ELLICE WILHELM IS RELEASED FROM CUSTODY

D. S. Wilhelm, of Lowell, returned last night from Silver Lake, where he went recently to look after the case against his son, Ellice, who was accused of stealing a horse there several weeks ago. It will be remembered that young Wilhelm was arrested at his home some time ago by Special Deputy Sheriff Harry Graham and a deputy sheriff arrived later from Lakeview to take the boy back there. His father went over and paid for the horse that was taken and the boy was released from custody. He arrived home with his father last night.

OSTEOPATHY IS SCIENCE OF ITS OWN

There are but few people who have not heard of Osteopathy, also of some of its achievements. But there are far too many who have accredited it with being good for only those conditions from which they have been cured, or which have come under their immediate observation.

Not in frequently there is mutual surprise when one man who was cured of eye trouble meets another who was cured of constipation. The above is a homely illustration, but it only shows that neither was curious enough to learn the possibilities of Osteopathy while being treated for their respective conditions.

They may have been persuaded to undergo Osteopathic treatment only because a friend had been cured of a like condition.

You may be one of those who do not know that Osteopathy is indicated for other conditions than those you have already heard of as having been treated successfully. If so, remember that if the principles of Osteopathy are right, it is a science of its own and a complete system of treating disease, and has been recognized as such by legislative enactments in more than two-thirds of the states in the Union.

Dr. H. L. Studley, osteopath, office over Chambers Hardware store. Phone Black 1326. Residence, 734 Ferry street. Phone Red 3197.

LANE COUNTY ADVERTISED IN EASTERN STATES

Yesterday's Guard gave a list of Eastern publications in which the Commercial Club will advertise the resources of Eugene and Lane county during the coming spring months and gave a sample of the ads to be inserted in the several publications. Following are some more of the advertisements as prepared by John H. Hartog, manager and publicity promoter:

Ads for Fruit Paper.

"Sir:—Land costing the owner $30 paid last year over $500 in cherries. Thousands of acres available that will do as well and better. Let us put you next. Write our Department 7 for facts about Lane county. Yours truly, Eugene Commercial Club, Eugene, Oregon."

This is to be a quarter page ad, to appear in the April number of "Better Fruit," in the shape of a written letter.

The following half-page ad is to appear in "Better Fruit" for March:

SAY, YOU! E'GENE.

(Or whatever your name may be.)

Are you aware of the matchless opportunities in beautiful Lane county, in the fertile Willamette valley, where cherries pay over $500 an acre?

Evidently you are not or you would write for facts to Deptartment 6 of the Commercial Club at Eugene, Lane county, Oregon.

The Following ad will appear in "Better Fruit" for May:

GOING TO MOVE?

You are tired of cold winters and have decided to move to the Pacific coast, where flowers bloom all winter.

Don't Know

Where to locate? Let us tell you about the best place of all. Address Department 8, Eugene Commercial Club, Eugene, Oregon.

Missouri Paper.

The one below will be a quarter of a page in size and will appear in the St. Joseph, Mo., "Fruit Grower" for March, April and May. There will also be a writeup, illustrated with a cut of Lane county cherries.

"$500 to $1000 net per acre in cherries, apples and other fruit in beautiful Lane county. For facts write to Department —, Commercial Club, Eugene, Oregon.

Everybody's and Munsey's

The following will appear in the April numbers of "Everybody's" and "Munsey's":

"Sensible men wanted, who love their families sufficiently to quit a bad climate and come to God's country, Lane county, Oregon, where flowers bloom all winter, and where the investor can get in on the ground floor. For facts write Department A, Commercial Club, Eugene, Oregon."

Advertise in Holland.

The following article, translated into Dutch, will be placed in the "Automaat," published at Rotterdam, Holland, with 300,000 readers:

A PROMISED LAND

Many who have read something about America form the most absurd ideas because they do not realize the size of this enormous country.

The state of Oregon alone is almost eight times as large as the entire Netherlands. A state is divided into counties. One county in Oregon, Lane county is half as big as all of Holland.

Now if you were to read something about the island of Marken and then imagine that this described all of Holland, you would make the same mistake as when you read something for instance about Lane county, and then imagine that all Oregon is the same.

Oregon adjoins California and lies along the Pacific ocean. The same influence which makes the winters so mild in California does that along the entire coast, and that is where Western Oregon gets its mild winter weather.

But in Oregon our summers are not so hot as in California and oranges are not raised here, but in other fruits, such as cherries, pears, prunes and especially apples, Oregon is away ahead of California.

The principal city of Lane county is Eugene, a splendid, modern little city. While there is a lack of employment in New York, Chicago and other big cities in the Eastern States on account of the enormous influx of immigrants, in Eugene everything is life and prosperity.

While the people are freezing in New York and Chicago and elsewhere the Eugene citizen can pick flowers at any time in the winter.

And such surroundings! It reminds one of Switzerland.

The soil is very fertile. One of our fruit growers netted over $2000 in cherries on land that originally cost him $30. Such results, yes, two or three times that much, in apples, is nothing extraordinary in Oregon.

The citizens of Eugene have a splendid club, consisting of two hundred and fifty (250) business men. This club will be pleased to give further information to any one who will write them.

If you want to learn something of that promised land without expense to you, you can have it for the asking.

Neighborhood Favorite.

Mrs. E. D. Charles, of Harbor, Me., speaking of Electric Bitters, says: "It is a neighborhood favorite here with us." It deserves to be a favorite everywhere. It gives quick relief in dyspepsia, liver complaint, kidney derangement, malnutrition, nervousness, weakness and general debility. Its action on the blood, as a thorough purifier makes it especially useful as a spring medicine. This grand alterative tonic is sold under guarantee at W. A. Knykendall's drug store. 50c.

Why buy new clothes when we can make your old ones look like new at Eugene Dye Works, Sixth and Willamette streets. tf volted against God's authority his rebellion went to its uttermost logical conclusion in action: he revolted against its presence in the world of human law and broke it until it gushed human blood; he revolted against its outward symbol, the priest, and slew him.

IMPRESSIVE SERVICES OVER MURDERED PRIEST

"The murderer was logical—the anarchist is never truer to his diabolical principles than when he slays a Catholic priest and slays him at the altar of God. It matters not that the individual priest possesses little of the world's power or goods, nor desires them for himself; it matters not even that he is a follower of that blessed Francis who chose Lady Poverty for his bride and gave his great love to the poorest things and the most unloved. Wherever he is, the Catholic priest in some great way carries in himself that church of authority and of God and externates her to man. An officer in that great army whose tramp is around the world, whose discipline is most perfect, whose organization is minutely refined, whose banners are forever set against the enemy of disorder and anarchy in the hearts, in the speech and in the actions of men as opposed to just human government and divine rule.

"Yes, he was logical: he might hate the ministers of other Christian bodies, but not with similar hate—the impotent hate that slays; for they, alas, are too divided to be dangerous to him. He might hate a king for he rules; but kings come and go and kingly policies have their changes and changes. But the Catholic priest is slain but to live and the Catholic policy, the Catholic accents of morality are unchanged and unchangeable as the throne of God. He saw this in his home in Italy, that there is not the parliament of the king that saves his crown to him; it is not the army of Italy that saves her from the spoiling of the socialist and the red hand of the anarchist and the red hand by many defections. Though weakened, coherent, unbroken, the one strong, coherent, untrammeled, still an imprisoned yielding power is the Church.

"And hence the whole brood of them, the socialist who preaches and the anarchist who translates his sermon into red deeds, come first hating the church and the priest hood. Here they learn to hate all other things that are consecrated to ons, the power of our president, the wisdom of the senates, the majesty of our courts and the quiet dignity of our homes.

"Great God, brethren, what are we doing? Of what are we thinking? A great president of our country is slain by a degenerate who was nerved to the deed by socialist and anarchistic vaporings. We read that anarchy has its seat in New Jersey; that she sits in council in New Orleans or Chicago. They have a red press, a propoganda, an "appeal to reason," forsooth. We are made aware that some come here from Southern or Eastern Europe in every shipload, and with supine indifference we look on. Have we found the pearl beyond price that we may roll it in the dust like a child's play thing? Have we grown so cold in our love toward the fair vestal, Liberty, that we feel no indignation when the ruffian and the stranger enter as if he were harlot of the public place?"

Charged With Murder.

Denver, Feb. 26.—An information charging Guiseppe Alo, alias Angelo Gabriele and Guiseppe Guarana clo, with the murder of Father Francis Leo Heinrichs, was filed today in the district court. He will be brought to Denver secretly from Colorado Springs, where he will be kept for safe keeping.

The Jumping Off Place

"Consumption had a hold on my lungs, and I had almost reached the jumping off place when I was advised to try Dr. King's New Discovery. I want to say right now it saved my life. Improvement began with the first bottle and after taking one bottle no doubt I was a well and happy man again," says George Moore, of Greenland, N. C. As a remedy for coughs and colds and healer of weak, sore lungs and for preventing pneumonia New Discovery is supreme. 50c and $1 at W. A. Knykendall's drug store. Trial bottle free.
