ADVERTISING PAYS
IN NEWSPAPER OF
GENERAL CIRCULATION

Yesterday a resident of Eugene sold his residence in this city to a lady who saw his advertisement in the classified columns of The Guard, and this is only one instance among many of the direct results received from advertising in the Daily and Weekly Guard. The Guard absolutely covers the upper Willamette valley field, going regularly into a large majority of the homes. The Daily Guard's circulation, going to regular subscribers, is 15275—a larger bona fide circulation than any other daily paper in Oregon, outside of Portland; Weekly Guard, no exchanges and no deadhead subscriptions, 1690. We have no circulation secrets, our subscription books and mailing lists being open to the inspection of advertisers at all times.

LIVELY NATIONAL CONVENTIONS IN PROSPECT

Every one anticipates a lively time at the next Republican national convention, but with the Democratic national convention it has looked pretty much the same old story. If reports current among politicians are to be believed, however, the contest in the Democratic convention will be as interesting and important as that in the Republican convention. The story is being spread through the capital that the system has picked Governor Johnson, of Minnesota, to beat Bryan for the Democratic nomination, and any candidate which the Republicans may put up who is pledged to Roosevelt policies. This interesting story first appeared in a long Washington dispatch to the Buffalo Evening News, to be substantiated the next day by Democratic National Committeeman Hon. Norman E. Mack, of Buffalo. Mr. Mack is the proprietor of the Buffalo Times, and reprinted the News dispatch in full, besides giving an interview with the News confirming the story. Since then it has been spread through Washington, perhaps in an effort to offset the movement in favor of Governor Johnson. It is not for a moment charged that the governor is cognizant of any effort on the part of the system to have him nominated, or that he is pledged to favor it in any way, but it is charged the system has picked him out as the only man who can defeat Bryan for the nomination and from now on it will boom him with all the resources at its command. According to the story, James J. Hill, of St. Paul, recently went to New York and told the system that if it would furnish the money he would put up the man to beat Bryan, the idea being that if a Roosevelt Republican were nominated the weight of the system would be thrown to the Democratic ticket. From New York he went to Washington, where the Democratic national committee was to meet. He was there during that meeting, at which John B. Stanchfield, of Elmira, showed up with a proxy for New Hampshire. According to the report the plan was to secure the postponement of the Democratic convention to as late a period after the Republican convention as possible, to give the system time to operate on the delegates in such a Republican unsatisfactory as the system should be nominated. Mr. Stanchfield, who is represented as being of Mr. Hill, advised a delay of five weeks. Ex-Senator Kenzig, of Delaware, fought on the outside to break the unit rule, held that rule in force and also cut down the time of holding the convention from five weeks, as advocated by Mr. Stanchfield, to three weeks after the Republican convention. Mr. Kenzig found he was beaten and did not fight the unit rule on the floor of the committee. The point is repeatedly made that Bryan cannot carry New York and cannot win without it. The system says that New York is against Bryan. However much truth there may be in the story there is no doubt that a sentiment hostile to Bryan is cropping out here and there. Whether it is inspired by the system or is honest conviction of those exhibiting it, the fact remains that many Democrats say and doubtless believe that with Bryan as a candidate the fight is lost before it is begun. Against this we have the equally sincere protestations of many Republicans that Roosevelt is the only man who can beat Bryan.

WONDERFUL WIRELESS
IS MAKING PROGRESS

Dr. Valdemar Poulsen says he will this year have his wireless telegraph in perfect operation between Denver in perfect operation between Denmark and the United States. He gave an exhibition before Dr. Eagan, the American minister, the other day, which seemed to be perfect. The account says "the apparatus worked with marvelous force and accuracy." The Danish newspaper Politiken sent a message around the world east and another west. They were three hours and twenty minutes making the distance, and the contest resulted in a dead heat.

Incidentally, the other day a British steamer sent a wireless to the Lusia, both on their voyages, informing the Lusitania that another British ship had broken her shaft in midocean, but a fourth British ship was standing by to render any assistance needed.

Even the storms at sea cannot prevent the wires from finding out the secrets of the deep and blabbing them to all the world.

Moralists, economists and all sorts and conditions of "latter-day reformers" must be watching with unusual interest the progress of a novel kind of strike over in Philadelphia, says the New York Commercial. Under the leadership of Miss Tanya Layes, a young Russian woman of talent, education and breeding—a graduate nurse who resigned a hospital position to take up the cause of labor—about one hundred and fifty girl employees of a paper wrapper factory in that city have been out on a strike for the past six weeks for an unprecedented reason. "This strike," as the leader explains it, "has special significance for the working people of Philadelphia because it is the first strike that women have ever undertaken here. Then, too, it is unusual in that it is not a strike for higher wages or shorter hours. It is a strike for more courteous treatment at the hands of the foreman." If a factory foreman who has been discourteous to his young women "hands" can be forced into actual courtesy by a paper wrapper makers' union, it will be a new triumph for organized labor—which has never before been suspected of possessing any particular ambitions in the way of manufacturing politeness.

It was announced in the press dispatches several days ago that Secretary Taft brought a personal message from the mikado to President Roosevelt declaring Japan desired always to remain at peace with the United States and would do everything in her power to remove danger of irritation over the immigration question by prohibiting or restricting the emigration of Japanese laborers. If Japan shall actually put an end to such emigration to this country she will save her own face and avoid trouble hereafter.

Women are to be excluded from the next trial of Harry Thaw. Though admission was by card, the court room was crowded by members of the fair sex during the former trial of the famous case. These came out of a morbid curiosity, and the judge has determined this shall not be gratified again, all women but members of Thaw's family and the female reporters being denied admittance. He has acted wisely; it is not necessary to gratify such curiosity.

The "home edition" of the Junction City Times has been received. It is one of the most creditable special editions issued this year in Oregon, and is a credit alike to Edgar Moorehead and the enterprising community whose liberal patronage is reflected from every page of the edition. Its circulation will benefit every part of the upper Willamette valley.

Fruit growers, hop growers and poultry raisers are all holding conventions and exhibitions in Lane county, a fact that is indicative of increasing interest in these pursuits.

The Jap Is an
"Undesirable Citizen."

CALIFORNIA'S delegates to both national conventions will raise their voices strongly in favor of the EXCLUSION OF THE JAPANESE from the United States. They may even demand planks in their platforms dealing with that issue as a necessity.

THE JAP IS AN UNDESIRABLE CITIZEN. HE HAS BEEN TRIED AND FOUND WANTING. IF IT WERE A CHOICE BETWEEN ADMITTING JAPANESE OR CHINESE TO THIS COUNTRY, THE PEOPLE OF CALIFORNIA WOULD WELCOME THE CHINESE.

The Japs are tricky, dishonest and do not know their place. It is NOT A CASE OF IMPANSONED RACE PREJUDICE with the Californians. They know their ground, and they have given the Japs a FAIR TRIAL. If the east knew as much about them as the Pacific slope does it would have exactly the same view.

NO MEAN PEOPLE ON RURAL MAIL ROUTES

Modern methods are necessary for success now-a-days in any line of agriculture, and full discussion and a free exchange of ideas are especially beneficial. Everything points to the early resumption of work on the construction of electric railway lines in and about Eugene. With the building of these roads it will be impossible in any manner to retard the steady growth of Eugene, and for that reason alone an unusually busy year may be looked forward to.

If Senator Foraker and Congressman Burton, of Ohio, keep on handing each other knocks through the newspapers they'll be sufficiently worked up to pull off a real scrap in the capitol by the time congress resumes its sittings. Foraker is the oldest, but is believed to have the hardest punch.

This year William J. Bryan (of Florida) goes to the United States senate, by gubernatorial appointment, to succeed the late Senator Mallory; next year his more famous Nebraska namesake will go—of course we know where, but—

After all, Booth Tarkington, who nearly put two Indianapolis policemen that arrested him for being too hilarious out of business before they got him to the station house, may have been only gathering local color for a novel.

Let the wig-wearers beware, and begin to save up. The wig-wearers are organizing and as soon as they are all in the union will charge hair-raising prices.

It may surprise some people to know that there are enough republicans in Alabama, outside the Federal offices, to form warring factions.

All the naturalists combined could not convince us that animals do not furnish evidence every day that they do.

One of the penalties for getting something worth having out of politics is having to wear the "practical politician" label.
