The stock of goods in the Amos store at Marcola was sold by Constable Plank yesterday to J. M. Martin.

the Eugene drayman, who held a judgment against Amos for the sum of $24. His bid on the stock was $112. There were several other creditors who bid on the stock. Mr. Martin will dispose of the goods in a lump or at retail and expects to make a fair profit on them.

The new residence of J. W. M. Barnes in the Blair street addition had a narrow escape from destruction by fire yesterday. William Crane and C. W. Bell were driving along Blair street when they noticed the roof of the building on fire. They tied their team to the fence and hastened to the house, and reached there just as Mrs. Barnes discovered the flames. Several bucketsful of water extinguished them. Had the roof been dry it would have been impossible to save the house. A hole about four feet wide was burned in the roof, the fire starting from the chimney.

CAPTAIN MOORE INSULTED OLD GLORY

Galveston, Tex., March 17.—When Captain Moore, of the British steamship Howthead, of Belfast, Ireland, here for a cargo, dressed ship in honor of St. Patrick, Stars and Stripes. This violation of the United States law that requires Old Glory always to be at the top when displayed in a United States port, was promptly called to the commander's attention by a government inspector, but he bluntly refused to comply with the law. Not until he received a formal demand from the United States collector of customs of this port, accompanied by an order for a revenue cutter to stand ready and a threat to call the gunboat into service unless the order of the flags was reversed, did the skipper obey, and then only to haul down the American flag and leave the green one up.

TAFT AND HUGHES SHAKE HANDS AND LAUGH

New York, March 17.—Irish valor, beauty and wit were tonight the inspiration of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick, and those virtues were extolled in prose and verse by no less distinguished guests of honor than Secretary Taft and Governor Hughes. The dinner, the most sumptuous local affair in honor of Ireland's patron saint, was held at Delmonico's, and 500 persons were present. Among those at the speaker's table were Archbishop Farley, Bishop Potter, Justice Victor Dowling, Augustus O'Brien, General Fred D. Grant, and the presidents of half a dozen patriotic societies. Laugh as They Clasp Hands. Mr. Hughes, having previously attended a reception in his honor, was late and the dinner was well under way when he arrived at Delmonico's. As he entered a cheer was raised and the applause became general throughout the room as he moved toward the speaker's table. As he neared his seat at the left of the toastmaster, Mr. Taft arose, and the secretary and governor clasped hands. They stood so for a moment, and then, as though there was something humorous in the situation both laughed. In a moment the banquet hall was in an uproar with laughter and mingled cheers for Mr. Taft and Mr. Hughes. Both candidates made speeches.

Humor and Philosophy

DUNCAN M. SMITH

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

A frail constitution doesn't preclude the possibility of a man's being a strong knocker.

The uplift is indeed a joyous thing—unless you happen to be either the upliftee or the one paying the bills.

Blessed are the pure in purpose, for they shall be much traduced and so get free advertising.

'Tis love also that makes the affinities elope and the strong arm of the law that keeps them on the loose.

Keeping the cookie jar empty is a great aid to indigestion.

The best defense against a liar is not to be afraid of the truth.

The country has been saved time and yet again by the women's clubs.

The only difference between cherishing a prejudice and being inclined to be cautious is that between you and me.

The woman who doesn't think much of people in general is obviously busy thinking exclusively of herself.

The Dreamers. In the busy world of action, Where the race is to the strong, Dreamers do not win the prizes, But they somehow get along. Doors gather in the lighthouse, Take the cooky and the bun. But in missing things substantial Dreamers have a lot of fun.

With his feet incased in slippers, Seated in his easy chair, And his pipe at hand the dreamer Can defy the street of care. Business in the street may bustle, Commerce in the mart may hum, But that doesn't jar the dreamer Or affect his kingdom come.

He can dally in the valley Where the idle lilies lurk; He can wander in the forest When he ought to be at work. When he should be chasing dollars He can saunter down the street, Calm, unmoved and quite complacent, If he gets enough to eat.

Dreaming doesn't bring him money Nor put treasure in his sack, But it helps along digestion, And it doesn't hurt his back. He can analyze the struggle, He can see unmoved the strife, And if there is cause for worry Shift the burden to his wife.

Lucky For the Orientals. "The fleet is not going out looking for trouble." "Very true, but you know how impetuous some of the sailor lads are." "That is all right. The officers have positive orders not to allow them to lick the Japs."

Why They Were Stung. Several American ladies who have purchased earls, dukes, counts and such worthless trifles at fabulous prices are sick of their bargains and wish they had their money back.

Let us not, therefore, jump hastily at the conclusion that all gentlemen with titles are warped and worthless and that it is impossible to train any of them as household pets.

That would be a mistake. It is the gentleman with nothing but titles, miscellaneous debts and a speckled past who come over and trade their titles for money, with a girl thrown in as an incumbrance, who make husbands that are well calculated to reconcile the bachelor lady to her single state. There are some dukes who make good husbands as husbands go, but they are the ones who marry for love and look on the lady's fortune, if she has one, as a pleasing incidental.

A Bar to Success. "Girls, never marry a man to reform him." "Why?" "You are liable to run afoul of the law."

"Indeed! How?" "In order to reform it will often be necessary to deform him."

Sound Advice. "Make your mark, my son." "Yes, dad." "And one other thing." "Yes, dad." "Let it be an easy mark."

Different in Practice. For three brothers, yellow skinned, John had his always on the latch. But it requires his second wind With fans to make his chimney match.

The Unattainable. "The sky photographer told her to look pleasant." "He must have thought she could break into space."

Spring Medicine

The best is Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is the best because it does the most good. While it makes the blood pure, fresh and lively, it tones the stomach to better digestion, creates an appetite, stimulates the kidneys and liver, gives new brain, nerve and digestive strength. An unequalled list of cures—40,366 testimonials in two years—proves its merit.

Sarsaparilla—For those who prefer medicine in tablet form, Hood's Sarsaparilla is now put up in chocolate tablets called Sarsaparilla, as well as in the usual liquid form. Sarsaparilla has identical the same curative properties as the liquid only, besides accuracy of dose, convenience, economy, besides being not lost by evaporation, breaking, or leakage. Sold by druggists or sent by mail. C. I. Hood Co., Lowell, Mass.

ACT QUICKLY. Delay Has Been Dangerous in Eugene.

Do the right thing at the right time. Act quickly in time of danger. Backache is kidney danger. Doan's Kidney Pills act quickly. Cure all distressing, dangerous, kidney ills. Plenty of evidence to prove this. W. A. Haskell of 272 West Seventh street, Eugene, Ore., says: "In our family Doan's Kidney Pills have been a standard remedy for many years. Nearly every member of the family has used them at one time or another. It does not seem to make any difference what the symptoms may be, if the trouble exists in the kidneys, Doan's Pills will cure it. I used to have a sort of lumbago and pain in the back, and it was for this trouble that I used them. I would not hesitate to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills in any case where there is hope of a cure."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Company, Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

STANFORD STUDENTS THREATEN TO STRIKE

Stanford University, March 17.—Twelve Stanford students were suspended by the faculty committee on student affairs of Stanford University as the result of the unusual demonstration last week in which three hundred undergraduates showed their disapproval of the prohibition edict. The students for the greater part were upper classmen and their dismissal has caused one of the biggest sensations in the history of the undergraduates. A meeting of the student body was held tonight at which a petition was drawn up and signed by three hundred students who took part in the parade. The petition stated that the twelve students suspended for participating in the parade were no more guilty than the 300 signers. The meeting was attended by about 3000 students.

JUDGE BEN B. LINDSEY, THE BOYS' FRIEND.

Judge Ben B. Lindsey of the juvenile court in Denver has gained fame far and wide for his reforms in dealing with incorrigible boys. His motto is "a square deal for the child," and he is credited with the reformation of more boys during the few years that he has been on the bench than any other man in the United States. His plan is to put the lads on their honor, and his custom is to trust the little fellows to go unaccompanied to the reform school after sentence.

IF You Know Us . . .

Two years ago a young man was solicited by us to open an account. We told him that in case he should ever wish to borrow money, he would find it an advantage to have become known at our bank through such an account. He had at that time no occasion to borrow; however, he opened an account. Recently he needed to use some money in a business deal and he came to us for it and was accommodated. If he had not been known to us, it might have been different. This is a representative case. You might also find it advantageous to be known at this bank. We are always prepared to accommodate our patrons and no worthy applicant is ever refused. We will be pleased to have your account.
