

S.S.S. HEALS OLD SORES

An old sore or ulcer is only a symptom, an outlet for the impurities and poisons which are in the blood, and as long as this vital fluid remains in this impure, contaminated state the place will never heal. The application of salves, washes, powders, etc., may cause the spot to scab over, but a fresh outpouring of diseased matter from the blood starts it again, and thus it goes on, gradually growing worse and slowly affecting the entire health of the sufferer. There are many ways in which the blood becomes contaminated and poisoned. A long spell of sickness breeds disease germs in the system, the failure of the eliminative members to remove the refuse and waste matter of the body, the excessive use of mineral medicines in certain diseases, all infect the blood with morbid matter and germs which sooner or later is manifested by a sore that refuses to heal. Persons with inherited blood taint are very apt to be afflicted with sores and ulcers. The taint may lie dormant during young, vigorous life, but when middle age is reached or passed and the natural energies begin to grow weaker, the tissues in some weak point break down and a chronic sore is formed and kept open by the constant drainage of impure matter from the blood. If the cause is not removed the sore will continue to grow worse by eating deeper into the flesh, festering, discharging, and slowly undermining the constitution. S. S. S. heals old sores by going down to the very bottom of the trouble, driving out the impurities and building up the entire circulation. When S. S. S. has removed the cause the blood becomes rich and healthy, the sore begins to heal, new flesh is formed, and soon the place is cured. Do not depend on external applications, which do not reach the blood, but begin the use of S. S. S. and remove the cause, and then the sore must heal. ## WM. H. BABER PIONEER MERCHANT DIES AT JUNCTION

William H. Baber, a pioneer merchant of Oregon, died at 6 o'clock p.m. at his home at Junction City, October 18, 1907. Mr. Baber was born at Niles, Michigan, on July 29, 1830, and when six months old his parents moved to Platt county, Missouri, remaining there until April 19, 1852, when his parents loaded all their earthly possessions in the old covered wagon drawn by oxen and joined the procession bound for the far Western state of Oregon, arriving at Jefferson on the 25th day of November, 1852. This family endured all the hardships of the early settlers on their way West. One brother died just five miles west of Fort Hall, and was buried at that place.

In the spring of 1853 William Baber started out to "rustle" for a living, and went to the gold mines of Southern Oregon. Returning in the fall he stopped at Albany and accepted a position with Louis Fleisher, now of the firm of Fleisher, Metz & Co., of Portland. In company with Mr. Fleisher he traveled all up and down the entire Willamette valley selling goods, which were carried on pack horses. Mr. Baber finally resigned his position and accepted a situation clerking in a store at Harborsburg, where he worked for two years, resigning to accept a position with Moore & Norcross in their store. In the spring of 1862 they packed their goods in wagons and with their old ox teams set out for the mines in Baker county, at Auburn. Remaining there one year they sold their stock of goods to the miners, mostly on credit, and when the excitement of the new rich find of gold at Boise reached Auburn the miners flocked for the new Eldorado and left

AMUSEMENTS

It is said that the drama, "The Three of Us," which will be presented at the Eugene theatre Saturday, October 26, by Walter N. Lawrence, aside from its success and long run at the Madison Square theatre last season, commands attention because it is another one of the latest and most successful attempts of an American playwright to write an American play. The color and spirit of it is American, and the characters are, except one native Western American, not exaggerated types, but natural human beings, such as are seen in every day mining life. Hence it is in consequence properly classed with the list which includes "Alabama," "Shore Acres," "The Virginian," "The Squawman," etc., etc. As such it should be considered and well liked.

"The Mayor of Tokio," Richard Carle's latest and no doubt the best musical comedy he has ever offered, will give its initial performance here on Thursday, October 24th. "The Mayor of Tokio" is one of those clean, musical comedies that theatregoers will welcome, as it is entirely different from musical comedies that have been seen here this season. It does not depend wholly on one or two characters for its success, as the company contains about twenty principals and carries a chorus of over sixty young women and men. The costumes and scenery are among the handsomest seen on the stage today. John L. Kearney heads the list as comedian, and his quaint humor and droll sayings stamp him as one of the best musical comedy comedians today. Mr. Kearney is a great favorite here and his coming will insure a full house.

"Thorns and Orange Blossoms." Last season, when "Thorns and Orange Blossoms," that masterly dramatic conception taken from the novel of Bertha M. Clay, was here, hun-

LIVELY FIGHT ON STREET SUNDAY AFTERNOON

A MARCOLA BARBER AND A BARBER OF EUGENE IMBIBE TOO FREELY OF LOCAL OPTION COIN JUICE

The usual quiet of Sunday afternoon was disturbed yesterday between 5 and 6 o'clock by a fist fight between Wan Nelson, of this city, and W. T. Grever, a barber of Marcola. Both were under the influence of liquor and had been quarreling for some time. The altercation began in front of the Chambers-Bristow bank and finished up in front of Eaton's art store, where the combatants were separated by Geo. Hunter and J. M. Williams. Officer Chas. Croner was sent for and both participants in the affair were placed under arrest and jailed. This morning they were both haled before Police Judge Dorris on the charge of being drunk and fighting, and Grever was assessed $20, while Nelson was let off for $10. Allen Eaton, being Nelson's employer, paid his fine so that he would lose no time at his work. Grever has not been able to raise the amount of his fine as yet.

SAILOR LADDIES IN "MAYOR OF TOKIO"

bills to the amount of $75,000 uncollected. In the summer of 1863 Mr. Baber was sent by the firm to the Boise mines to collect all he could from the miners, and he collected $35,000 the first trip and $10,000 on the next trip, all being in gold dust. At that time there was an effort made by robbers to hold him up when they knew he had a large collection, and it was on his return to Auburn with the gold dust that they followed him, and by cutting across the country they beat him to the camping place near Weiser, Idaho. As soon as Mr. Baber arrived there his good judgment told him that it was best to appear careless, and throwing his satchel and bags carelessly on the ground he deceived the gang, they thinking he had left the gold dust behind, and they made no effort to molest him. Mr. Baber, getting an early start next day, made his trip and delivered his gold to his employers without the loss of a cent.

He returned to the valley late in the winter of 1863, and forming a partnership with K. B. Moore, he engaged in the mercantile business at Harborsburg, Or. Two years later he sold his interest to his partner and started a store of his own, which he conducted successfully until 1878, when he traded his store for the one of Smith & Bradford at Junction City, conducting this with great success for several years. Having built a large elevator, he became a heavy grain buyer, but unfortunately he was caught with a large lot of grain on his hands in 1887 which he had bought at a high price, and the bottom dropped out of the market, causing him a loss of several thousand dollars. He was again caught in the year 1899 and lost heavily, which crippled his finances to such an extent that he was compelled to retire from active business.

Mr. Baber leaves to mourn his loss his wife, three sons, two daughters, two brothers and one sister. He had been a member of the A. O. U. W. for twenty years. His old friend, Rev. W. R. Bishop, of Portland, who was with him his last day on this earth, and preached his funeral Sunday, when the remains were taken to the I. O. O. F. cemetery for interment.
