The W. R. P. L. held their regular business and social meeting on last Saturday afternoon with Mrs. Emma Johnson. This was the annual meeting for the election of officers and the officers elected for the ensuing year are: Mrs. W. W. Calkins, president; Mrs. Emma Johnson, vice-president; Mrs. J. B. Whitcomb, recording secretary; Mrs. Thompson, treasurer. Following the custom of the organization for years, the ladies next devoted their attention to a Christmas tree which was laden with presents for all. Mrs. David Lhak assisted the hostess in serving delicious refreshments.

The Young Men of the Dormitory Club entertained the first of the University students and a few invited guests at a dancing party on Wednesday evening. The floor of the large reception room was waxed for the occasion and a program of twenty dances enjoyed to the music furnished by Miss Ems and Mr. Arthur Hendershott. The dining room, in which Mrs. Church in her gracious manner served punch, was a very popular place between dances. Miss Grace Parker also received with the boys and welcomed the guests.

A number of the University students gathered at the home of Miss Mary Dellar on Thursday evening and informally entertained themselves with music and a few hands of five hundred, after which Mrs. DeBar served delicious cake and fruit sherbet. Those in attendance were: Mrs. Jones and the Misses Sue Hayes, Helene Robinson, Rachel Vogel, Pearl Wilbur, Edna Zimmermann, the Messers Glen Scott, Robert Oberteuffer, Harry Swart, Grover Kestley and Will Kilts.

The Thursday Afternoon Club met this week with Mrs. T. B. Luckey. Most of the afternoon was devoted to making and perfecting the arrangements for the Charity Ball, about which society is just entering now. Mrs. L. M. Travis was an invited guest for the afternoon. The business meeting was followed with needle work and cards, after which the guests sat down to an appetizing luncheon.

Miss Maude Kerns who has been spending the holidays with her parents here was the complimented guest at a number of gatherings this past week. Mrs. P. E. Snodgrass entertained for her Monday by inviting about a dozen of her friends in to spend the afternoon. Then on Tuesday Mrs. F. L. Chambers entertained in her honor. The ladies were invited to bring their needle work and pass away the afternoon. Mrs. Chambers was assisted in serving refreshments by Miss Mary Chambers. The guests were Mesdames George Melvin Miller, L. T. Harris, C. A. Burden, W. W. Calkins, R. S. Bryson, Terrell, Fred Chambers, S. F. Kerns, O. F. Stafford, George Freeland; the Misses Ruby Hendricks and Maude Stinson. On Thursday afternoon Miss Kerns was entertained by Mrs. W. W. Calkins at a luncheon.

Miss Mary Chambers charmingly entertained a number of her young friends on Monday evening with a chafing dish supper, given in honor of Miss Evelyn Bristow, whose birthday occurred on that date.

The ladies of the Thursday Afternoon Club are certainly to be commended for the work they are going to, for the cause of charity. The ball given last year was a great success, and there is no reason why the one to be given this year should not prove to be a still greater success. To get the correct idea of the ball before the public I think it is well to quote in brief what one of the club members herself has said concerning it. "I remember that last year a number of people refused to buy tickets because they thought their money would be used to pay for heavy expenses of the ball. And so it occurred to me that it would be well to remind people that the expense of giving the Charity Ball last year was just $25.88. And although every detail is not arranged for this year's party, everything that has been done indicates that our expenses will not exceed those of last year. The military companies have given us the use of the Armory as they did last year, and the music has been secured at a reduction.

Each Club member gives $2.00, one of which buys the ticket and the other defrays the expense of the refreshments served, so that we do not ask others to do more than we are willing to do ourselves.

"Since our Charity Ball on February the twentieth of last year we have assisted in the maintenance of seven families and in so doing we have expended money as follows:

$16.00 for food.
$25.90 for provisions.
$2.95 for clothing.
$15.25 for the care of the sick in the Eugene hospital, not for doctor's fees, but for the nursing and medicine. We have been very careful in the spending of this money, our aim being to help the unfortunate to be able to help themselves and not to make them dependent poor.

"Last year's charity ball was a great success. It was our first attempt and many tickets were sold by a personal canvass of the city. This the club members do not feel like doing this year, not that our zeal is any less, but there are many unpleasant features connected with such an undertaking. And we feel that the success of our former party and the cause of charity should make this year's ball a success. The tickets will be on sale soon and the places of sale announced. The price will be one dollar a couple, both for dances and spectators.

It is not an evidence of greater Eugene to have a fund deposited in one of our banks to be used for the unfortunate poor, whether he be friend or stranger? This is certainly an appeal that all of our citizens will take to heart, so let each one of us help the ladies in their noble work.

Miss Lucile Abrams gave a New Year's party to a few of her friends Tuesday evening at her home on Oak street. The evening was spent with dancing and games. Refreshments were served early in the evening.

Those present were the Misses Mary Roach, Una Neal, Grace Woods, Lucile Abrams and Pauline Potter; and Messrs. Elmer Furuset, Ivan Anderson, Wendall Barbour, Phil Hammond and Franklin Allen.

Mrs. I. M. Glen graciously received about two dozen of her friends yesterday afternoon in honor of her mother, Mrs. Veazie, who has just recently returned from Japan. Mrs. Veazie delightfully entertained the guests with scenes and beautiful embroideries from the places she visited in the Orient. The hostess was assisted in serving by her two little sons.

Chester Chrisman was among the few Eugene guests who attended the Criterion Club's dancing party in Salem last week.

On New Year's eve the Sunday school class of Miss Allie Beebe, of the Baptist church, was pleasantly entertained at the home of one of its members, Miss Harriet Purdy. Games, conversation and music were indulged in until a late hour. At 11 o'clock a dainty luncheon was served, during which many good resolutions were made for the coming year. As the old year was dying a delicious "1908" cake was cut and passed around. While the clock proclaimed the arrival of the new year, the guests retired to the piazza to usher him in. Those present were: The Misses Allie Beebe, Rhoda Green, Ruth Horton, Mabel Beamer, Roberta Ham, Beulah Kinsey, Maud Guthrie, Augusta Young, Daisy Pollock, Clara Roth, Junis and Egar Young, Hazel and Ethel Purdy. The invited guests were Francis Wallin and Max Gibson.

The ladies of the Priscilla club entertained their husbands at a whist party Friday evening at the home of Judge and Mrs. G. R. Chrisman. The highest score among the gentlemen was made by George H. Smith, and among the ladies Mrs. George H. Smith and Mrs. H. A. Schwering tied, the latter winning on the draw. During the evening the members of the club presented Mrs. Chrisman with a beautiful cut-glass bowl. Mrs. Chrisman leaves shortly for an extended visit in California and this method was taken of expressing the appreciation which the club feels for the many favors of the past. At 11 o'clock a delicious luncheon was served by the committee in charge.

The Priscilla Club was entertained Thursday afternoon by Mrs. W. P. Boynton at her home on Eleventh street. Cards and music by Dr. Boynton made the hours delightful. The hostess had as her honor guest her sister, Miss Howard, of California, who assisted her in serving the delicious luncheon. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. W. H. Alexander on January 16.

The Women's Study Club met at the home of Mrs. Martin Harper on Saturday, December 28. The work for the afternoon was the study of France. The club was called to order by the president, Mrs. R. A. Jayne. The members responded by resolutions from Victor Hugo. Miss Erma Smith had a very interesting paper on the life of Marie Antoinette, followed by the history of France by Miss Marian Harper. The subject of a public library and the means by which to secure it was discussed. After assigning the work for the next meeting, which will be held at the home of Mrs. R. A. Jayne, the club adjourned, having had an interesting and profitable meeting. Those present were: Mrs. Bell, Mrs. R. A. Jayne, Mrs. H. Walker, Mrs. F. Wolfe, Mrs. Page, Misses Ida Platt, Etta Bowerman, Erma Smith and Marian Harper.

On the 27th inst. a most pleasant evening was spent at the home of Miss Lulu Martin by a number of her friends, who gave her a surprise. The evening was enjoyably spent with music and games, after which a dainty lunch was served. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. H. Walker, Dr. Richmond and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Wolfe, Mrs. Rouse, Fred Walker, Misses Bertie and Allice Kester, Miss Marian Harper, Miss Ida Platt.—Newz.

JUNCTION CITY NEWS

Born—December 28, 1907, to Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Kook, a daughter. This is the first little girl to visit the shrine and there is naturally great rejoicing.

Our local sportsmen are meeting with great success in shooting ducks and geese on the Long Tom and other waters west of here. One hunter informed us that he believed he saw thousands of them in one flock. Water is still a little too numerous for the hunting, as the birds have too many places to light.

Mrs. J. H. Miller received a letter announcing the death of her mother at Neosho Falls, Kansas, which occurred December 24th, 1907. Mrs. Saferite had been in poor health for several months and Mr. and Mrs. Miller returned East to visit her and when they left she was seemingly improving in health. She was aged 69 years and 6 months.

Who says that farming does not pay? We want to cite one instance. Clarence Koon's gross receipts from his farm of 300 acres netted him just 16 per cent, basing the value of his land at $75 per acre. Do you know of any other business that will equal this? While the past season has not been considered an extra good year his receipts exceeded last year's by $1000.

STANLEYS' HAVE BIG REDUCTION SALE

Stanleys, who have conducted a store in Eugene at 612 Wilamette street for the past four and one-half years, are to have a tremendous sale, commencing tomorrow morning, as mentioned in the advertising columns of yesterday's Guard.

Owing to changes in the management of the business which will soon be made, this sale is forced upon the firm, and it is not to be classed with January clearance sales that are being generally held. The firm announces that it does not expect to realize the wholesale cost of merchandise during the sale, as one-half of the goods in stock must be turned into cash immediately. A great deal of merchandise will be sold at 10c to 25c on the dollar.

To open the sale they will, tomorrow, hold a grab sale, selling packages at 25 cents each. Each package contains merchandise worth not less than 25 cents, and the greater portion worth 50 cents to $2, the largest value being a gold watch, which is worth $20. The total wholesale cost of the articles included in the packages is just double the amount that will be realized from their sale of 25 cents each, or an average of 50 cents per package. Commencing Monday, one package will be given free with each pair of shoes sold.
