

THE EUGENE DAILY GUARD. PUBLISHED EVERY DAY OF THE WEEK, except on Sundays and public holidays. Address all communications to The Eugene Daily Guard, Eugene, Oregon.

Increased industrial activity is indicated by the reports from some of the large manufacturing companies in the East covering the month of January. From all sources the word is given out that the January volume of business was larger by far than that of December, and it is conceded that it is getting better all the time.

There is a difference of opinion between the railroad telegraphers and the railroad managers about the enforcement of the law which prohibits working the former more than nine hours a day after March 4. The latter wants the interstate commerce commission to order a suspension of the law, but the commissioners do not think they have the authority, even had they the desire.

Cards are out for the next catch-a-charge international matrimonial bout, the principals to be a daughter of T. P. Shonts, who got cold feet on the Panama canal job, and the Duke of Chauines, who lives in France, where titles are supposed not to be recognized.

A brother of the count-that-Gladys-bought says this is a great country, and we have no doubt he would say it was the greatest ever if he could sell a share in his counsel for five million good American plunks. He has a wife, however, and she might not consent to the usual method in such cases.

A fellow named Donald G. Ross is sending out from New York city a lot of press stuff booming W. L. Douglas, of Massachusetts, ... president on the Democratic ticket. This may simply mean another ad for the famous $3 shoes.

The Philippine delegation of two to the Chicago convention is solid for Taft, and nobody has accused him of using official machinery to get them. But the electoral votes of the Philippines will not be for Taft, and that is no guess.

A leader of Paris fashions says $30,000 a year is the very lowest sum that a woman of that town can be well dressed for. And at that, we have heard that Parisian women of fashion are only half dressed at night.

"Bankers beginning to solicit borrowers" reads a headline over an optimistic financial article. Maybe so, but they know that the men solicited have plenty of good collateral to secure any loans they negotiate.

The man who puts his good money on tips on the stock market and on horse races will tell you without a smile what suckers he thinks the backers of expeditions after hidden treasure are.

Cigarette smoking probably receives more general condemnation than any one of the minor vices, yet the consumption of cigarettes increases yearly. Now, what's the answer?

Mrs. Fairbanks has long been active and prominent in the woman suffrage movement, and now Mrs. Taft has recently joined it. Yep, this is presidential year.

Was the Lewis Stuyvesant Chamber boom put on the blink by the financial squeeze, or has it only swapped its brass band for gumshoes?

THE QUEEN CITY (Gresham, Or., Herald.) Judging from the appearance of the Eugene Daily Guard, which is a welcome addition to our exchange list, we should say that Eugene certainly has a right to call herself the queen city of the Willamette. The Eugene Daily Guard is one of the most prosperous dailies in the state, and certainly speaks well for the progress and sound sense of Eugene business men.

MR. VAN DUSEN SATISFIED (Pacific Outlook.) This week the fitness and competency of Fish Warden Van Dusen is again questioned, in this case by the governor himself. Chamberlain holds that the incumbent is hampered in the performance of his duties by personal prejudices and by a tendency toward favoritism, and that he does not realize the importance of the closed season. Along with a lot of others in the state, the governor would like to see the master warden among the "has-beens" and his successor appointed. Judging from various parts of the state it would seem that the only person who is entirely satisfied with the service of Mr. Van Dusen is Mr. Van Dusen.

THE PEOPLE'S CHECK ON THE POLITICIAN

(Beaver State Herald.) Recent utterances of the Oregonian, Eugene Register, Dalles Optimist and a few—very few—other old-time party organs, as well as State Senator Hodson and other would-be leaders of the G. O. P., would lead one to believe that the direct primary law, the initiative and referendum, and especially Statement No. 1, are the biggest lemons ever handed Oregon's voters.

We are willing to admit that they are very hard and very, very bitter pills for the politicians to swallow. In view of so oft recurring bargains and sales at inflated prices, it is not surprising that the parent (the voter) sought to curtail the privileges of its degenerate child (the legislature) especially when that child so willfully and persistently continued to defy the will of the parent and so often prove recreant to its trust. What would happen if the politician was again given his way? Precisely what happened before—a record of which every citizen of Oregon should feel heartily ashamed.

Every intelligent friend of the new laws admit they have some defects, but that is no reason why they should be cast aside. The sensible thing to do is to amend the laws so as to make them more efficient and less troublesome, but let this be done by the friends of fair play and not by dyed-in-the-wool politicians.

STATEMENT NO. 1

(Cottage Grove Western Oregon.) Any man who wants to try his popularity can get on the primary ticket and the electors of his party will see that some candidate goes on the state ticket. This is true of the Democratic party as well as the Republican. Then Statement No. 1 was written to compel legislators to vote for the people's choice. Mind people's is written here, not party. It is just as absurd for legislators to refuse to ratify the people's choice of United States senator as it would be for the same men to refuse to count in the candidate for governor whom the voters by their majority had chosen, but it has been noted that legislators do absurd things. The subscribing to Statement No. 1 gives notice to electors whom they can expect to carry out their will. A refusal to sign indicates that the candidate may or may not respect the will of the constituents of the state. Individual voters need some assurance that they will not be defrauded in this choice of senator. There may be better plans than Statement No. 1, but with our rather weak primary law none have yet been suggested.

If it is desirable to elect senators by popular vote, then some plan like the Oregon law must be employed until such time as the constitution of the United States is amended so as to permit an election by popular vote.

LET THE MAJORITY RULE

(Albany Herald, Rep.) The matter of a legislative member voting for his party's choice as designated in the primary, has nothing to do with the intent and purpose of the question of electing United States senators by popular choice of the people. If the majority of the voters of Oregon are Republican from principle, rather than for spoils, the popular choice of the voters of this state in the June primaries will be a Republican candidate. If not then the majority of the voters of the state are in favor of a Democratic United States senator. If the latter is the condition in this state, some set of political platitudes are responsible for such a state of affairs, and the sooner recognized the sooner mended.

PEOPLE'S CHOICE

(Portland Journal.) The Dalles Chronicle, after running for a few weeks as a morning paper, has changed back to an evening paper, saying that "this change is made after consulting a majority of the patrons, who expressed the opinion that they preferred an evening paper." This is in the case in all places, especially on this side of the continent.

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that I have made and filed with the city recorder ballot titles for the amendments to the city charter proposed by initiative petitions and to be voted on at the city election to be held April 6, 1908, in reference to water bonds and water works, and prohibiting cemeteries and burials within the city limits. Any person dissatisfied with said ballot titles may appeal to the circuit court from my action as provided by law.

S. D. ALLEN, City Attorney.
