...NDIDATES MUST BE ADVOCATES OF CITY OWNERSHIP

...ere is good prospect that the ...ing election will be the most quiet ...free from strife of any that has ...rred for several years past. So ...there is no contest in sight and ...al good candidates for council... have been brought out. ...e new members of the council ...not be pledged to any particular ...r, except that it is generally un...tood that they will carry out the ...ssed wishes of the people in re... to public utilities. Eugene has ...atedly voted for municipal own...p and if any of the candidates ...ouncilman are opposed to this ...ple they should be manly ...gh to declare their position be... the election. An era of good ...g and harmony prevails at the ...nt time, but if this condition is ...advantage of by any faction to ...into the council by gum shoe ...ds members opposed to the ...e of the people the storm will ...out afresh in all its intensity. ...are all pulling together for a ...r Eugene and one of the things ...will most quickly bring a real... of our hopes is a pure moun... water supply. That we are going ...is just as soon as all the intri... requirements of the law in re... to the issue of bonds can be ...lied with.

...ELIST'S PICTURE OF IDEAL MAN

...G. Wells, the novelist, who is ...t for his literary work all over ...ivilized world, has written the ...wing concerning his ideas of a ...man:

...o describe an ideal modern cit... now is at best to make a guess ...suggestion as to what must be ...in reality by the efforts of a ...and minds. But he will be a ...different creature from that in...ent, well-behaved business man ...passes for a good citizen today. ...ill be neither under the slave ...e, nor a rebel, nor a vehement ...ial man. Essentially he will ...ristocratic; aristocratic not in ...nse that he has slaves of class ...rs, because probably he will ...nothing of the sort, but aristo... in the sense that he will feel ...he state belongs to him and he ... state. He will probably be a ...servant; at any rate he will be ...doing some work in the com... machinery of the modern ...unity for a salary and not for ...ative gain. Typically he will ...professional man. I do not think ...al modern citizen can be a per...ing chiefly by buying for as ...s he can give and selling for ...h as he can get; indeed, most ...t we idolize today as business ...rise I think he will regard with ...nsiderable contempt. But then ...a socialist and look forward to ...e when the economic machin... the community will not be a ...for private gain but for public ...

...e the matter of the support ...Oregon State University is not ...h which this paper is especial...erned, says the Oregon Agri...t, we regret to notice a ten...in some places in the state to ... the value of university educa...d to claim that the money ex... in supporting the University ...be used to better advantage ...roving the public schools. ...is some plausability about this ...t, but when the matter is ...ed it is found that those ...which are most liberal in the ... of their state universities ...e the best agricultural colleges and normal schools and the most liberally supported common schools. The kind of people that are willing to pay for the support of first class common schools are the kind that appreciate the value of a complete system of public education.

There are grafters everywhere and the word is on the lips of people everywhere. There were grafters years before the word was coined, but they were known by another name in those days, and there will be grafters as long as the world lasts. San Francisco and other large cities have no monopoly on that class of citizens who seek to get something for nothing. They are everywhere and occupy all walks in life. It is the get-rich-quick idea which is growing and spreading among our people that is working the mischief. But at this time the public is frowning on this sort of thing more than for a long time past, and the tendency, therefore, is for common honesty among all men. We believe the world is actually getting better.

Several Oregon counties are boasting about being out of debt, and because of this desirable financial condition the Portland Journal editorially refers to Benton as a "model county." Well, what's the matter with Lane? Today The Guard prints a call for all warrants issued prior to January 7, 1908, and by the time the tax money is all in we will be out of debt also. Lane county has probably been on a cash basis as long as any other in the state, and it has a $100,000 courthouse, many expensive bridges, long stretches of road surfaced with crushed rock and other public improvements that have called for a large outlay of money in the past. There is no county in all Oregon in better condition than Lane.

Eugene will do her full share during the present year toward giving employment to workingmen. Our building and street improvements will run into hundreds of thousands of dollars, and this sum will be increased vastly by the extensions in progress by the Portland, Eugene & Eastern electric road in the territory adjacent to the city. And in all this work preference should be given residents, who have families here to support, and transients should only be employed after the local labor supply is exhausted. This policy is being pursued by the electric road company and paving contractors, and they are worthy of commendation for the course they are taking.

The warm, copious rains of the past few days, while they may retard to some extent the progress of public improvements in Eugene, have been of vast benefit to the country at large. The fine weather of the past six weeks gave the farmers an opportunity to sow a large amount of grain, and it will not require many rains like that of yesterday during the spring to guarantee an abundant yield. The outlook for fruit and cereal crops at the present time could not be improved upon.

The Ohio platform may be regarded as a bunch of Taft samples, and the Nebraska platform shows the goods of the Bryan house. The drummers are already taking the road for the purpose of convincing the stockholders in Uncle Sam's big co-operative store which line should be carried for the four years beginning March 4, 1909. No proxies will be allowed. Every stockholder must vote his own choice at the November meeting. Everybody get busy.

The Portland Chamber of Commerce Bulletin for the month of February is a very interesting publication. Not only does it contain the complete proceedings of the annual meeting of the Chamber, but prints a large amount of information regarding Portland and its varied interests and industries. The issue of over 100 pages makes a very interesting book, neatly printed and handsomely illustrated.

And Senator Taylor ("Fiddling Bob") isn't the only man willing to acknowledge that the talk on finance in the senate has taught him nothing, except that it is a subject on which few men agree.

Even his most ardent supporters are not claiming that the Hughes boom is developing any extraordinary amount of enthusiasm.

The Dalles and Medford are both building fine city halls. Eugene ought to make a move in the same direction.

Governor Chamberlain has sprung a surprise on the people by announcing his candidacy for the senate.

FOR COUNTY JUDGE.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for re-election for the Republican nomination for County Judge at the Lane county primaries, April 17, 1908.
a16 G. R. CHRISMAN.

FUJI-KO, JAPANESE STAGE BEAUTY.

Fuji-Ko, the Japanese actress who captivated London, is a rare type of the oriental beauty and, besides being a talented actress, is a brilliant wit. She speaks English fluently and is a student of the English drama as well as the drama of her own country.

FULTON RESOLUTION WILL CLOSE MILLS

Every sawmill in the Willamette valley would close down within 30 days if congress should pass without amendment the Fulton resolution authorizing the attorney-general to sue for the recovery of the Oregon and California land grant, according to Louis Gerlinger, of Portland. Mr. Gerlinger is largely interested in the lumber industry and fears that it will be ruined temporarily if the Fulton measure goes through in the form that gives no protection to "innocent purchasers." Mr. Gerlinger has no doubt that those who bought railroad land in good faith would ultimately have their titles completely confirmed, but he does fear that the proposed legislation would place a cloud on the title of all land bought from the railroad and cause industrial paralysis in the state. It might take ten or fifteen years, he believes, before the title to this land would become definitely settled and in the meantime he fears that owners who have bought in good faith would suffer greatly.—Oregonian.

NEWS NOTES

The Masons of Roseburg have begun arrangements for the erection of the tallest building in Roseburg, a three or four-story temple 40x100 feet. It will cost $20,000, and five men have subscribed $9000 of the amount.

Local option will be an issue in the June election in Umatilla county. Delegates of local option workers from every precinct in the county met yesterday and formulated a plan of campaign. The county local option was defeated four wears ago by 800 votes, but temperance people believe that there has been a great change in sentiment and that the movement will now carry.
