NEWS NOTES

James T. McCleary, second assistant Postmaster-General, will resign his position after the republican national convention to make a try for congress from his old district in Minnesota.

The O. R. & N. last year made about $6,000,000 above operating expenses, besides about $2,000,000 other income.

It is expected that former Congressman Powers of Massachusetts will be intrusted with the management of the Taft campaign in New England.

Wednesday morning William McAdams captured a last spring's lawn on Second street, between the McAdams iron, blacksmith shop and No. 10's hall. In all probability the dog had been chased by dogs and in its bewildered condition had some impetus and was easily captured. The animal was taken to the home of Mr. McAdams across the river and he will endeavor to tame it.—Corvallis Sentinel.
