For all ambitious candidates the remaining days of the race will be filled with the keenest competition, and it's the ones who make the best showing from now on who will figure most prominently when the prizes are being awarded.

From every section of Lane county which The Guard's great $1000 prize contest covers vote getters in each district are hustling from early until late to get enough votes and subscriptions to place their name in a winning position after the last count of votes is made, which will be only fourteen days from now. Wire-pulling of all descriptions is being done, but it is with charming good nature that the intense rivalry prevails. Candidates are alive to the fact that the prizes to be awarded are too valuable to be passed up without an effort, hence all sorts and conditions of lines are being planned by the candidates to get enough subscriptions to place their names to the front when the occasion demands. Yesterday several of the out-of-town candidates called at the office of The Guard to learn the details regarding the trip prizes and scholarships, and all declared they would work everlastingly from now until the last moment of the contest to capture them, and will urge their friends to do likewise.

The contest is constantly growing in popularity, as is illustrated by the greatly increased vote each day. A week ago much was said about the candidates who had taken to the road in pursuit of votes. At that time there were only about a half dozen candidates soliciting votes on the road, and it was indeed thought remarkable. But now there are 12 of the candidates soliciting votes the same as a traveling man drums up business, and from reports that are being received all of them are doing remarkably well. Eugene candidates packed up their dress suit cases and took the trains to the surrounding towns. The country candidates packed up their dress suit cases and came to Eugene. The Eugene candidates who sought other fields are obtaining many subscriptions. The candidates from the surrounding towns who came to this city have done equally as well as the Eugene candidates who went out on the road. But they will all return to their homes very shortly to conclude their various campaigns. They realize that the contest is coming rapidly to an end, and that they have no time to waste if they expect to be victorious in this memorable struggle. Paid-in-advance new subscriptions are what count.

Candidates are entering on the last lap of the contest. The hard work will be over for the candidates two weeks from Saturday night, and next week tells the tale as to which of the contestants in the four districts wins the grand upright piano, which of the contestants and chaperone candidates win the prize of the five free trips to Los Angeles and return with free entertainment at a good hotel, while a big reserve of votes is an essential if you want a look-in the next night, at the same time your friends will support you more readily if your name is in the lead in your district and they think you are a winner.

A CURE FOR MISERY
"I have found a cure for the misery malaria produces," says R. M. James, of Louellen, S. C. "It's called Electric Bitters and comes in 50 cent bottles. It breaks up a case of chills or a bilious attack in no time and it puts yellow jaundice clear out of commission." This great tonic medicine and blood purifier gives quick relief in all stomach, liver and kidney complaints, and the misery of lame back. Sold under guarantee at W. A. Kuykendall's drug store.

EIGHT-YEAR-OLD GIRL MAKES FINE PASTRY

The Elsie Griffin, the eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Griffin, of the People's restaurant at the corner of West Seventh and Olive streets, sent to The Guard office a fine sponge cake and a cream pie which she made without any assistance after school hours last evening. Elsie is a very bright little girl and can cook as well as many grown girls and much better than most girls five or six years older than she. Her pastry is especially fine, as The Guard force can testify to by sampling the cake and pie which she sent to this office. Mr. Griffin says he will put his daughter up against any girl of her age in the state for cooking, and thinks she could easily win in any contest of that kind. He says the culinary art should be taught in the public schools.

AMUSEMENTS

"The Village Schoolmaster" was presented at the Eugene theatre last night to a good sized and appreciative audience by Eckhardt's Ideals, a clever repertoire company now filling a four nights engagement in this city. The company is composed of capable actors who are giving a good show at popular prices. Tonight "A Texas Outlaw."

Robley Male Quartet
The Robley Male Quartet sang in the First M. E. church to the great delight of all. They are all artists. Every number on the program, as well as the encores, was received with the greatest delight. They ought to go everywhere. Their work is novel, unique and most effective. The hits they make are capital. I commend them most heartily.

Howard Kinsey has a very beautiful deep bass voice of unusual promise. If all the natural equipment of his youth is fulfilled by a Frederick Howard, Dean Drake University, Conservatory of Music, Voice Culture, Interpretation of Song, Ensemble Singing, Conductor of Music.

The Robley Quartet sang several selections at the chapel meeting Friday morning. Mr. Robley read a couple of selections from Eugene Field and James Whitcomb Riley. The boys were received enthusiastically by the student body.—Fort Colliue Evening Courier.

His masterly address on Poland completely captivated his audience.—Salem Republican.

His lecture on Russian prisons was one of the most interesting heard here in many years.—Newton Press.

At the Baptist church Friday and Saturday evenings, under the auspices of the Baraca Male Quartet. Admission, 35 cents. Children, 25 cents.

"The Gingerbread Man" will certainly be welcomed royally in Eugene, for aside from its delightful music and clean, wholesome fun, they have in their personnel "Garriek Majors," who was for some time associated with Western productions; also Miss Day, the prima donna, whose work is also well known on the coast.

"Owen Wistar's story of 'The Virginian' comes very nearly being the great American play. Most assuredly it is the great play of the great West. W. S. Hart was seen at the Lyceum last night as the Virginian. His delineation of this character cannot fail to charm everywhere. Frank Campanau plays the sinister Trampus with all the ease and grace that comes from long polish of an originally fine creation.—Democrat and Chronicle, Rochester, September 6, 1907.

HAPPY WOMEN.
Plenty of Them in Eugene and Good Reason For It.

Wouldn't any woman be happy? After years of bacchache suffering. Days of misery, nights of unrest. The distress of urinary troubles. She finds relief and cure? No reason why any Eugene reader should suffer in the face of evidence like this:

Mrs. M. J. Brew of 295 West Eighth Street, Eugene, Ore., says: "I suffered from severe pains that seemed to run from the kidneys through the legs and down into the limbs. There was also a noticeable disorder of the action of the kidneys and the presence of uric acid caused rheumatic twinges. Being induced to try Doan's Kidney Pills I was agreeably surprised by the prompt relief I found. It helped me a great deal in just a few days and the improvement continued as long as I kept on with their use. I cannot help but give Doan's Kidney Pills a stronger recommendation."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.
