

ANDERSON CONFESSES TO PRISON CELL MATE

Portland, Feb. 4.—Jacob Hill, arrested some time ago on a minor charge and whose case was dismissed, has confessed to the police that while he was in jail his cell mate, Joseph Anderson, confessed to him that he had killed Harry Logan, who was shot to death on the Fourth street bridge several months ago; that he had robbed four milkmen; that he had participated in the murder of a man on the Rose City Park electric car and committed other crimes. He told Hill about his criminal career preliminary to asking Hill to kill Roy Embry and Peter Maher, two witnesses against him in the Lott case. In return for Hill's aid, Anderson promised to kill Detectives Thomas and Jones, who had worked up the case against Hill, and that he would kill any twelve men Hill might name. The police have corroborated much of Hill's story and have found Anderson's revolver and knife where Hill told them Anderson had thrown them. Anderson will be called for trial for the murder of Logan next Tuesday.

FIRST NATIONAL AND CHAMBERS-BRISTOW WILL CONSOLIDATE

TWO EUGENE BANKING INSTITUTIONS WILL SOON COMBINE AND TRANSACT BUSINESS AS ONE

WILL OCCUPY QUARTERS OF FIRST NATIONAL, WHICH WILL BE ENLARGED—CAPITAL WILL BE INCREASED TO $200,000 WITH TOTAL OF $300,000 GUARANTEE

The First National Bank and the Chambers-Bristow Banking Company of this city will consolidate in a short time and the business of the combined institutions will be conducted in the building of the First National. This announcement was made to the public this morning, such a decision having been reached by the officials of both institutions several days ago.

The First National Bank makes a public announcement of the change in the following circular, copies of which are being sent out to the patrons of the institution.

Eugene, Or., Feb. 3, 1908. "The Chambers-Bristow Banking Company and the First National Bank will shortly consolidate. Mr. Bristow, cashier of the Chambers-Bristow Banking Company, will accept a position as one of the active executive officers.

Following the decision of the directors at their regular quarterly meeting, held October 1st, 1907, the First National Bank will increase its working capital to $200,000, which, with an additional $100,000 liability (under National Bank laws) of stockholders, makes a total of $300,000 guarantee.

The banking room will be improved to better accommodate its growing business. The change will probably include the adjoining room.

Believing a banker is a public trust, it has been our constant aim to fulfill that trust in a safe, conservative manner. Appreciating the confidence and business given us for twenty-four years, we respectfully ask continuance by present customers and solicit new accounts.

Respectfully, THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK. Chambers-Bristow Announcement. The Chambers-Bristow bank makes the following announcement:

Eugene, Or., Feb. 3, 1908. Dear Sir:—In announcing our consolidation with the First National
