LIVELY RIOT AT WEDDING OF POLISH COUPLE

Chicago, Feb. 26.—Four men were stabbed, probably fatally, others, including a policeman, severely cut, and several others slightly injured in a riot between two factions of Polish celebrators today. The fight marked the end of the festivities in the saloon of Joseph Kuta, 73 Front street, where the rioters were guests at the wedding of Leo Chassid and Mary Wadaya.

The conflict originated in a controversy of the two factions and ended in a free for all fight in which knives, beer bottles, chairs and tables were used. Joseph Wadaya, brother of the bride, was frantically cut, his ears and lips being slashed off. Policeman John McDonough, detailed to the hall, was cut on the hands and his uniform slashed to pieces. A riot call brought a squad of police, who after a fight succeeded in arresting twenty rioters.

The bride and groom were arrested but later were released.

The national ten pin bowling tournament closed at Cincinnati Saturday. The biggest individual score for three games was that of A. Wiegler, of Chicago, 699, an average of 233. Two Chicago men also led in the team work, with 1554, an average of 209 for each man. One man averaged 213 2-5 for nine games, the biggest.

CHINA PROTESTING AGAINST JAPANESE TRADE MONOPOLY

Berlin, Feb. 25.—The Chinese government has taken up with the German foreign office Japanese treatment of trade in Manchuria, and has demanded the possibility of the United States and Germany entering into a special agreement concerning the maintenance of equal trade opportunities in the Chinese territories. China's appeal has raised the question of whether or not the agreement covered in the international agreement already in existence.

Washington, Feb. 25.—As already stated in these dispatches, there is nothing tangible before the state department which would serve as a basis for a representation to Japan on the subject of trade in Manchuria, except a protest of the American textile manufacturers and exporters against the serious blow administered to their trade by the Japanese absolute control of railroad traffic in Manchuria. It is expected, however, that some formal representation from China will be made, to be followed by a special message on the subject to the state department on the arrival of the newly appointed Japanese minister a fortnight hence.

OLD-FASHIONED POLITICAL SPEECH IN HOUSE TODAY

Washington, Feb. 25.—A general arraignment of the Republican party was made in the house today by Garrett, of Tennessee. He charged that during the people had been its entire career and that the Republican party had just three fundamental arguments, two based on the civil war and its outcome, and that "for two decades the bloody shirt was the party banner and behind its crimson folds they marched to victory after victory"; and third, that Republican success means prosperity and Democratic success does not, and this has become a party hymn. Not for twenty years, he charged, had the Republican party as such faced an issue squarely "out in the open sunlight of judgment and reason."

Hayes on Finance.
Representative Hayes, of California, today addressed the house on the financial question. He held up the currency system of the United States as the worst used today by any country. He denounced the Aldrich bill and ridiculed the proposition for a central bank.

The trouble with the currency of the United States, he declared, was its inelasticity.

The so-called currency system he characterized as "patchwork." He said that under the present system "we can but wonder that we have been able to accomplish such wonders with so few financial upheavals."

Only the ability and ingenuity of the American bankers and businessmen, he said, has made that possible.

Coming to the question of a central bank of issue, Mr. Hayes declared that the proverbial snowball had just as much chance to live in Hades as a central bank had to be established at this time in the United States. Andrew Jackson, he said, did a great and glorious thing when he destroyed the United States bank. Mr. Hayes characterized as "fallacious public conception" the idea that it was the United States bonds behind the national bank note that made it as good as gold the world over. Those notes, he said, will be as good as gold everywhere as long as the government and the banks expressed a willingness and the ability to redeem them on demand in gold or its equivalent. "And you cannot change this," he said, "no matter how many or what kind of bonds you put behind them."

In the main, he said, he favored an emergency currency plan as favored by the currency commission of the American Bankers' Association. It was, in his opinion, much superior to the Aldrich bill, but he thought it should go further and put the currency system of the United States on a thoroughly sound and correct basis. So that, he said, the national banks everywhere could issue currency at any time when they and the comptroller agreed that there was a necessity for it to meet the needs of their customers and the pressing necessities of the business men, laborers and farmers of the community in which they are located rather than to make a "currency for the relief of the men who are the owners of the speculative, municipal and railroad bonds of the country."

EUGENE MUST PAY ENGINEERS FOR WORK DONE

KELSEY & YOUNG, ENGINEERS, WHO MADE SURVEY FOR MUNICIPAL WATER SYSTEM, WILL RECEIVE PAYMENT IN FULL—SYNOPSIS OF JUDGE WOLVERTON'S DECISION IN THE CASE

Portland, Oregon, February 25.—By a decision of United States Judge Judah Wolverson at Portland yesterday the city of Eugene will be required to pay Kelsey & Young, contractors, the sum of $2450 for services performed. In 1905 the electors of the University city authorized the issuance of bonds to the amount of $104,000 with which to install a municipal electric light plant. Subsequently the city council employed Kelsey & Young to make a survey, agreeing to pay $2900 for the work, and on which a payment of $450 was made. But upon being advertised for sale no bids for the bonds were received and the contractors applied to the city for the balance due them. Warrants were drawn on the general fund and L. Simons brought suit enjoining their payment, contending that the service was to be paid from the proceeds of the bond sale.

Judge Wolverson held that where a municipality fails to comply with the requirements of its charter to supply funds or if there is any unreasonable delay in enforcing such provisions or collecting and turning over such money, the contractor has the right of action against the corporation for damages, in which he may recover the amount due under the contract, even if the contract contains a provision that he shall look for payment only to a special fund and that he will not require the municipality, by any legal process or otherwise, to pay his claim out of any other fund.

SENATOR OWEN ADDRESSES SENATE ON FINANCES

Washington, Feb. 25.—Declaring that he was in favor of a bond-secured emergency currency, under an interest charge high enough to compel automatic contraction of such issue, Senator Robert L. Owen, of Oklahoma, proceeded to criticize many features of the Aldrich currency bill in the senate today.

Mr. Owen desired a more complete remedy than proposed in the committee bill. He did not believe in confining the benefits of the issue of emergency currency to national banks. The provisions for using railroad bonds as a basis for these emergency notes he condemned strongly, but said he would feel compelled to vote for the measure except its railroad bond feature, if his proposed amendment should not be adopted. The only principle of the committee bill which he regarded as of value was that relating to emergency notes, secured by bonds under a penalty higher than the normal rate of interest.

Referring to his proposed substitute for the Aldrich bill Mr. Owen said it proposed United States notes for emergency use instead of bank notes and provides for their instant issue. It allows all national, state or savings banks and trust companies putting up necessary securities to use them. It provides that notes may be used as security, but strikes out railroad bonds. It does not limit the quantity of emergency notes that may be used. It requires a tax of 6 per cent on the emergency currency during the first four months, and eight per cent thereafter. It also prevents active officers of banks from borrowing their funds except under safeguard. The use of deposits for speculative buying of stocks, bonds, etc., is prohibited. Bank reserves against federal deposits are required and other changes are made in conditions governing reserves.

Two sales of property in the Blair street addition have just been made, a lot to N. A. Reynolds and an acre tract to A. O. Knowles and R. S. Huston.

ANARCHIST BAND WILL BE PLACED UNDER ARREST

Denver, Feb. 25.—Through the efforts of Chief of Police Michael Delaney it is believed that at least thirty anarchists in various parts of the country will be placed under arrest in a few days. Delaney claims that Murderer Alio and a band of about forty men, employed as stone workers, were driven out of Italy two years ago. They went to Spain and were driven from there to Buenos Ayres, coming later to the United States.

They first settled at Paterson, N. J., and then spread out over the country. Four men, including Alio, came to Colorado and the other three may be arrested today.

Alio is in jail at Colorado Springs in order to prevent any attempt at lynching, and vehemently denies he belongs to an anarchistic body that wishes to murder priests, or that there is a plot at the bottom of the shooting.

Lamar, Mo., Feb. 25.—L. E. Hart, a teamster, last night shot and killed his mother-in-law, Mrs. Joseph E. Edwards, seriously wounded his father-in-law, then killed himself by letting a railroad train run over him. In the quarrel he shot his wife, slightly injuring her.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 26.—Lieutenant-General Stoessel has petitioned the emperor for a full pardon.

Rooseburg is to send out 30,000 booklets, to cost $2750, a 64-page affair, to be gotten out under the direction of the Harriman bureau.

U'REN ENTERS CONTEST FOR FULTON'S SEAT

Oregon City, Feb. 25.—W. S. U'Ren this afternoon announced his candidacy for United States senator, in the Republican primary, and comes out strong against Senator Chas. W. Fulton, whom he charges with being unfriendly to Statement No. 1, and with being allied with Standard Oil and corporation adherents. Mr. U'Ren also declares that H. M. Calk is a compromiser who has said that he favors the people's choice for United States senator, but who has remained silent under the attacks against Statement No. 1.

Several times during the last six months Mr. U'Ren has openly stated that he would like to be United States senator, but has openly refrained from declaring his candidacy, with the hope that Mr. Calk, or some other man, would take up the cudgel in defense of Statement No. 1, but he has wearied at last of waiting for Calk to act and has arrived at the conclusion that Calk is not aggressive enough to defend the principles for which other Statement No. 1 men stand.

Mr. U'Ren stated that his candidacy is without the knowledge of Senator Bourne and that he believed Senator Bourne would support him. He said that he had finally made up his mind yesterday to be a candidate. With $1100 in his purse, he is prepared to battle for the nomination at the primaries, standing on Statement No. 1.

Laredo, Texas, Feb. 25.—Thirty are reported injured in a partial derangement of an excursion train carrying a number of northern tourists at Osville, twelve miles north of Laredo.
