CITY NEWS

The regular meeting of the city council will be held this evening.

The board of governors of the Commercial club will meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

Mrs. J. Lineh has moved to Eugene from Drain, her household effects having arrived Sunday.

Elizabeth W. Brewster has been appointed guardian of Josiah W. Brewster by the county court.

A marriage license was issued today to Henry L. Ryan, aged 27, and Miss Cora Traer, aged 16, both of Junction City.

Judge Harris, of the circuit court, has granted the petition of writ of review in the Mayhew nuisance case and it will be heard on January 22.

The work of building the sidewalk on Willamette street from Fourteenth street to the foot of College Hill to connect with the one built from there to the new hospital will begin within a few days.

F. J. Hard, who has sold out his newspaper plant at Cottage Grove, has moved his office to Eugene and will direct his printing operations in the Bohemia district from this city hereafter.

The members of the Eugene Oratorical Society are earnestly requested to meet on Tuesday evening at 7:30 p. m. at Frank's hall. Important business to transact. I. M. Glen, president.

Rev. D. E. Baker, missionary for the Baptist church, announces that the services at the Creswell church have been changed from the fourth to the third Sunday in each month. Rev. Mr. Kelly will occupy the pulpit next Sunday.

Wednesday night of this week the Ashland Athletic club's basketball team will be here to play with the Eugene high school team at the armory. A preliminary game will be played between the fans and the team of the high school.

Julius Goldsmith says the room just vacated by his branch cigar store is not rented for a restaurant or any other business. The owner of the room will not allow him to sub-lease it, although he has had 14 applications for it since vacating it.

We receive on our exchange list two "Pacific Outlooks," one published at Grant's Pass, Or., and the other at Los Angeles, Cal., both weekly publications. As the Los Angeles paper chose the name first, the one at Grant's Pass should choose some other.

In the delinquency court at the armory Saturday night four members of Company C were fined $1 for not attending rifle practice during the year 1907. Others were let off by giving good excuses. Some did not appear, and will probably receive heavier fines when they show up.

During the first week of registration of voters Registrar Charles McFarland registered 196. The second week promises to beat the first, as the names are coming in from the county precincts. There was a large batch of them from Junction in this morning's mail.

The large maple trees on Olive street in front of M. S. Hubble's residence were felled Saturday to make room for a new cement sidewalk to be built there. These trees were set out 25 years ago by the late J. B. Stowell, father of Mrs. Leonard Gross. They made a remarkable growth in that time, measuring 32 inches in diameter, 15 inches above the ground. Mrs. Gross witnessed their downfall and with a feeling of sadness, she helped set them out and watered them all during the summer in which they were set out.

"Red Feather," a splendid comic opera, will appear at the Eugene theatre soon.

L. N. Roney, M. F. Griggs and John Hampton went down the Long Tom yesterday in a boat after ducks. They did very well—got one lonely little teal. The hunters on the lake report a pretty good days sport.

The homestead contest case of Eva V. Hunter vs. Geo. Kroll, involving land near Lorane, was heard before United States Commissioner W. W. Calkins today. L. Blyden appeared as attorney for the contestant and S. P. Ness for the contestee.

The team of J. C. Baker, a merchant of Jasper, who was in the city today, became frightened at a passing car while standing in front of J. Goldsmith's cigar store this afternoon and started to run away. They ran into a light pole and one of the horses fell on the slippery cement sidewalk. It was unable to arise and it became necessary to unhitch it. There was no damage.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Wolgamott arrived here Saturday night from Portland, where they were married Thursday evening, and will reside in apartments in the Broderer block for the present. Mrs. Wolgamott was formerly Miss Mena Bachman, daughter of the late August Bachman, a wealthy cattle owner of Baker county. Mr. Wolgamott is an employe of the Willamette Valley Company, and he has many friends here who tender congratulations.

A CURE FOR MISERY
"I have found a cure for the malarial malaria produces," says R. M. James, of Louellen, S. C. "It's called Electric Bitters and comes in 50 cent bottles. It breaks up a case of chills or a bilious attack in no time and it puts yellow jaundice clear out of commission." This great tonic medicine and blood purifier gives quick relief in all stomach, liver and kidney complaints, and the misery of lame back. Sold under guarantee at W. A. Kuykendall's drug store.

O. A. C. FIVE DEFEATS UNIVERSITY OF OREGON

Exciting Basketball Game at Armory Saturday Night Ends in Score of 27 to 21.

Oregon Agricultural College defeated the University of Oregon team by the score of 27 to 21 in an exciting game at the armory Saturday night. The teams were about evenly matched with the exception that Corvallis threw baskets more accurately than did Oregon during the second half.

At the close of the first half Oregon led, 12 to 11, and at one time during this half had O. A. C. 10 to 5, but her men seemed to lose confidence during the second half. The most interesting feature of the game was the personal battle between the centers of the two teams, Loosely of Oregon, and Carter, for Corvallis, both of whom measure over 6 feet 4 inches in height. Captain Hathaway was the star for Oregon, although most of Corvallis' baskets were made over him by Forward Moore, who is one of the lightest men on his feet ever seen here.

The night came on, the good wife smiled. To herself as she softly said: "Thank God, we're happy, healthy and bright. We all take Rocky Mountain Tea at night." Linn Drug Co.

NASHVILLE STUDENTS TOMORROW NIGHT

The above named company appeared at the opera house last evening before a fair sized house. The performance was a creditable one, as a whole, while the dancing was excellent; in fact the best seen in Lead for many months. There are nine people in the company and they keep busy all the time. Those who attended last evening were well satisfied.—Black Hills Register, April 24.
At Eugene Theatre, two nights only, Jan. 14th and 15th; popular prices, 10c, 20c, 30c.

Slang of the Army.
In the army there are expressions peculiar to itself. Heard for the first time by outsiders, they need interpretation. Among the most common are "hike" for "march," "striker" for a soldier serving as body servant or house man for an officer, "C. O." for "commanding officer" and "O. D." for "order of the day," "hop" and "boproom" for "dance" and "dancing room," "ciz clothes" for "civilian dress," "commissaries" for "groceries," "coffee cooler" for an officer who is always looking for an easy job in some staff position, "found" when an officer fails to pass his examinations and "shaveball" for a youngster just out of West Point. Among the soldiers the expressions have multiplied until quite a vocabulary of strange words has been established. "Bobtail" is a dishonorable discharge. "Orderly bucker" is a soldier who, when going on guard duty, strives by extra neatness of appearance to be appointed orderly to one of the officers. "Dog robber" is the soldier's contemptuous expression for "striker."—Leslie's Weekly.

Her Visitor.

A young married man of extremely jealous disposition recently visited one of the most famous mediums in London. Being far from home, he wanted to know what his wife was doing. "She is looking out of the window, evidently expecting some one."

"That is strange," said Benedict. "Whom can she expect?"
"Some one enters the door, and she caresses him fondly," went on the medium.

"It can't be!" cried the excited husband. "My wife is true to me."
"Now he lays his head on her lap and looks tenderly in her eyes."

"It's false! I'll make you pay dearly for this!" yelled the jealous husband.
"Now he wags his tail," said the medium.

The green eyed monster subsided, and the young husband cheerfully paid over his consulting fee.—London Scraps.

A Peer and His Patent.

After it is once issued the patent for the creation of a new peerage cannot be altered. Otherwise Lord Glerawly would be written Lord Glenawly, as Glerawly was written by a clerk in mistake for this word. Another interesting case of a similar nature is that of Charles Pawlet, afterward third Duke of Bolton, who died in 1754. In 1717, while his father, the second duke, was still alive, Pawlet was made a peer as Lord Pawlet of Basing, although the intention of the king and his advisers was to summon him to the house of lords under one of his father's junior titles—that of Baron St. John of Basing. However, the writ of summons had been made out to Lord Pawlet of Basing, and Pawlet bore this title until he became Duke of Bolton in 1722.—Westminster Gazette.

Simple Rules of Health.

Never pick your teeth with any hard substance. Bar the pick unless it is made of soft white pine. Repeated use of a hard pick drives the gums away from the teeth, and pretty soon you are a victim of Riggs disease. After this meal pick your teeth gently, then rinse out your buccal cavity with an antiseptic solution of tepid water. After rinsing use a gargle to clean out the throat—a solution of salt in water. Wash off your tongue as far back as you can reach and scrape the root of it silver in a while with an instrument of silver made for the purpose. And, above all, never put anything into your mouth that does not agree perfectly with your stomach, if it is expected to descend below the throatlatch.—New York Press.
