Mrs. Pauline May Sexton has begun suit in the circuit court against her husband, John R. Sexton, for divorce on the ground of cruel and inhuman treatment. They were married at Nebraska City, Neb., October 11, 1880, and have one minor child, Paul Ray Sexton, the custody of whom Mrs. Sexton asks for. C. A. Wintermeyer is the attorney for the plaintiff.

In giving a report of The Guard's voting contest, the pictures of three of the winners, Miss Margaret Woods, Miss Ula Cushman and Mrs. W. W. Branstetter, are omitted because of oversight in not securing photographs. The Guard has all along been very proud of the list of candidates who entered the contest and only regrets that not every one of them won a prize worthy of their efforts when the final count was made.

This will be the last night of the Passion Play at the Eugene theatre. Tomorrow night at 8 o'clock there will be an entirely new program, consisting of two illustrated songs, "Starlight" and "Where the Swan-see River Flows," and two pictures. The songs will be sung by a first-class singer and the machine operated by a first-class operator. The new current of 500 volts will give the best pictures ever shown in Eugene and as good as shown anywhere. Prices will be ten cents for any seat in the house, and the performance will last one hour.

Humor and Philosophy

By DUNCAN M. SMYTH

ALL IN THE MIND.

I smoked a fifty-cent cigar. Once on a time, but, shucks, I wouldn't do it were I called. To spend my hard earned bucks. It was a gift, you may suppose. But as I pulled away I couldn't notice it was my rope of twisted hay.

The man who gave the prize to me From out his private box Said, "Try one of my private brand From blended Cuban stocks." I lit it recklessly, as though It were but common trash. But privately I'll own to you I'd rather had the cash.

It isn't in the flavor fine, It isn't in the blend. It isn't in the thicker smoke. That joys serene attend. In plump perfectos of that kind; It's knowing as you sit. It cost some sucker fifty cents And you are smoking it.

A man with educated tastes May think he likes the puff. But one with politicians raised Finds stories good enough. And in these days of close expense And figuring down fine The average man prefers a weed Marked down to forty-nine.

*A box.

In a Face Preferred.
"Is the young dentist established?"
"No; he is still looking for an opening."

Winter Work.
The soft snow falls. The wild wind calls. And gray are lake and river; The drifts are high. As mountains, high— Their mountainous makes me shiver.

I stand and rave; My neighbor's pave The wind has swept off cleanly. I wonder why It's only I.

The blizzard treats so meanly. I shogel snow Until I know A dozen tons I've lifted. I'd rather dwell Deep down in—well, Some place where snow's not drifted.

Too Modern.
"See that dazed looking man over there?"
"You?"
"He is a professor of modern languages."

"What is the matter with him?"
"He is trying to get a line on what some race track men are talking about."

For Modern Feed.
"Did you study any of the dead languages at school?"
"No. I was going to, but I found I wouldn't need them to order pie at a restaurant. The waiters are all live ones."

They Chip In.
"Man is a creature of circumstances."
"Yes, but women are usually around behind the scenes helping to make the circumstances."

A Proper Query.
"Time flies."
"So I have noticed. I wonder—"
"What?"
"What his method is."

PERT PARAGRAPHS.
The man who is too modest to brag on himself is dead easy to the man who does the job for him.

The Last Great Fire

Did not cause so much suffering to the homeless as many a case of eczema causes its miserable victim. And the relief fund did not bring so much joy as Hood's Sarsaparilla has given thousands of times, in relieving the agonizing itching and burning of eczema-tortured people.

In a Bed of Fire—"I lived in a bed of fire for years owing to blood poison, all over my body, itching intensely. Hospital treatment did not help me. I tried Hood's Sarsaparilla and continued taking it until I was entirely cured." Mrs. J. T. Williams, Carbonate, Pa.

Tied the Hands—"We had to tie the hands of our two-year-old son on account of eczema on his face and limbs. No medicine helped until we used Hood's Sarsaparilla which soon completely cured." Mrs. A. VAN WYCK, 123 Montgomery St., Paterson, N. J.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold everywhere. In the usual liquid, or in tablet form called Sarsatabs, 100 Doses One Dollar. Prepared only by C. I. Hood Co., Lowell, Mass.
