ILLIONS ARE WANTED FOR FEDERAL CENSUS

Director S. N. D. North, of the census Bureau, has asked congress appropriate $14,000,000 to defray expenses of the thirteenth decennial census, to be taken in 1910. The constitution of the United States requires an enumeration once every ten years as a basis for the apportionment of representatives in congress. The modern American census which collects statistics relating to every important feature of national life, is the outgrowth of a requirement. Beginning with simple questions relating to population, the amount and scope of the information secured were steadily broadened until it became too extensive to be tabulated by hand.

The next census will be the first taken since the establishment of the permanent Census Bureau, fifty five years ago. The enumeration of 1910 will be on June 1st of that year. Hereafter the enumeration has been taken on June 1st. Mr. North says more accurate statistics will be obtained by the proposed change of date. This change will have the effect, he thinks, of showing great increase in the population of the large cities, like New York, Boston and Philadelphia. He says that the summer resorts begin to attract many thousands in May, and that if the census is delayed until June 1st the enumerators will find many vacant places when they begin to make their heads.

In the last census 300 supervisors were employed. It is supposed to be 330 supervisors for the thirteenth census. The bill provides that these supervisors shall be authorized to begin work on July 1, 1909, so that the enumeration districts can be laid out and their geographical limits clearly defined and scrutinized in every locality, with a view to correction of omissions and errors. Mr. North says he will make effort to have high-class men designated as supervisors, and to this end he proposes that these officials be paid a minimum compensation of $1200 a year. The supervisors are to be appointed by the president, and so far as practicable and desirable, the boundaries of the supervisors' districts are to conform to the boundaries of the congressional districts.

The per capita cost of the first census, taken in 1790, was $0.112, while the per capita cost of the census of 1890 was $1.550. Mr. North does not think there will be an increase in the per capita cost of the thirteenth census over that of the first.

The plum-hunters of congress are expected to look with favor upon a plan proposed by the director for cutting his force of temporary enumerators for the next census. The bill provides that such additional clerks may be required shall be subject to competitive examinations. The director of the census, in cooperation with the civil service commission, may prescribe the examinations to be held under the direction of the commission. The thirteenth census will be reported to congress in a report which will be required to include statistics relating to population, agriculture, manufactures, and mines and quarries. It is provided in the bill that there shall be a census of agriculture in 1915, and once every ten years thereafter, which shall show the acreage of the principal crops, and the number and value of domestic animals on the farms and ranges of the country.

It is proposed that in 1911 a sum not to exceed $50,000 shall be expended to ascertain the feasibility of securing information required for making comparisons between the number of domestic animals and the acreage of the principal crops on the same farms in succeeding years, the returns on which the comparisons are based to include for any county at least 70 per cent of the acreage of the farms of such county.

A Portland, Oregon, street car conductor has patented a street recorder to be placed in street cars, which will record the name of the street which the car is approaching and also designate the numbers of the houses on the block. At the same time the invention will flash a picture or advertisement to view until another street is crossed. The speed of the car does not alter the display in the least, for the trolley simply meets an overhead contact hanger, wherever located, and the recorder does the rest. This device will not only relieve conductors of the task of calling out street numbers or names, but will quiet the fears of the nervous passenger who can keep an eye on the dial and thus be assured of running no risk of being carried by his or her destination. Persons seeking a street may locate it a block away by means of this recorder, which is like an ordinary cash register, and it can be removed from one car to another if necessary. The thing will relieve the monotony of one passenger staring another out of countenance, for between advertisements bits of attractive scenery could be displayed and even a phonograph might be attached to play the latest popular airs.

Interest in the proposed local Building & Loan Association is growing rapidly, and it is safe to predict that all the stock necessary for organization will be taken at the meeting next Wednesday night. At that time it is hoped that there will be a large attendance at the commercial club rooms to hear the plan of the association fully explained, after which stock subscriptions will be opened. This movement is distinctly in the interest of the wage earner and small businessman, although it would prove a safe investment at a moderate rate of interest for the man with money to invest. As a local movement to stimulate home building there is no other plan that excels it in substantial results.

That New York federal office-holder who did not know any better than to have himself endorsed for reappointment by Senators Platt and Dewey got it where he might have expected it—in the neck. And Platt and Dewey will hardly try to pull off a Foraker rejection stunt in the senate for his benefit.

Congressman Maynard, of Virginia, has put in a claim for the belt for the most unique proposition to tap the public money drawer by introducing a bill directing the navy department to buy, for $5000, "Don't Scorn a Sailor," a song written by a seaman on one of the battleships.

Mark Twain and Senator Tillman appear to have similar ideas about bank receivers, as Mark writes, "It costs more to keep a permanent bank receiver than it does to keep a harem." By the way, how did he find out about the latter?

None of the other candidates are in Taft's class when it comes to laughing—the old-fashioned, shaking, enjoyable, contagious kind. And it's an asset of value to any public man, or any other sort of man, for that matter.

It's an open season for the starting of fake presidential booms, to give some man, about 99 per cent below presidential size, a chance to get into the limelight with a denial that he is a candidate. Great schemes never fails.

Senator Tillman thinks national bank receivers have been getting more than their share of assets of "busted" banks, and wants the figures for the last fifteen years. That will make a lot of work for the treasury, anyway.

Nevertheless and notwithstanding, it might really be a good thing for jurists, soldiers and sailors to stick to their specialties and keep out of the public critic's game, in which they are always out of place. Doesn't congress have a hard enough job to kill time, without being compelled to hold sessions daily from

ONLY WAY TO RETAIN HEALTH

Young Man With New Theory Says All Depends on the Stomach.

L. T. Cooper's theory regarding the human stomach, is rapidly becoming a topic of universal discussion. Cooper claims that the human stomach has become chronically deranged by modern conditions, and that sickness generally is the result. In a recent interview, while introducing his medicine in a leading city, Mr. Cooper said: "There is just one way, in my opinion, to maintain general health, and that is by building up the digestive organs. The vast majority of Americans today have weak, flabby, distended stomachs. This has been caused by many generations of overfeeding and lack of exercise, until today the entire civilized race is affected. This is the true cause of most of the ill health of today. Little can be done to relieve it until the stomach is once more brought back to normal conditions."

"I am successful because my preparation puts the stomach in sound condition, and as I maintain this 9 a. m. to 6 p. m., as a new member from Georgia with butting in propensities has proposed?"

Somebody has discovered that Speaker Cannon is naturally left-handed. That may account for his delivery being so puzzling to the legislative batters of the opposition house team.

St. Paul and Minneapolis are said to be the largest frog markets in the world, yet their citizens would resent being called either croakers or jumpers.

If the statesmen who claim that the country is not ready to accept the best currency reform will prove up, we'll back the country to do the rest.

OREGON MUST STAND BY HER STATE UNIVERSITY

(Harney County News.) Quite a discussion is now in progress as to whether the appropriation made by the legislature last year for the support of the State University should be ratified or rejected at the polls next June, the question coming up under the referendum. The news hopes to see an intelligent understanding reached on this matter, not through prejudice or false ideas of economy, but through sound business reasoning. The question involved is, "Does Oregon need a first-class institution of higher learning?" The man who answers that question in the affirmative will be compelled to acknowledge that such an institution must be properly supported or it cannot possibly be anywhere near first-class. The amount provided in the bill referred to the people is $125,000 a year, to be expended under direction of a board of regents of which the state board of education forms a part, the other regents being responsible citizens of the state appointed by the governor. Standing before the world inviting the best people of other states as immigrants, Oregon could not afford to destroy or weaken the cap sheaf of its educational system.

A CURE FOR MISERY

"I have found a cure for the misery malaria produces," says R. M. James, of Louellen, S. C. "It's called Electric Bitters and comes in 50 cent bottles. It breaks up a case of chills or a bilious attack in no time and it puts yellow jaundice clear out of commission." This great tonic medicine and blood purifier gives quick relief in all stomach, liver and kidney complaints, and the misery of lame back. Sold under guarantee at W. A. Kuykendall's drug store.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

The question has often been asked, can there be good water secured in the Gross addition? We say, yes, G. W. Taylor, the well driller, has just informed the company that he has completed two wells of excellent water in said addition at a depth of 65 feet.

IT DOES THE BUSINESS

Mr. E. E. Chamberlain, of Clinton, Mo., says of Bucklen's Arnica Salve: "It does the business; I have used it for piles and cured them. Used it for chapped hands and it cured them. Applied it to an old sore and it healed it without leaving a scar behind." 25 cents at W. A. Kuykendall's drug store.

the only way to secure general and permanent good health. Among many prominent people who have recently become converted to Cooper's theory is Mr. E. M. Howey of 47 1-2 DeRussy Street, Binghamton, N. Y., who says: "I had stomach trouble for about six years. After eating I would become bloated and have a distressed feeling for several hours. This would be accompanied by heartburn, and I reached a point where I could not enjoy my meals at all. I tried different remedies in an effort to find relief, but without success. After taking three bottles of Cooper's New Discovery I am entirely cured. My stomach does not bother me in the least, and I can eat anything I like. I can cheerfully recommend Mr. Cooper's medicine to anyone afflicted with stomach complaints."

Mr. Cooper's medicine are making a remarkable record. Buy Red Cross Drug Store sell them.

AS TO ACUTE DISEASES

In many quarters of the country osteopaths are not very numerous; as a result, the news of their good work having spread, they are kept busy treating patients who come to their offices suffering from diseases that have become chronic, so that the impression has grown that osteopaths treat chronic diseases only.

In many quarters of the country where osteopaths have become numerous the doctors of this new school have become the regular family physician. They have been called in alike for the troubles of children and parents, and their marked success in the treatment of diseases of every character makes their services much sought after. Any one who wishes a thoroughly convincing demonstration of osteopathy's effectiveness should call in an osteopath when some member of the family is suffering from an acute attack; and it is quite certain that the osteopath will thereafter be the family physician.
