PULL ALL TOGETHER FOR GREATER EUGENE

Oregon is more prosperous than ever before in the history of the state, and it is only necessary for the people to go on about their work and business in the usual way to insure a continuance of this condition. They should not lose their heads because a bunch of Portland bankers got panic-stricken and prevailed upon the governor to advertise the fact that our banks had loaned more money than they really should have to Eastern banks; there is no necessity for our busy, money-making people to become alarmed. The bankers and governor alike are sorry for what they did, and are aware now that they made a mistake. Depositors should set them an example by remaining cool-headed and refusing to get excited.

Here in Lane county we must pull right along for the upbuilding of the country and the development of our resources. We have made a splendid start in the past year and there should be no set-back; there can be none if we are determined to the contrary. It is the time for a general uniting of forces for the common good, just as is done in Seattle, the most remarkable city of the West, where during even the great panic of the early nineties there was not a single bank failure. Up there they do not know the meaning of the word failure, and their example should be emulated by Oregon cities.

Pull together for a Greater Eugene.

VIEWS OF OREGON'S GREATEST BANKER

The interview of Hon. A. Bush, the pioneer Salem banker, on the present financial situation, is the most lucid of any utterance yet published. To those who know the man it will carry conviction and they will heed his advice. Mr. Bush is a banker of the old school, honest, conservative and clear-headed, who never allows his vaults to be depleted, or indulges in speculative investments, and when he tells the public to go ahead with their business and let this little flurry have no more than a passing notice, he knows whereof he speaks.

In brief, Mr. Bush says the Portland bankers induced the governor to do an unwise thing in proclaiming the special holidays, and that Oregon is prosperous and solid, requiring a large volume of money for her enormous crop movement, the shortage of cash in some of the banks being for this reason, a sign rather of prosperity than the reverse.

NO MORE PYRAMIDING

One thing has been pretty clearly established by the developments in New York banking, says the Wall street Journal. Hereafter the clearing house will not permit the pyramiding of banks on borrowed money. In other words, the process of pyramiding banks must come to an end. A capitalist is not to be permitted to buy a bank and then hypothecate the bank's stock for loans with which to purchase another bank, the securities of which are put up for loans with which to purchase another institution, and so on ad infinitum. If this thing is done, the banks must not expect to enjoy the privileges and protection of the clearing house.

Chains of financial institutions are one thing, but the creation of such chains by the process noted is quite another.

Altogether, the developments of the past few days, sensational and disturbing as they may have been, and full of possible peril, are a mighty good thing for the country, and the banking situation is in the way of becoming sounder than ever before.

Without questioning the wisdom or sincerity of such speakers at the National Civic Federation's convention as I. N. Seligman, who said, "to seek to abolish the trusts is visionary"; Frank Parsons, who said, "the destructions of trusts and combines is a false aim," and Sam Gompers, who said, "it is idle chatter to talk of annihilating the trusts," we venture to ask if this isn't the same federation that allowed the expenses of its committee, sent to Europe to investigate public ownership, to be paid by the New York traction trust?

It may be a broad assertion to say that a man who will knowingly sell worthless corporation stock to innocent investors would, if there was anything in it for him and did not endanger his own life, scuttle a ship loaded with women and children, but it's no broader than the facts will justify.

Public sympathy is for once with "Willie" K. Vanderbilt, jr., who kicked a camera to pieces which had been used to take a stolen snapshot of his sister, the Duchess of Marlboro, as she stepped off a European steamship.

A financial panic, big or little, is always a bad thing, but it is far better to take the risk of one than to allow a bunch of unscrupulous high financiers to cause the rest of the world to regard all Americans as thieves.

Nevertheless and notwithstanding, everything in this country isn't rapid. A Brooklyn man has just received a postal card mailed seven years ago, at a postoffice only a hundred miles from that town.

The West Virginia miner who sat on fourteen sticks of dynamite and touched them off, wasn't taking any chances of making a failure of the job. They didn't even find any scraps of him.

Kissing comes high in Missouri, where a woman is suing a man for $10,000, just for taking one; and, after all, the poor fellow may have been just trying to "show her."

The Washington Post invites trouble by bunching all the papers that oppose sending that fleet of battleships to the Pacific under the head of "the mollycoddle press."

Nothing occurred at the St. Louis balloon-fest to indicate the early starting of regular airship passenger lines. In fact, the whole business is still in the sporting stage.

Proof would not be difficult to get that the Chanler presidential boom is a good thing—for the bunch of "boys" who need and are getting the coin.

NEWS NOTES

Salem Journal: Mrs. A. C. Mills, of Tillamook, who has been visiting in this city, left today for a visit at Eugene. She will visit relatives in California befor ereturning home.

The Observer has taken a census of Dallas, and finds 2090 people in the city. There are 503 dwelling houses, and only three vacant houses were found. One hundred and thirty-nine homes are childless, and in 143 there is only one child.

Various Kinds of Hypocrites.

By DEAN MATHEWS of the University of Chicago Divinity School.

THERE is constant danger that the Christian attitude may be lost in the UNSCRUPULOUSNESS OF BUSINESS. A competitive world lamentably succeeds in developing men whose ambitions do not rise above the standards of mere wealth.

We have only too often seen how DIFFERENT is the code of morals which a man prescribes for himself as an individual and as a director of a corporation.

The new social order brings the church face to face with a CRISIS which cannot be treated flippantly. It is a matter of life and death for both the church and the new social order. The church is not as completely IN TOUCH WITH ITS AGE as it should be.

THERE IS THE PIOUS HYPOCRITE, THE HYPOCRITE WHO HAS A CONSCIENCE FOR OTHER PEOPLE, THE HYPOCRITE WHO IS A DOWNRIGHT FALSIFIER OF THE TRUTH, AND THERE IS THE PHILANTHROPIC HYPROCITE, WHO HIRES A BRASS BAND WHENEVER HE MAKES A GIFT TO CHARITY TO LET PEOPLE KNOW THAT MR. SIMON SOMEBODY HAS BEEN GIVING AWAY SOME MONEY. ALL THESE HYPOCRITES ARE AMONG THE RESPECTABLE CLASSES.

CUT RECIPE OUT AND SAVE ANYWAY

There is so much rheumatism here now that the following advice by an eminent authority will be highly appreciated by those who suffer.

Get from any good pharmacy one-half ounce fluid extract dandelion, one ounce compound Kargon, three ounces compound syrup sarsaparilla. Shake these well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime. Also drink plenty of good water.

It is claimed that there are few victims of this dread and torurous disease who will fail to find relief in this simple home-made mixture, and in most cases a permanent cure is the result.

This simple recipe is said to strengthen and cleanse the eliminative tissues of the kidneys so that they can filter and strain from the blood and system the poisons, acids and waste matter, which cause not only rheumatism, but numerous other diseases. Every man or woman here who feels that their kidneys are not healthy and active, or who suffers from and urinary trouble whatever, should not hesitate to make up this mixture, as it is certain to do much good, and may save you from much misery and suffering after a while.
