University of Oregon News

The University of Oregon will probably have the best balanced track team in its history during the season for 1908, though the squad is not as strong as the 1907 aggregation, owing to the loss of Kelly, McKinley and Hug. The team will not be made up of stars so much as of better men in more events, and therefore, while better balanced, may not be such point winners.

The Varsity should win the first two places in the sprints, for Moores and Huston without fail won second and third last year, when Kelly was here to take first. There are also other fast men whom Hayward is bringing out. In the quarter mile race in about fifty seconds. Dodson and May will be very swift for this race and the half. Billy Wood is showing remarkable good form in the mile and a half. Sievers, a freshman, ran one mile in a relay race on a very slippery track in 4:45, and is expected to go under 4:40 for that distance in the spring. Lowell, who has run the mile close to 4:40, is working hard on the mile and the quarter, for which he is also good. Downs, another freshman, acts like a 4:40 miler, and before he gets out of college may go to 4:30—something no man has ever done at Oregon.

In the pole vault the Varsity will be represented by Robinson and Roberts. Robinson was a second place man last year and Roberts is a new man, who, while possessing little form, is fleet and strong. The jumps will be a problem. Kuykendall, the high hurdler and track captain, is likely to go into both broad and high. In the broad he can be good for nearly 22 feet. The high jump seems slightly weak. Moulten is a good man for around five four, as are several others, but five eight is invariably needed for first place.

Zacharias in the weights may be good in the hammer and shot for first place at any meet, but for second and third place men there are no good men yet developed. Moulten, McIntire, Volght, Neal, Grout and Jardiner are big men trying out, but none seems to have sufficient form to be certain of a place.

While to some the outlook seems a little bad, the material is so much better than in most years, that there is little reason for discouragement at Oregon. However, Washington and O. A. C. are thought to have much stronger teams than last year, which makes the problem of calculating points uncertain.

Can Swan Enter?
Some discussion has been raised as to whether Claude Swan, the O. A. C. athlete, will be allowed to compete this year on track, owing to his trip with the Nome, Alaska team, during which it was stated in the papers he was receiving a salary for coaching. Such action should make him a professional. This will be the last year that he will be able to play on any O. A. C. team owing to the agreement formed at Walla Walla in case he is not held as a professional.

Tests in Cement.
The engineering students of the senior class at the University are making some practical experiments to test the permeability of concrete work made of hydraulic cement with various constituents. A concrete work that will be absolutely impermeable to water has long been sought, and it is known that some work is much more so than others, depending in a large degree to the various proportions of clay or other elements of the base.

The class, consisting of J. A. McArthur, Roy Zacharias and Walter J. Moore, with Carl McClain, instructor and fellow worker, will make about 300 brick, with various ingredients and submit them to severe tests. At a considerable expense they have made machinery for carrying out their experiments. They have a washer for churning and cleansing the river sand and gravel, a unique furnace with revolving cylinder for trying the sand and gravel, and a shaker with a series of sieves, sorting the gravel into various sizes and run with electric power.

Prescott a Winner.
Resolutions were adopted at the meeting of the Interscholastic Oratorical Association of Oregon colleges last week favoring the University appropriation and that of the Mouth Normal. In the evening Bert Prescott won the decision of the judges on both delivery and composition. He was the fourth Oregon man to win in sixteen years.

The judges on composition to whom the orations were submitted were Judge Stephen A. Lowell of Pendleton, Prof. E. M. Hulme of the University of Idaho and Rev. T. L. Elliot of Portland. Those on delivery are Rev. H. O. Henderson of Portland, Attorney William Y. Masters of Portland and City Superintendent Powers of Salem.

A meeting of the association was held on Friday afternoon and the following officers for next year were elected: President R. R. Clark of A. A. C. Secretary Earl A. Nott of McMinnville college; treasurer, Phos. H. Townsend of Oregon.

Games Pay Expenses.
An article criticizing the employment of Coach Forbes by the football management comments on it as an outrageous expenditure of money for the university, evidently under the impression that the university pays the bill. This, however, is not the case, as all expenses connected with the football team are paid from the proceeds of the games.

Last season Oregon's share of the net proceeds of the Idaho game was approximately $1,000, of the Corvallis game, $1,000, and of the Multnomah game, $2,000. It was from his money that Coach Frost was paid and all other expenses met.

The entire management of student body affairs is left in the hands of the student body and the university merely supervises this management. Every cent of expense of the various teams is paid by the students and does not come out of the university appropriation made by the state legislature.

Alumni After Honors.
Many Oregon Alumni are coming out for public office at the coming elections. Among them the Wm. Cardwell of Roseburg and a prominent lawyer, who desires to become district attorney. C. N. McArthur and K. K. Kubil for representatives, and F. E. Beach for state senator from Multnomah are strong candidates. County Judge G. W. Dunn of Jackson county also desires re-election.

Assembly Address.
Prof. F. G. Young addressed the assembly Wednesday morning on the subject "What is the University of Oregon for, Anyway?" He showed that the state college here was for practical work as well as culture. The address was very entertaining, and instructive as the speaker also went into the history of the institution.

Meteor Cast.
The plaster cast of the meteor which was found near Portland before the Lewis and Clark fair was placed in the geology room. It weighed nearly a thousand pounds, but the original meteorite tipped the scales at the eighteen ton mark. It is now at the Smithsonian Institute. The cast was the gift of W. M. Laird.

H. G. Vandusen, state fish commissioner, visited his son Arthur this week.

Mrs. J. S. Cooper of Independence visited her daughters, Misses Mabel and Francis, instructor and student respectively in the University of Oregon this week.

President P. L. Campbell of the University returned Wednesday from a trip to Portland. The Portland Realty Club has passed resolutions favoring the Varsity.

P. E. Newell, a graduate of the University of Oregon, class of 1907 is visiting his parents this week. He is employed in the city computing offices in Portland.

L. H. Johnson of the University went to Creswell Wednesday.

Miss Carol Johnson spent Saturday at Creswell, visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Johnson.

George E. Honck of Roseburg was in Eugene Wednesday. He was a former student at Oregon.

Cornelius Beebe passed his examination for the Rhodes scholarship. The faculty will next decide of these candidates, Bolton Hamble, Cecil Lyons and Beebe, which shall be given the scholarship.

Next Thursday, March 26, the inter-state debate will be held here. Ida Ho's negative team meeting Oregon's affirmative team.

NEW ANTI-TOXIN FOUND.

The Germans have found an anti-toxin for the "laziness germ." They claim that it will transform any man of sluggish and slothful habits into an energetic person to whom the "tired feeling" is unknown. This is the reduction of the germ theory to its logical absurdity. Germs are not the only cause of disease. Germ simply multiply in debilitated or diseased tissue.—Saturday Evening Post.

Osteopathy seals the fate of germs by restoring the proper circulation of the bodily fluids that are alone capable of impairing the diseased tissue. Does it not seem like the correct and rational method?
