

HELPFUL ADVICE

You won't tell your family doctor the whole story about your private illness—you are too modest. You need not be afraid to tell Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., the things you could not explain to the doctor. Your letter will be held in the strictest confidence. From her vast correspondence with sick women during the past thirty years she may have gained the very knowledge that will help your case. Such letters as the following, from grateful women, establish beyond a doubt the power of

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

to conquer all female diseases. Mrs. Norman R. Barnard, of Allentown, Pa., writes:

"Ever since I was sixteen years of age I had suffered from an organic derangement and female weakness; in consequence I had dreadful headaches and was extremely nervous. My physician said I must go through an operation to get well. A friend told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I took it and wrote you for advice, following your directions carefully, and thanks to you I am today a well woman, and I am telling all my friends of my experience."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration.

The Guard's popular ladies' voting contest which has been in progress for the past seven weeks, has so far surpassed our expectations that it was decided to award additional prizes to chaperone and candidates who finish with the largest number of votes after the piano, trip and scholarship prizes have been awarded. To the chaperone candidate who after the Los Angeles piano trip has been awarded finishes with the largest number of votes to her credit will receive a White sewing machine, rotary movement, valued at $70. This machine is strictly first class in every respect and is reputed to be one of the best manufactured. This will go as a CONSOLATION PRIZE to the chaperone candidate who finishes in second place after the last count of votes.

Contestant Consolation Prizes

To the two candidates who finish with the largest number of votes, irrespective of districts, after the grand upright Kimball piano, the vacation trips to Los Angeles and the scholarship prizes have been awarded we will give two free trips to Newport, Oregon, both ways, at any time during the summer months, and first class hotel accommodations for one week while there.

Newport is one of the most popular summer resorts in the state and candidates who wish to be announced as a winner of either the ten original prizes or these CONSOLATION PRIZES should not lose hope but do their utmost this coming week, with the thought in mind that if you are not fortunate enough to win one of the original prizes that you will receive some compensation for the efforts put forth during the contest.

Chaperone candidates as well as others should start next week with fresh hope and determination, for it is almost certain that the ones who do will receive a reward in the form of a rotary White improved sewing machine, valued at $70, or a vacation trip to Oregon's famous summer resort.

Miss Zelma Cruzan, of Dexter, whose photograph is here reproduced, is one of the very active candidates of District No. 2 who expects to make a winning fight and judging from the way her friends are supporting her it is imperative that other candidates who expect to win from her will have to do some good hard work during the next few days. Miss Cruzan is employed as a bookkeeper and stenographer by the C. L. Williams-Lagging Company, of Dexter and Wildwood, where she has a host of good friends who will try to make it a point to see that she will finish a winner next Saturday night.

As was expected, every active candidate is working from early until late this week, while some of the candidates who went through with a spirit the previous week the results of their work. They went out after the votes with renewed energy, realizing that it was either then or never.

Many of the candidates and chaperones came to the office several times during the day, showing that they were not content to stop after securing a few subscriptions, but went out after more in their efforts to secure enough to warrant them winning one of the valuable prizes.

The results of a bit of hustling on the part of all those who took an active interest in the candidates, combined with the efforts of the candidates themselves, was gratifying, and now, with a good reserve fund of votes and promises of more in the future, they are all in the race to win and will put in some good hard work until the close of the contest.

The remaining days of the contest will be fraught with excitement, incident to the winning of the several grand prizes, and every contestant must look to her laurels, or perhaps some one else may develop the winner.

Get into line and make some telling strokes during the balance of this week in securing subscriptions to The Guard. Perhaps some friends who subscribed for only three months would be glad to renew their subscriptions for a year now.

Chaperone Candidates.
The question of who is to be the chaperone is an absorbing one with the contestants, who while not overlooking their own campaign, take interest in securing some congenial companion who may make the trip to and from Los Angeles, convey them about the city and its numerous outlying suburbs, and otherwise assist them in enjoying the trip.

After looking over the lineup of votes one candidate has as much chance as another, and the ones who take advantage of the special offer of votes this week will figure to a large extent on the last night of the contest. All candidate are keeping well up in each district, and exercising good judgment by doing so.

It is often the case with people who have no particular favorite in the race, when subscribing to look over the list of names and cast their votes for the contestant with the greatest number of votes to her credit, feeling that they are supporting a winner.

With the end of The Guard popular ladies' voting contest only four days off, many of the contestants who the anxious for their names to be announced as winners when the final count is made are scouring every nook and corner in Lane county, to secure every possible vote to increase their reserve force. There will be ten winners, and you might as well be one of them. Get your friends to subscribe for The Guard NOW.

Votes count on new subscriptions 50 per cent more this week. Subscribers who subscribed for The Guard since the opening of the contest and renew their subscriptions in order to secure a greater number of votes will be termed as new subscribers on this special offer.

It is going to be the one serious question now with the candidates themselves as to whether their chances equal their opponents', and whether their reserve fund is enough to pull them through.

The best idea is to go right on now to recount your reserve fund and decide that you have only half enough votes to win, and with that thought in mind make a concerted effort during the remaining days to secure the other half.

It would be a good thing to feel safe just now, and as the contest draws to a close a more determined effort will be made by every contestant who sees a chance of winning.

STEAM LAUNDRY AT COTTAGE GROVE

ASHLAND MAN WILL INSTALL A PLANT—MINING AND OTHER NEWS

As was noted in the Leader some weeks ago, Ashland parties had declared their intention to install a first-class steam laundry plant in this city and had purchased machinery for this purpose. This week J. W. Baker, of Ashland, brother of the Roseburg laundryman, spent several days in the city making final arrangements for the establishment of a steam laundry here. After looking over the city he finally decided on the I. O. O. F. building, formerly occupied by the Pacific Timber Company, a store as about as conveniently arranged and centrally located place as he could rent for the purpose and accordingly secured a lease on the building and the residence adjoining for a number of years, in which to install the laundry and move his household goods.

The plant will be operated by a five-horsepower electric motor, and is guaranteed to turn out first-class work at reasonable prices. Mr. Baker expects to have the plant installed and ready for operation by March 1st. The Leader wishes the new enterprise much success.
