MONDAY, OCTOBER 28

The Eugene Commercial Club has employed John H. Hartog, of California, to take charge of their publicity campaign at a salary of $5000 a year. Mr. Hartog will be an important factor in the development of Oregon, for California has never developed a brighter man in the advertising line.—Portland Commercial Club Bulletin.

NOTES OF PROGRESS

IN OREGON'S GROWTH

Business men returning from the East are unanimous in predicting an enormous immigration to Oregon during the coming year, says the Portland Commercial Club Bulletin. People residing in the great cities of New York, Chicago, Brooklyn, Boston, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati and other population centers never expressed so much anxiety to hear about this country as at present, and the same idea is reflected through the correspondence of the Portland Commercial Club, much of it originating in the cities named above.

Judge John M. Scott, of Salem, president of the State Good Roads Association, is conducting an active campaign in behalf of the good roads meeting to be held in the rooms of the Portland Commercial Club November 14th and 15th. Judge Scott desires that every commercial, industrial, agricultural, horticultural and irrigation organization in the state send delegates.

President Ed T. Judd, of the Oregon State Dairy Association, reports constantly increasing interest in the big state meeting to be held in Portland December 12th and 13th. Constant additions are being made to the prizes, and an active committee is at work. It is desired above everything else that the farmers be present on this occasion.

Oregon never received a stronger endorsement than the following from the pen of Professor Charles Curtis, of Ames, Iowa, Agricultural College:

"There is nowhere on the face of the globe a land or people so dominant in the improvement of livestock or so potent in the production of the highest types of domestic animals as the British Islands. There is nowhere on the American continent affording conditions so closely allied to those of Great Britain, as on the North Pacific coast of the United States. The similarity is noticeable not only in climatic conditions and natural environment, but also in the genuine enthusiasm and deep-seated faith in the industry possessed by the tillers of the soil."

SUSLAW LOOKS TO

CARVER FOR RELIEF

The Florence West discusses the Siuslaw railroad situation in the following editorial:

The Eugene Guard of last Friday contains an article pointing out to the people of the county seat how they are letting the business of the western part of Lane county be diverted to Corvallis, when Eugene could have the benefit of it, had her capitalists not changed their minds about raising that $60,000 to assist in building the Carver road to the Siuslaw. The Guard says that nothing has been done toward carrying out the proposition of A. Welch to build an electric road to Salem and Portland and probably nothing will be done until some other genuine proposition is started for the relief of Lane county and the development of its resources. Further, that paper says that the Welch proposition was made for the purpose of killing off the Carver movement. Be that as it may, it looks as if the Carver road will be built to the Siuslaw, and if Eugene wants the business of this section it will have to get in the line or it may be too late. The

Put the Habitual Felon to Death.

By Attorney General BONAPARTE.

ALL SOCIAL ORDER IS FOUNDED UPON OBEDIENCE. UNLESS MEN CAN BE INDUCED OR COMPELLED TO DO AND NOT TO DO WHAT THEY ARE TOLD BY LAWFUL AUTHORITY TO DO OR NOT TO DO, AS THE CASE MAY BE, COMBINED EFFORT, ORGANIZATION, EFFECTIVE LABOR IN ANY GREAT UNDERTAKING, EDUCATION, SECURITY FOR PERSON OR PROPERTY—IN SHORT, CIVILIZED SOCIETY—CANNOT EXIST.

The primary purpose of punishment is to assure obedience to the law. When inflicting punishment the state looks NOT TO THE PAST, BUT TO THE FUTURE, not to the individual who has disobeyed and now suffers, but to all the individuals in like case with him who may hereafter fear to disobey by reason of his suffering.

Nevertheless it is true that punishment FAILS if the criminal remains as dangerous to society after he has suffered it as he was before. While the chastisement of each particular offender looks to the betterment or at least the diminished harmfulness of all possible wrongdoers, still, as he is himself one of them, and that one MOST DIRECTLY AFFECTED by the penalty, its effect upon him must have due weight in considering its merits. If any form of punishment renders those who have suffered it less willing or less able to again break the law, it is A GOOD FORM OF PUNISHMENT. If it makes less neither their readiness nor their capacity to do again the like wrong, when occasion offers, then, in so far as it affects them, it is a failure.

The habitual criminal, it must be remembered, is a product of modern civilization. OUR ANCESTORS WOULD HAVE HANGED HIM FOR HIS FIRST FELONY, or, if by any chance he escaped this fate, he would have almost surely died of some of the maladies then endemic in prisons, while awaiting trial for the second.

I WOULD NOT HAVE MEN HANGED TODAY FOR A TRIFLING THEFT OR OUR PRISONS DENS OF FILTH AND HOTBEDS OF DISEASE, BUT I WOULD HAVE MODERN SOCIETY CEASE TO NOURISH AND SHELTER ITS PROVED AND INVETERATE ENEMIES.

HIS TEDDY BAER.

THE CAR FAMINE

By Dean Collins.

Oh, the long, weary shortage!
Short of cars, but long of season!
While the owner of the sawmills
Waited for the cars that came not.
Ever higher, higher, higher
Piled the lumber round their saw-mill.

Ever shorter, shorter, shorter
Grew the line in their blue pencils.
While they cancelled unfilled orders.
Scarcely from the silent office
Could the millmen find a passage.
Groping 'mid the piles of lumber,
Threaded through the unshipped timbers.

"Till they stood among the millwoods
Waiting 'till the sleeping railroads
Saw the silent rails beneath them.
Vanishing into the distance.
Every day they came and stood there,
Month by month they stood and waited.

Hazed their heads among the mill-
woods.
To the rusted steel beneath them
To the rusted steel beneath them,
Listened for the faint vibrations
Of a distant or "rats" approaching:
But no sound disturbed the silence.
Saw the soft and gentle rattle
Of the wheels among the millwoods
Oh, the anguish of the millmen!
And conviction of the market.

Ever thinner, thinner, thinner,
Grew their little roll of greenbacks.
As they paid the men who labored
Making lumber that they sold not.
Sawing timbers that they shipped not
And across the growing millwoods
And the lumber-crowded sidings,
Hanged their cry of lamentation.

Give us cars on Uncle Edward!
Give us cars to ship our lumber!
Cars, James J., in mercy give us!
Handcars, Pullmans—give us something.

Wherever we may ship our lumber!
But no sound was waited backward,
Save a faint and feeble echo,
Saying weakly, "Ship our lumber."
—Dallas Observer.
