STAND BY EUGENE'S FINE MILITARY BAND

Eugene has a splendid band, the result largely of a year's hard work on part of Professor Read, the very capable leader. What he has accomplished could not have been done, however, except for the persevering work of the members of the organization, and each individual is therefore entitled to full share in the credit that attaches to the band as a whole.

Tomorrow night the band will give an entertainment, assisted by Miss Florida Dare, an entertainer of real ability, and the people of Eugene should pack the theatre to its capacity. They are assured of a splendid entertainment, well worth the admission price, and furthermore it will give evidence that the band is appreciated and that the city is proud of it, and glad of the opportunity to assist it financially.

SCHOOLS EDUCATING FOR INCAPACITY

With all the elaboration of our educational system, are we fairly preparing our young people for the work which must be done if the race is to sustain itself, is civilization is to be kept for? Does our over-elaborate educational system aim at the end of equipping the rising generation for the real duties which they must face? So interrogates the Argonaut, and in answer to itself says: Our system takes little or no account of the needs of the workaday world, provides no equipment for the meeting of every-day and commonplace duties. Much less does it give that discipline and concentration essential to steady devotion to humdrum things.

WATERS OF TULE LAKE ARE FAST EMPTYING.

J. Frank Adams informs the Merrill record that the decrease in the depth of the waters of Tule Lake, as shown by the government measurements at his place, amount to one inch within the past two weeks. When the vast size of this body of water is taken into consideration and the further fact that this is the season of precipitation and not of evaporation, it will be readily recognized that the newly discovered outlet is gradually lowering the lake.

NEW THEORY SUCCESSFUL IN INDIANAPOLIS

L. T. Cooper Makes Very Many Converts During His Stay in That City

The new theory, backed up by his preparation) advanced by L. T. Cooper with regard to the cause of most ill health of the present generation is being sown broadcast by this young man.

Cooper believes that the human stomach has become degenerate in civilized races, and declares that good health is impossible unless the stomach is revitalized. This he claims to do with his preparation.

An article from the Indianapolis Star during Cooper's stay in that city has this to say of Cooper and his preparation: "Residents of this city are being astounded by L. T. Cooper and his new preparation."

"Reports that preceded Mr. Cooper's visit here told of his success in other localities, but the immense success of his medicines and the general belief in his theory was wholly unprecedented.

"So great is the rush of the public to this young man that people stand in line waiting their turn for hours in an effort to see him. The most interesting feature of this is the statements made by reliable citizens as to the actual accomplishments of Cooper's medicine. Among recent statements of this character the following is a fair example:

"Mr. B. F. Campbell, of 3224 West Washington street, has this to say of his experience with Cooper: 'I have been a victim of stomach trouble for the past five years—sick and suffering pain all the time. Everything I ate distressed me. I have been under the treatment of many physicians and have taken all kinds of medicine, none of which afforded me any relief. I was greatly discouraged, and was about ready to give up when Mr. Cooper came to this city to introduce his remedies.'

"I was skeptical, of course, after spending so much money and taking such a large quantity of medicine, but, like the drowning man, I was ready to grab at a straw, so I secured some of Mr. Cooper's New Discovery medicine and began taking it. It seemed to help right from the first dose. I have been taking it for several weeks, and can now eat heartily and enjoy my meals for the first time in five years—eat anything, without pain or distress of any kind. I feel like a new being—life is worth living now."

Let us explain Mr. Cooper's remarkable medicine to you if your general health is not all that it should be.—Hull's Re Cross Drug Store.

IN MEMORIAM

Of Jessie Maud McCormick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. McCormick, who died December 30, 1907:

An angel of mercy and love Came down from God's mansions Above And ere the night had changed to day Her spirit wooed from mortal clay.

This model sister, this loving daughter, Noble in thought, so pure in life, Loyal in friendship, Christlike in deed, Her practice consistent with her creed.

So loved at home, so dear to friends, Her influence in a circle extends Unmeasured, unmeasured in years, And priceless as jewels of tears.

Our words and our tears now betoken That a fond earth she now is broken, But our spirits give witness at length Of a love that eternal in strength.

To this life she bade farewell In joy that our words cannot tell; Christ welcomed her home, and resigned We'll love still more a God so kind.

She is sleeping, oh, so sweetly, Where not a trace of care or sorrow E'er can mark her peaceful brow. Keep the tears that thou wouldst lavish O'er that quiet peaceful head.

Written by a friend and neighbor in heart, also a neighbor in Women of Woodcraft.

AS TO ACUTE DISEASES

In many quarters of the country osteopaths are not very numerous; as a result, the news of their good work having spread, they are kept busy treating patients who come to their offices suffering from diseases that have become chronic, so that the impression has grown that osteopaths treat chronic diseases only.

In many quarters of the country where osteopaths have become numerous the doctors of this new school have become the regular family physician. They have been called in alike for the troubles of children and parents, and their marked success in the treatment of diseases of every character makes their services much sought after. Any one who wishes a thoroughly convincing demonstration of osteopathy's effectiveness should call in an osteopath when some member of the family is suffering from an acute attack; and it is quite certain that the osteopath will thereafter be the family physician.
