

It's pretty soft for the lawyer, Who labors over his brief, And prays to the court that his client Be granted said relief.

He must read a thousand volumes, All bound in musty calf, But the rest of us when we break our legs Must give the lawyer half.

It's pretty soft for the headearer, He fills his hod with brick, And bears it up the ladder. It's easy to learn the trick. He climbs to the top of the building, Where all is mortar and masonry, But most of the bricks got loosened And fall on the rest of us.

Let us gather around the table, While our hearts with envy throb, And drain a flask to the latest task, The other fellow's job.

THE RETORT

Old Birch, who taught the village school, Wedded a maid of homespun habit; He was as stubborn as a mule, And she as playful as a rabbit. Poor Kate had scarce become a wife Before her husband sought to make her The pink of country polished life.

One day the tutor went abroad, And simple Katy sadly missed him. When he returned, behind her lord She shyly stole and fondly kissed him. The husband's anger rose, and red And white his face alternate grew. "Less freedom, ma'am!" Kate sighed And said, "Oh, dear! I didn't know 'twas you!"

A Memo rable Day, One of the days we remember with pleasure, as well as with profit to our health, is the one on which we became acquainted with Dr. King's New Life Pills, the painless purifiers that cure headache and biliousness, and keep the bowels right. 25c at W. L. De Lano's drug store.

SHATTERING AN IDOL

(Pendleton Tribune.)

Some men are born cruel and some achieve it. To this latter class Hal Patton, a prominent business man of Salem, undoubtedly belongs. The writer has been intimately acquainted with him for thirty years and has never before known him to be especially hard-hearted—in fact, quite the opposite attribute has been one of his principal characteristics.

Hal was a visitor at the Yellowstone Park at the time the startling story was sent out that, at the risk of his life, Vice President Fairbanks shed his linen and plunged into a lake of turbulent water and saved a pretty waitress who had fallen from a boat. The Salem man has returned home and has contributed largely to the shattering of a promising presidential boom. He reports that when the boat overturned a lot of the hotel guests rushed to the lake bank, the vice president being among them, and after the boatman had rescued the girl all hands took a hand—of course—in carrying the pretty thing to the hotel; "but," Hal adds, "she had already been rescued, and she stayed rescued."

But Hal should have kept this to himself. The public would never have known any better, and to them spilt a good story will greatly disappoint those who are diligently arranging for a Fairbanks delegation to the next Republican convention.

HARRISBURG ITEMS OF SPECIAL INTEREST

The big log drive passed this city Monday and now the river is free of logs once more. There are about six million feet of logs in the drive and it requires about twenty-five men and six teams to keep them going. The expense of landing the logs at their destination will probably be in the neighborhood of $10,000. Most of them are good logs and well worth the expense of getting them to the Company's mills at Salem and Newberg.

Quite a number of our townspeople drove to Coburg Sunday expecting to see a good game of baseball between the Coburg and Springfield teams, but in some respects they were disappointed. The umpire's decisions got too rank for the Springfield boys and they left the diamond in the middle of the fifth inning. After the smoke had cleared up the umpire declared the game won by Coburg by a score of 9 to 0. It is to be regretted that neighboring ball teams cannot indulge in a friendly game Sunday at Coburg, and the best way to accomplish this and to prohibit the umpire from betting on the result of the contest.

Monroe Items. A company of civil engineers is at this writing camped near Dusty, where they are engaged in surveying the grounds for the proposed railroad line which is to extend via Dusty to the coast, and if no obstacles cause a hitch in the construction of this line it will be completed in a short time. The surveying of this proposed line has resulted in a fierce conversation between the people of Dusty and Monroe which will remain in the minds of the latter for some time to come.

Mrs. McElroy, of Eugene, has just returned to her former home one mile west of Monroe, where she will again make her home in the future. —Bulletin.

EUGENE GROCERY ADOPTS McCASKEY SYSTEM

To Our Customers—We are adopting the McCaskey One-Writing System for keeping our accounts. While this system is new to us it has been in successful operation for a number of years among the leading merchants of the country, who are unanimous in their endorsement of same. With this system we are enabled to give you an itemized bill with each purchase, which, you will readily see, precludes the possibility of any difference between you and us as to the condition of your account at our store, for we have no record of which you have not an exact copy, inasmuch as all charges will be made in duplicate.

In order to secure your hearty cooperation we will furnish you with a sales slip holder to hold our sales slips. We beg to assure you that the appearance on each sales slip of your total indebtedness to us has no personal application to you or any other customer, but is merely a part of the successful operation of the system.

We thank you for past favors and hope by careful attention to your wants and a strict adherence to honorable business methods to merit a continuance of your trade. Very truly yours, EUGENE GROCERY, 45 East Ninth Street. Phone Main 40.

Long Live the King. Is the popular cry throughout European countries; while in America the cry of the present day is "Long live Dr. King's New Discovery, King of Throat and Lung Remedies, of which Mrs. Julia Ryder Paine, of Turin, Mass., says: "It never fails quickly cure a cough or cold." Mrs. Paine's opinion is shared by a majority of the inhabitants of this country. New Discovery cures weak lungs and sore throats after all other remedies have failed; and for coughs and colds it is the only sure cure. Guaranteed by W. L. De Lano, druggist. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.
