

POWERFUL SERVICES

AT M. E. CHURCH

LARGE INCREASE IN ATTENDANCE AT HAUDENSCHILD REVIVAL - COTTAGE PRAYER MEETINGS

Pastor Trimble made the statement last night to the vast audience which packed every available space in the Methodist church: "You have my sympathy if you miss the 2:30 p. m. services, for in them is the best meal of the nut." With this sentiment, all who have been privileged to be present the first two afternoon services will concur. There was a large increase in attendance yesterday over the day before and it will soon be true of these services as it is already of the 7:30 p. m. services, that you will have to come very early to get a seat. The house was filled last night ten minutes before the time for service and many were turned away because they could not get in.

The following cottage prayer meetings will be held Friday morning at 9 o'clock:

Mrs. Bristol's Fairmount, Mr. Flegal, leader.

Robert McCullough's, Fourteenth street, near Alder, Professor Dunn, leader.

OREGON TRUST BANK WILL SOON REOPEN

Portland, Dec. 31.—Unless present plans miscarry, the Oregon Trust & Savings Bank, which on August 21 failed for nearly $2,500,000, will be reopened by the German-American Bank of this city, and will be merged with the latter institution.

The plan is said to hinge on the obtaining of an order from the courts which will enable the German-American Company to pay off the Oregon Trust depositors in installments. S. G. Reed, the treasurer of the Portland Railway, Light and Power Company, has been offered the presidency of the bank.

AS TO ACUTE DISEASES

In many quarters of the country osteopaths are not very numerous; as a result, the news of their good work having spread, they are kept busy treating patients who come to their offices suffering from diseases that have become chronic, so that the impression has grown that osteopaths treat chronic diseases only.

In many quarters of the country where osteopaths have become numerous the doctors of this new school have become the regular family physician. They have been called in alike for the troubles of children and parents, and their marked success in the treatment of diseases of every character makes their services much sought after. Any one who wishes a thoroughly convincing demonstration of osteopathy's effectiveness should call in an osteopath when some member of the family is suffering from an acute attack; and it is quite certain that the osteopath will thereafter be the family physician.
