

ONLY NECESSARY TO TREAT THE STOMACH

Claim of the Central Figure in the Recent Controversy Is Novel

The new theory advanced by L. T. Cooper relative to the human stomach has attracted such widespread attention that the public in cities visited by the young man has been joined by many physicians in a discussion of his beliefs and medicines.

Mr. Cooper says that human health is dependent almost entirely upon the stomach. He says that no disease can be conquered without first correcting all stomach disorders. He further says that most men and women of this generation are half-sick owing to degenerate stomachs. And finally he claims that his New Discovery medicine will rejuvenate the human stomach in 90 days.

Cooper has been traveling from one city to another, conducting in each what he calls a campaign of education. For the past year he has met the public in the larger cities of the country and his success has been phenomenal. Thousands of people have flocked to his headquarters wherever he has gone, and the sale of his medicine has been beyond anything of the kind ever before witnessed.

Probably the most interesting feature of the attention this young man has attracted is what his army of followers, whom he has converted to his beliefs through his medicines, have to say on the subject. The following statements are from two well known residents of Chicago and Boston, respectively, and the enthusiasm of these is characteristic of Cooper's admirers generally.

Mrs. H. B. Mack, of 3261 State street, Chicago, says: "I have been suffering for 14 years from a combination of stomach troubles, catarrh and constipation. I had a gnawing pain in the pit of my stomach, a sort of a dull pain that I could not quite understand. Then there was a dull headache, and my mind seemed to be wandering continually. I could not eat, and what little solid food I did eat, I could not retain on my stomach. I tried every remedy I could think of and also tried a number of patent medicines, but without any apparent result. It was through one of my friends that I heard of Cooper's preparation and I immediately decided to try some of it. It is two weeks since I took my first dose of it, and I feel like a new woman. The headache seems to have disappeared, and the pain in my stomach along with it. The medicine is worth its weight in gold, and I want to thank Mr. Cooper for what he has done for me."

Mr. Edwin F. Morse of 20 Oakley street, Danvers, a suburb of Boston, says: "For three years I had not a good day. My stomach was in a frightful shape; the mere thought of food would nauseate me, and I really had a horror of anything to eat. All solid food would cause me extreme indigestion, bloating and gas on my stomach, and nothing tasted right. Some time ago I got some of this Cooper's medicines, about which there is so much talk. I actually feel as well and strong as a boy ever since the first bottle. Every sign of stomach trouble has disappeared, and I have a hearty appetite and eat three square meals; every thing seems to taste good. Anyone who knows what chronic indigestion is can appreciate what this means to me. I consider this the most remarkable medicine I ever heard of."

We sell Mr. Cooper's medicines, and find them to be all he claims. Hall's Red Cross Drug Store.

ADDITION TO HIGH SCHOOL DECIDED UPON

The Guard a few days ago mentioned the fact that the school board was contemplating the erection of an addition to the high school building to give more class room and enlarge the assembly room. The board engaged Architect Hunzicker to draw plans for the addition and they were officially adopted at an informal meeting last evening. Mr. Hunzicker will now proceed to draw permanent plans and furnish specifications and the advertisement for bids on the addition will soon appear.

AMUSEMENTS

A play as broad in its interests as humanity itself, elaborate and spectacular in production, weird in its portrayal of the elemental passions, absorbing as a dream of the highest good, yet keen and intense in its appeal to the individual; such is the description of the Wagner wonder drama which local playgoers for the first time are to see in its new English dress at the Eugene theatre Saturday, February 15. It is generally conceded to be a condition of dram-

MARTIN AND EMERY'S PRODUCTION OF PARSIFAL

RICHARD WAGNER'S GREAT FESTIVAL PLAY ADAPTED BY WILLIAM LYNCH ROBERTS

The building is situated on West Eighth street nearly opposite the postoffice, and is two stories high, the entire upper floor being occupied by the lodge hall. The lower floor is divided into two store rooms which are occupied by Aya & Heitzman's plumbing shop and Haskell's feed store. The building is a good one and of recent construction, having been built eight or nine years ago by Mr. Roney and the lodge has occupied the hall exclusively since. The price to be paid for the building is not given out for publication.

The Eugene lodge of Elks has been figuring on securing a home for some time past, and for a time a majority of the members desired to erect a new building, but as it was found that the Roney building could be secured at a reasonable figure, it was finally decided to purchase it. The local lodge is one of the strongest on the coast and on the membership roll le art that human interests must be paramount, and this condition has been complied with in the translation of Parsifal. Abstract ideas and poetic fancies are made real in the characters and experiences of living persons. The faith that good shall be the final goal of all forms the legend wrought out to certitude in the action of the play. The utility of low cunning, craft, duplicity and all the unlovely brood of the nether world, when opposed by the nobler intelligence which comprehends but disregards them all, is demonstrated in this thrilling drama, which centres around the personality of the son of many generations of soldier sires, whom his mother would have made a shepherd of but whom destiny made a king. There is sound philosophy and true art in the final description of the personality of Parsifal.
