BITULITHIC PAVEMENT IS VERY STRONG

Atlantic avenue paving is strong enough to run 92-ton locomotives over.

This remarkable fact was developed yesterday when a massive Pennsylvania railroad engine left the tracks coming out into Atlantic avenue at North Carolina avenue and ran for a space of 29 feet over the bitulithic pavement. It was a severe test, but the paving came through with flying colors.

The big iron monster, weighing 184,000 pounds and having sharp flanges on each of its ten wheels, only made two small indentations in the new pavement, neither of which were perceptible from the sidewalk, sixteen feet away.

President Cherry, of the Standard Bitulithic Company, along with Division Superintendent Clarke, of the Pennsylvania railroad, measured the depressions after the engine had slid back on the track, and found them to be only one-fourth and one-sixteenth of an inch respectively.—Daily Press, Atlantic City, N. J.

This paving is similar to that being used in Eugene. The steam roller that shapes the pavement here weighs 15 tons.

NEWS OF THE WEEK FROM GOSHEN REPORTER

(Special Correspondence.)
Goshen, Aug. 19.—The fine residence of L. W. Elliott just east of town was entirely destroyed by fire today about 4 o'clock. The fire is supposed to have originated from a defective flue. It broke out in the upper story, the inside of which was all ablaze before it broke through the roof or any one discovered it. Nothing was saved from the upper story except one bedstead. We understand the loss was about $2500, with $800 insurance.

Mrs. S. D. McIntosh, of Los Angeles, Cal., who has been visiting Mrs. V. B. Mathews for the past few days, took the train for Eugene today.

James Coppenhaver's family, which has been residing in Eugene for the past two years, has returned home.

At the Sunday school lawn social which was given in A. L. Roney's yard Saturday night, about $10 was cleared.

LUMBER NEWS OF LANE COUNTY

The Brown Lumber Company's mill at Cottage Grove is closed down on account of a surplus of lumber on hand. Cars being scarce some time ago the company moved its logging outfit to a new location, where they expect to cut a reserve supply; having accomplished that they are taking their time getting back to the old location again with the hope that by the time they do cars will be more plentiful and full crews in both woods and mill can be kept busy.

Fischer Brothers' mill at Marcola has been closed down since early in July to undergo reconstruction. It was formerly built for an 8000 capacity mill, and now it has a capacity of 50,000 feet daily. This firm has sufficient timber to run them for ten years yet at the rate of 11,000,000 feet output or over per year.

ROADBED OF BRANCH IS NONE TO GOOD

A number of people have noticed the condition of the railroad track to Wendling, and fear that some accident will occur as the result of this condition. While the traffic and rolling stock are both light, and do not require that some careful supervision of the track that a trunk line does, it is quite probable that the roadbed of a branch line may get in such shape that the rails will not stay down.

At places it is reported that part of the spikes do not bind the rails down at all, being in some instances inches off. But the worst feature is said to be the ties, which are rapidly rotting. At certain places, it is said every third tie could be taken out with but little weakening of the road, so frequent are the decayed ones.

While many people may not like to see a railroad in any condition but that of a trunk line, whenever a wreck does occur on a branch line, where traffic is so light, it is almost invariably due to the roadbed. Only two men work on the section between Wendling and Springfield. The ballast is said to be in good condition.

A RARE CHANCE
I have a farm of 127 acres to sell: 70 acres in cultivation, 30 acres pasture, 2 1/2 acres timber; horses, cows, hogs, chickens, wagons, farm implements; orchard and good buildings. $48 per acre. Four miles from depot; good schools and neighborhood. Enquire at the Springfield Hotel, Springfield, Or.

Costs less because it goes further and lasts longer. Buy New Era Paint at Berger-Bean Hardware Co.
