POLITICS AND RELIGION SHOULD NOT BE MIXED

Rev. Father Peter C. Yorke, the eloquent and distinguished San Francisco priest, is not in sympathy with the pending graft prosecutions for the expressed reason that he does not like Francis Heney, and because, he asserts, that little has been accomplished. Well, suppose Heney is not all that he should be—and we suspect he is not—that is not a sufficient reason for denying an astounding condition of rotteness has been revealed since the graft prosecutions began. Two more such political freebooters never outdid than Rufus and Schmitt, and all of them should be sent to the gallows for life. True, little has been accomplished—because the higher courts have backed up these scoundrels by overturning the work of the honest San Francisco judges. The Herrin machine has manufactured the courts of California, and in turn are serving the men who usurped judicial authority upon the people.

We think a preacher, priest or rabbi out of place in politics. Members of the congregations or church, as in the case in San Francisco, should hit hard by the graft prosecutions and they fly to their defense. The Torke pursued Mayor Phelan, probably the best executive San Francisco has had for years, with a vindictiveness that drove the latter into the life, because of a quarrel in the church. The public lost Phelan's valuable services on account of matters that were none of its concern, and now the graft prosecutors attacked because of reasons, no matter how true, were known, that were based upon sound and liberal considerations for the public welfare. Protestant ministers in politics are not active in certain quarters and their efforts as frequently detrimental to good government as are the efforts of Father Yorke's proclivities. Charles Parkhurst, of New York, is a fair sample. Presumably honest and well-meaning, he has managed about nine times out of ten to get on the wrong side of movements of municipal betterment, and his efforts have hindered more than they have advanced the cause of cleaner politics.

Neither politics nor religion is favored when the two are mixed together for any purpose, if numerous successful experiments may be taken as a guide for impartial judgment.

PER MONEY DISTRIBUTION BACTERIA

The odor of scented notes is somewhat quite unlike that of anything else in the world, says the Technical School. It is there merely a matter of fact, nobody need care much, but it is a matter of fact, as well. In the handling of dirty bills some of the microbes are pretty sure to be transferred to the fingers, and the fingers are constantly brought into contact with the tongue and lips. The germs of typhoid may easily get their way into the system. An expert study of this subject has recently been made by the director of the research laboratory of New York, who, summing up his conclusions in a report, states that, as shown by microscopic examination, an average bill of paper money, moderately worn, carries 22,500 bacteria. On an average dirty bill there will be about 100,000 bacteria. Most bacteria, it is understood, are harmless, but many species are the germs of dangerous diseases.

It is an effort to keep the paper clean and the country fairly clean. The United States government redeems every year about $600,000 worth of it, replacing the old bills with new ones. But even thus the average dollar bill is obliged to do duty for about twenty months, while five-dollar notes remain in circulation for nearly three years, and those of higher denominations considerably longer. It is urged that the stream of money ought to be made out of the treasury more rapidly, and to flow out of the treasury more rapidly, and that, with this end in view, Section 3932 of the Revised Statutes ought to be amended so as to permit holders of worn and defaced currency to forward it by registered mail, without charge, to Washington for redemption. The paper money is kept too long in circulation. As for coins, they ought to be thoroughly cleaned and sterilized after reaching the treasury before being thrown out again into the arteries of commerce.

Peter A. Foley, the "Lightning taker" of Portland, Me., is the most wonderful telegraph operator in the world. Foley is totally deaf, an affliction which ordinarily would be supposed to make telegraphy an utter impossibility to him, but since he became deaf, eight years ago, Foley has developed what may be called a sixth sense and by touch and sight he can detect the finest movements of the instrument and correctly interpret them. His nervous system is a part and parcel of telegraphy and by means of the sense of touch, in his finger tips, he takes messages transmitted from the ends of the continent. He can read a message by watching the sounder. With his left forefinger placed lightly on the sounder, he can, by his wonderful sense of touch, take a message as accurately as any man in the office.

A handsome sword is to be presented to Admiral Evans when the great sea-fighter comes ashore in San Diego next month. This symbol of the pomp and honor of war is now in process of manufacture. It is being exquisitely fashioned of the finest steel, and its hilt will be set with native gems. The blade and scabbard will cost $200 or a little more. The presentation is to be made by the local posts of the Grand Army, assisted by the veterans of the Spanish war. There are other gifts awaiting the admiral. The freedom of the city will be symbolized by a golden key in a casket made of olive wood from a tree of the grove planted by the Spanish missionaries 250 years ago. The key itself is designed to be afterward worn by the admiral's wife as a brooch.

Southern California is preparing for a campaign against rats. It seems that the rodents have very few friends in any part of the world and from the reports in the dispatches and the daily press their days are to be very few. Rats and mosquitoes are charged with about all the ills that human flesh is heir to and incidentally the flea comes in for his share of public criticism—the latter notice is to be published.

A man by the name of Thyrat was arrested the other day in San Francisco upon the charge of being drunk and disorderly. That was all right and in accord with the eternal fitness of things. However, a day or so afterward they pulled a fellow by the name of Cash in Sacramento on the charge of having no visible means of support—a hobo, in short. So after all, there is nothing in a name.

The brand of conscience used by the German police is more sensitive than that of the police of our large cities. The head of the Berlin police actually jumped his job because he failed to catch an absconding banker. Catching him might have had that effect on some American policemen, but not failing to catch him.

And now a New York lawyer wants to know why Joseph H. Choate has not been placed in the list of candidates for the presidency. That's an easy one. It's because "Joe" has a sharp tongue and a fondness for using it.

SOCIALISTS CALL COUNTY CONVENTION

All Socialists are urged to be present. H. M. MANVILLE, Chairman Co. Central Com. E. C. COLE, Sec. Co. Central Com.

CHARMING MARY MANNERING. Mary Manning is one of the most popular leading women in America, particularly among theater patrons of her own sex. She has earned laurels for several years in society comedies and modern plays and possesses the gift of dramatic interpretation that many another actress with many more years of experience might envy. Although she stars independently, she has been a great aid to her husband, James K. Hackett, both in selecting plays and launching his various theatrical enterprises. Mrs. Hackett is a home loving woman, a genial hostess and a devoted wife and mother.
