DAN KELLY WILL RUN ALONE FOR TIME HERE

Dan Kelly, the pride of the University of Oregon, and for that matter the whole state, will run a race against time Saturday at 3 p. m. on Kincaid Field to determine whether he is in condition to go to Jamestown. If he makes the hundred yards in ten seconds he will go while if he does not make it in that time it is said he will not make the trip.

Trainer "Bill" Hayward will not do the timing, but judges and a starter will be appointed by a committee consisting of Hon. L. T. Harris, Dave Graham, and Walt Griffin. If Kelly can run the distance in ten seconds flat without any pacemaker or any one running against him, he can make 9 4-5, possibly 9 3-5, with a hard man. In order to win from Parsons, the California wonder, he will probably have to make it in 9 4-5.

Hayward especially wants the test, but at the same time expresses confidence in Dan. In fact, no one in this community has any doubt of Kelly's ability to run the distance today in ten seconds.

Dan is now in far better condition than he was last spring, and unless some backset comes should be in the pink of condition when he runs in the East. Kelly is working out very consistently and never took more pains to take care of himself. Therefore it is safe, as safe as a footrace or a horse race can be, to wager that Kelly will make good, as he did at Spokane.

In case he makes good he and Hayward leave Monday for the East. They expect to make a stop of one day at Baker City, one at Chicago, and one at Pittsburg, in order to keep Kelly in the best of shape. They will have ten days to prepare for the big races on September 7 at Jamestown.

Officials for Tryout.
The officials for the Kelly tryout will be: Starter, Geo. Hug; timers, Drew Griffin, C. A. Burden and Webster Kintald; judges, Judge L. T. Harris, Walter Griffin and Fred Flisk. Mr. Hayward stated this afternoon that the test that Kelly will have to stand is an awful one, but that he was certain that Kelly is the man who can do it.

STREET RAILWAY TURN IS NOW COMPLETED

The street railway construction gang spent most of yesterday in bending rails for the curve from Willamette street to Eleventh street. This morning the railway construction on the turn was finished, Foreman Utterback calling it a splendid job.

The company will work up Eleventh street much faster, since the ground is softer and scrapers are being used for excavation.

Traffic on Eleventh street can go along other highways, and therefore the men are not bothered as they were on Willamette street. Foreman Utterback is now working twenty-six men and several teams. The street is completely blocked.

CLOWNS IN RINGLING'S SHOW EXCEL OTHERS

Ringling Brothers are presenting this season the jolliest company of comedians that ever carried an audience over the high road of laughter. All the old methods of clowning have been discarded and in their stead are a thousand funny scenes and familiar pictures of life, burlesqued in a manner that brings tears of laughter to the eyes of the most sedate.

In addition to the regular clowning the comedy element of the performance is increased by a number of grotesque specialties in the rings and on the stages, among the mbeling a clever clown dog stunt, and extremely funny bar and trapdoor travesties by Horton and Linder, the Livingstone trio, the three prossets, the Marno troupe and the great Teroo-dores.

When Ringling's circus visits Eugene on Friday, August 30, the people will witness the greatest parade that ever passed through a city's streets. From the great imported golden band chariot to the siren piped music wagon on the tall and three miles away, the procession is one long panorama of novelties, presenting themselves one after another in endless variety. Over 1200 people, nine herds of elephants, 658 horses, and the finest array of imported foreign made chariots, cages and floats ever seen, will be presented. The parade is absolutely new in idea, it bears the Ringling Brothers' stamp of excellence, and it contains nothing that any other show can offer.

In keeping with this great parade are the menagerie and the performance. Novelty and greatness are their terms of qualification. What is seen under Ringling Brothers' tents this season can be seen nowhere else. On the day of the show a downtown ticket office will be located in Kuykendall's drug store, where reserved seats and admissions can be had at exactly the same prices charged at the ticket wagon.

COTTAGE GROVE NEWS OF LOCAL INTEREST

A hunting party composed of Geo. McQueen, Louis Grow, Elza Holderman, Colonel Veatch, Henry, John and Hamilton Veatch, left yesterday for a month's hunting trip on Coal creek, about 80 miles from here.

Cottage Grove will have a poultry show sometime along about the holidays. There will be a meeting of the poultry fanciers soon for the purpose of organizing an association and arranging for the show.

Mr. Wilson has disposed of his interest in the Wilson restaurant and with Mrs. Wilson will take a well-earned vacation, leaving here some time in September for a visit to Chicago, and from there will go to the Jamestown exposition.

Miss Georgetta Berg has returned home after a week's visit with her friend, Miss Ethel Moore at Lorane. A delightful lawn party was given by Miss Moore at her home Thursday evening in honor of Miss Berg. Games were played on the lawn, which was beautifully lighted with Japanese lanterns, and dainty refreshments were served.—Nugget.

PROMOTIONS MADE IN COMPANY E

Second Lieutenant Metcalf has been appointed first lieutenant, made vacant by the promotion of Lieutenant Lawson to captain of the commissary department, and Sergeant Petrie appointed to fill Lieutenant Metcalf's place as second lieutenant and Corporal Zerull to first sergeant.—Cottage Grove Nugget.
