

FISH AND POULTRY MARKET TO BE OPENED

J. W. HUFF WILL CONDUCT UP-TO-DATE PLACE ON WEST EIGHTH STREET.

J. W. Huff is preparing the room at 74 West Eighth street, formerly occupied by the Eugene steam laundry, for a retail fish and poultry market, which he will open on Saturday of this week or Monday of next. He will have on hand at all times dressed chickens, fresh fish of all kinds, crabs, oysters and other shell fish, which can be secured on any day of the week without waiting till certain days as at present. The place will have a telephone which will be installed within a few days and people in any part of the city can order by phone and have their orders delivered within a few minutes afterward.

A DESIRABLE JOB.

I'd like to be the idle rich,
Without a thing to do—
But walk around and look at things
And loaf enough for two,
No time clocks calling me to work,
No boss to make me dance,
It might demoralize me, but
I think I'd take a chance—
A carriage waiting at my beck
Wherever I might go,
An automobile if I thought
A carriage much too slow,
Or, for a change, a special train
To keep some silly date,
Expense not cutting any ice,
Say, wouldn't it be great?
I'd be the busy idle rich,
But not at useful toll,
Until the novelty wore off
I'd keep things at the boll,
I'd wear ten suits of clothes a day,
Each one the latest style,
Oh, yes, I guess it would be poor
And hardly worth the while.
If I were but the idle rich
And not the busy poor,
I'd hire a man to breathe for me
But not to eat, I'm sure,
Though critics might declare that I
Was but a parasite,
I'd buy some critics of my own
To say I was all right.

Heroic Treatment.

"Why don't you get rid of that cold?"
"I have tried everything I can think of, but I am still hoarse."
"Tried horse liniment?"

Just For Practice.

"Can you keep a secret?"
"I can try."
"I have a wart on my left ear."
"That's no secret."
"It's a good enough one to try on."

Touch Me Not.

"Touch me not," you hear her say,
Chance you to come near to her;
"Let me be; now go away,"
So the maiden will demur.

Nelle is a touch-me-not
Snappy little flower that blows
In a sunny wayside spot
Where the shining water flows—
Prickly as a nettle leaf,
Yet as light as thistledown,
Laughter chasing tears as brief
As a June day's thunder frown.

But at touch of Cupid's wand
Touch-me-not lies docile, still
As the nettle in your hand,
Crushed, obedient to your will.

Her Abilities.

"What a magnificent girl!"
"Yes. Shouldn't she be able to support a husband well, though?"

Providing for the Future.

"Carrying any life insurance, Uncle Joe?"
"No; I don't need it. We are saving the coupons on everything we buy, and they should very nicely provide for our old age."

Supplied the Deficiency.
Though he was short on culture
And very shy on wit,
Yet he was long on money,
And no one noticed it.

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

If we were always honest with ourselves, everybody would get a square deal.

Strew a little sunshine along your way even if you have to stand off the sun trust to do it.

COFFEE

Good coffee is partly in buying and partly in making; like everything else.

Your grace returns your money if you don't like Schilling's Best, we say him.
