HOME OF L. G. HULIN AND FAMILY

Above is a picture of L. G. Hulín's new residence on Charnelton street between West Ninth and West Tenth. It was completed only a short time ago at a cost of $4,000 and is the only stone residence in the city, the stone coming from the C. McAlpin quarry on College Hill. John Hunzicker, the architect, drew the plans for the building. C. McAlpin had the contract for the stone work and W. O. Heckart for the wood work.

CHICAGO POLICE STOP PARADING OF UNEMPLOYED

PLANNED TO HAVE FORTY THOUSAND MEN IN PARADE, BUT WINTRY WEATHER AND POLICE INTERFERENCE CHANGED PROGRAM—SEVERAL CLASHES OCCURRED DURING AFTERNOON

Chicago, Jan. 23.—Preparations for a possible clash between the police and unemployed workmen commenced in earnest today, when the police were massed at the downtown stations in anticipation of trouble. Thousands of copies of a circular calling on the unemployed to meet at the lake front and from there march to the city hall and demand work were distributed. The chief of police declares the parade will not be permitted and gave orders not to permit anybody to loiter on the lake front, and the fact that it is the coldest day of the winter aided the police in carrying out their plan. It was expected by the leader of the movement to have forty thousand men in line, but today Dr. Benjamin Listerman said if called upon he would disperse the marchers. Several sharp collisions occurred this afternoon between the police and unemployed, who attempted to parade to the city hall. Two hundred men formed a column and started to march, but were met by the assistant chief of police who, upon their refusal to disperse, charged with his force, using clubs on those who attempted to hold their ground. A second parade was formed and met similar treatment at the hands of the police. One leader was arrested.

HENDRICKS TESTIFIES HE WAS PROMISED IMMUNITY FROM JAIL

Portland, Jan. 23.—Under oath H. H. Hendricks, former United States commissioner, admitted in the Hall-Mays trial today that he had been promised immunity from punishment by the prosecution, arranging for a fine, provided he pleaded guilty to the conspiracy charge in connection with the Butte Creek Land, Livestock & Lumber Company's home-stead claim scheme, and went on the witness stand against Hall. Under cross-examination Hendricks admitted that he "had an idea" that the fraudulent home-stead claims were to be turned over to the Butte Creek Company, of which Hendricks was secretary and treasurer. During his examination Hendricks disclosed former Special Agent Loomis in an apparently unfavorable light in that he alleged that when Loomis was sent to examine the claims it was arranged that claimants should be on their respective claims so that he could report favorably to the department. All but one claimant, a woman, showed up, and an alleged false affidavit was prepared for Loomis in this connection.

Portland, Jan. 22.—Following the pleas of guilty of former United States Commissioner H. H. Hendricks and Clarence B. Zachary, a member of the Butte Creek Land, Livestock & Lumber Company, co-defendants in the so-called Hall-Mays conspiracy case now being tried in the United States Court here, Hendricks went on the stand and testified that in May, 1900, he visited ex-United States District Attorney Hall at the latter's office in this city and after a preliminary conversation in Hall's main office regarding the operations of the Butte Creek Company, he went into the attorney's private office, where Hendricks suggested that Hall could use his knowledge of the alleged illegal acts of W. W. Steiwer, then candidate for and afterward elected State senator, who was also a member of the Butte Creek Company, to influence Steiwer's vote for United States senator. The government also introduced in evidence, for the purpose of showing Hall's alleged friendliness for the Butte Creek Company, a letter to the attorney-general in which Hall asked for a "live special agent to investigate the alleged illegal fencing of government land in Eastern Oregon."

Evans made of Thaw in the Tombs prison during the four months following the killing of Stanford White and conversations with Thaw in which the prisoner declared that Providence took a hand in the matter of White's killing.
