SIUSLAW PEOPLE ENCOURAGING THE CARVER RAILROAD

THEY ARE VERY IMPATIENT WITH EUGENE AND CAN SEE NO RELIEF IN TRANSPORTATION DIFFICULTIES EXCEPT FROM RAILROAD NOW BUILDING IN THAT DIRECTION FROM CORVALLIS

Eugene people who have visited the lower Siuslaw country during the winter state that the citizens of that section of the county are very impatient with Eugene on account of the apparent lack of interest taken by the city in regard to transportation facilities for the Siuslaw valley. As stated by W. E. Fisk, in an interview printed in yesterday's Guard, the people of Florence and the other towns along the coast are giving Stephen Carver all the encouragement possible for the extension of his Alsea railroad from Corvallis to that part of the state, seeing no immediate relief in sight from Eugene. The line is being constructed as rapidly as the winter weather will permit. It has been graded for fifteen or twenty miles out of Corvallis, and the rails have been laid for a number of miles. No doubt the road will be pushed on to Uidewater, via the Lake Creek valley, which is also tributary to Eugene, but the trade of which will be lost to this city after the line is completed.

A Eugene citizen who has considerable property on the lower Siuslaw and who has worked for a long time for the advancement of that portion of the county, today told The Guard that a Coos Bay man last fall engaged 6000 boxes of apples from the farmers along the Siuslaw for shipment to Marshfield, but on account of the shoals on the bar at the mouth of the river, thereby preventing vessels from coming to Florence, it was impossible to deliver the apples and they rotted. There was a loss of perhaps $12,000, as the apples will easily sell for $2 a box, not to mention losses in other lines of trade on account of lack of transportation facilities.

If the harbor improvements that were started some twelve or fifteen years ago had been completed, or if a line of railroad had been extended through that country this loss would not have occurred and the lower Siuslaw valley would have been one of the richest fruit-growing and lumbering sections in the United States.

EUGENE AND ALBANY PLAY BASKETBALL

Saturday evening the last basketball game of this season will be played in the gymnasium between the high schools of Eugene and Albany. This will be no slow game, as Albany's team has improved to such an extent that they feel that they are able to defeat Salem in a game with them Friday. If they do and Eugene beats Albany Saturday evening, Eugene will have second place in the league. As it now stands, however, Roseburg, of course, has first place, and Eugene and Salem are tied for second, Albany being last.

Extra Pressure Now On

THE RETIRING FROM BUSINESS SALE OF THE ELLERS PIANO HOUSE A BIG SUCCESS

It is now generally known that this large stock of pianos, pianolas and organs must be sold at once. Our successors, Messrs. Stevens and Huttin, who will engage in business for themselves, have leased our warehouses and we must vacate by the end of the month.

We are selling today the best pianos at lower prices than the small dealer pays for them wholesale. Yesterday we sold to a well-known resident of Eugene a regular $400 piano for $248. Today we offer a $375 piano, used only a few months, for $198. Another in a handsome golden oak case, worth $300, you can buy for $175. If you overlook this splendid chance to secure an instrument at practical cost you alone will be the loser.

Open evenings. ELLERS PIANO HOUSE, 27 West Seventh Street... T. H. Combs, Gen. Agt.

The board reserves the right to reject any and all bids and to award the contract to the bidder whose bid is the lowest, if any there be. Bids to be received at the office of the clerk, Mr. Frank Reiser, 27 West Seventh Street, Eugene, Or. FRANK REISER, Clerk.

AMUSEMENTS

The stupendous scale on which Charles B. Hanford's productions are made have been, from season to season, the subject of increased admiration and wonder. Each presentation he makes is designed to eclipse its predecessor in brilliancy of effect and elaboration of detail. It is another evidence of Shakespeare's comprehensive genius that the actor is not obliged to depart from his plays for material for unlimited scenic exploitation. It has been argued that but little scenery was employed in the day of Elizabethan drama; but there have been skeptics on this point. Certain it is that no plays lend themselves more splendidly to the purposes of the scenic artist and costumer, as well as of the actor, than those of Shakespeare. One of the most striking of the great poet's scenic dramas is "Antony and Cleopatra," which Mr. Hanford selects as his subject for a spectacular revival this season. It is particularly fitting that Mr. Hanford should follow his production of "Julius Caesar," which created such a profound impression last winter, with the story of the Roman warrior's historic armor with Egypt's queen. The subject has been one of rare fascination for the genius that makes the stage its medium of expression. The greatest players have lent their talents to the two roles which give the play its title, and celebrated authors have time and time again striven to add something new to the story, only to be eclipsed by the one great play dealing with the topic. Like all his other representations, this latest contribution to theatrical entertainment by Mr. Hanford will be dominated by the spirit of modernism. This does not imply that the performance will be found lacking in respect for the highest traditions associated with it, or that a garbled and mutilated text will be thrust before the public.

EUGENE PROPERTY WILL GROW VALUABLE

Blair street addition property is sure to double in value within the next two years. Two electric railroads are coming up the valley from Portland and both of them must enter the city from the west, and the line that will tap the Siuslaw country can not go out in any other direction. As sure as water runs down hill, Eugene must build down the valley—because the business is there.

There are both acreage tracts and large lots in this addition, only a mile from the business center and three blocks from the Geary public school.

Prices are very reasonable and you may make your own terms, a small payment down and monthly installments if you desire.

MR. DORRIS OFFERS LOCATION FOR FAIR GROUNDS

To the Editor:— I see by the Sunday Morning Register "That the County Fair is Assured," that the committee has decided on Huddleston tract; that it will secure 105 acres at the contract price of $30,000, $10,000 to be paid in cash and the balance at 6 per cent interest. Assuming that this proposed purchase is for the county and not a private investment, and that it is of interest to all the taxpayers of the county. I hereby offer the committee 105 acres at the price of $20,000; $7,500 to be paid in cash on the delivery of the deed and the balance to be paid in a reasonable time, with interest at 6 per cent per annum, payable annually. The land is part of the Priro Blair Donation Claim, and is now known as County Survey No. 955. GEO. B. DORRIS, Agent.

LUMBERING NOTES FROM COTTAGE GROVE

The Chambers Lumber Company, at Dorena, Fred Russell president, completed this week 3000 feet of logging road leading back into the forest. The company does not yet fix the date for starting up its machinery, but is putting the plant in repair so when the outlook is favorable it can rekindle the fires under its boilers and set the saws a buzzing. A new furnace is to be built at the planing mill at Dorena. The installation of a dynamo was made only a short time since so now the mill and the company's store is electrically lighted. In addition a large area of lumber docks have been built. The railroad siding is to be changed from the middle of the lumber yard to the side parallel with the main track. The company has a large lot of dry lumber, sifting and framing timbers, in stock, as well as flooring, rustic, and dressed casings. The latter is kiln dried and kept in a rain proof warehouse. The payroll of the company in busy times was $8000 per month, now it is nothing save the hire of a watchman.

The Brown Lumber Company will in about a month move its logging camp to the timber tributary to Taylor's Spur of the O. & S. E. railroad, about ten miles east of Cottage Grove, where the mill is located. The men for this camp will number fourteen. Two donkey engines, one for the yard and one for the road, will be the present equipment. With this force the output will be from eighteen to thirty thousand feet of logs, depending somewhat on the size and length of the logs. It is estimated that the next move will not have to be made before two years shall have passed.—Western Oregon.
