CITY NEWS

Rev. W. H. Dempster will preach at Dempster's hall in Fairmount Sunday at 11 a. m.

Charles S. Williams, president of the Commercial Club, is being urged to run for city councilman from the First ward.

A marriage license was granted today to Clarence L. Ackerly and Miss Carrie B. Tompkins, both of the lower Siuslaw valley.

Up to 3 o'clock this afternoon 4242 voters had registered with the county clerk for the coming primaries and the June election.

W. T. Gordon, the undertaker, is being mentioned for councilman from the fourth ward, and he will probably accept the nomination.

A skylight is being placed in the roof of the Cockerline & Wetherbee building over Dr. F. M. Day's office to give the rooms more light.

The board of directors of the Lane County Fruit and Vegetable Association held a meeting this afternoon and ordered a carload of boxes for the association.

W. R. Barr, of this city, who went to the springs at Ashland some time ago, writes that he is able to be up and around, and feels much better since going there.

A large number of high school students, under the direction of Soren Jensen, erected their new dressing room and bath house on the high school campus today.

Miss Mae Douglas, who won one of The Guard's free trips to Los Angeles, decided to go to college instead, and leaves Monday for Mt. Angel to enter the Catholic school there.

Otto has moved his candy room to one door west of Monroe's second hand store on West Eighth street temporarily, until L. O. Beckwith's new concrete building in the rear of Otto's place is completed.

A. W. Kuykendahl's drug store is now in its new location three doors north of the old location. The work of tearing the old building down to make room for the First National bank addition will begin soon.

The cement curbing is being built on East Ninth street preparatory to paving that portion of the street. If this good weather holds out much longer the paving will soon be started up and the actual work of paving will begin.

Bolton & Jenkins, milliners, held their spring opening at their store on East Ninth street today. The store was crowded all afternoon and the day was ideal for the opening. An orchestra furnished music for the occasion during the afternoon.

P. E. Snodgrass yesterday afternoon filed with the county clerk the notice of location of water rights on the McKenzie bridge near the Hayden bridge. This is on the site of the proposed power plant to be built by T. G. Hendricks and F. L. Chambers.

The supreme court has handed down a mandate in the case of William H. Ireland vs. Albert J. Ward, in which the circuit court awarded Ward $5000 damages for the alienation of his wife's affections. The supreme court affirms the decision of the circuit court.

Wm. M. Sherman was appointed administrator of the estate of Robert A. Fox yesterday afternoon. The value of the property of the estate is estimated at $2850. He leaves no sisters so far as he is known. Jas. Offutt, Louis Gilstrap and C. H. Baker were appointed appraisers.

The remains of George Mayer, who died in Portland yesterday, will arrive in Eugene Monday afternoon and will be interred in the Masonic cemetery. Mr. Mayer was the father of Mrs. Weidemann, formerly of this city, and he resided here for many years. He was a Mason, and the funeral will be conducted by members of that order here.

At the band concert at the armory the other evening the gross receipts were $297.50. This places the band out of debt and leaves a balance on hand. Weekly concerts will be resumed in the park as soon as the weather gets a little warmer. The band management desires to thank the public for the liberal support at the concert and dance.

Babies will be cared for during the Union Sets. CHAMBERS HARDWARE CO.

preaching service Sunday mornings at the Baptist church by experienced ladies. Any mother may take this opportunity to enjoy the church service by inquiring of the ushers before and Sunday morning services. The ladies who have this work in charge hope that a number will take advantage of the opportunity.

The baseball game this afternoon at Recreation Park between the U. of O. second team and the high school resulted in a score of 14 to 1 in favor of the high school team. The game was interesting though one-sided. Tuffy Wilson pitched consistent ball against the varsity heavy weights, allowing only three scratch hits in five innings.

It was reported on the streets yesterday afternoon that Andy Taylor, who was sentenced to pay a fine of $300 and to serve thirty days in the county jail for violation of the local option law, had disappeared, but he was found about 7:30 o'clock after a search for him by officers. He has begun to serve his sentence. The Jap hotel porter has also begun to serve his term in jail.

S. Sorenson, the drayman, is going around with a badly disfigured face, and his friends have been asking him how the other fellow looks. But there was no "other fellow" this time. Thursday evening as Mr. Sorenson was alighting from his wagon in front of Goodman's cigar store, his trousers caught on the wagon and threw him headlong to the cement sidewalk, blacking both eyes and disfiguring his nose badly.

C. D. Chorpensing, formerly of Eugene, is at the head of a movement at Dallas to organize a militia company. A press dispatch from there says: "At an enthusiastic meeting in Dallas last night to organize an O. N. G. company, over 80 names were signed. C. D. Chorpensing is president. Patriotic addresses were made by N. L. Butler and other notables of town. April 9 was set for final organization."

F. E. Dunn's big improvement sale, as advertised in The Guard, is attracting widespread attention and his store was crowded all day today with people from the country as well as hundreds living in town, all eager to take advantage of the splendid bargain offers. Mr. Dunn realizes the value of advertising more now than ever and is highly satisfied with the results obtained from the page ad in The Guard the past few days.

This afternoon a horse driven to a buggy occupied by Mrs. Charles Croner and Miss Fannie Croner became frightened at something in the street near the Hoffman House and ran into a baby carriage, throwing its occupant to the pavement quite forcibly. The child was unhurt, but the bystanders held their breath lest it was killed. The name of the mother of the child was not learned. The occupants of the buggy were not responsible for the accident.

The many friends of Mrs. Minnie Washburn, of this city, will be pained to learn that she fell on the streets of Los Angeles on Tuesday of this week, and broke the elements of one of her legs. She will be compelled to remain in a hospital for several weeks on account of the injury. She was alighting from a street car when the car started too quickly, throwing her to the pavement. She was just getting ready to resume her trip to the East after having recovered from a severe illness of several weeks' duration.

The city council met at 4 o'clock this afternoon for the purpose of opening bids for paving East Eleventh street. The only bidder was the Warren Construction Company, and the figures submitted were the same as for Seventh, Eighth and Ninth streets, but the usual amount of discussion was held and at press time the contract had not been let.

Today was the date set for opening bids on the purchase and removal of the frame buildings on the site of the new five-story Odd Fellows building, but the matter was postponed until next week.

The annual banquet of the East Eugene Improvement Club was held in Rein's hall last night. It was the most successful affair of its kind ever given by the club. Seventy-six persons sat down to the festive board prepared by Mrs. H. H. Garrett, M. Sverdrud and Mrs. J. Miller. The program of the evening consisted of addresses, recitations and music. Rev. G. A. Woolley delivering an especially fine address on "The Moral Effect of Civic Improvements." An interesting feature of the evening was the auction of the remnants of the banquet, several cakes and other things being sold to the highest bidder.

IF You Know Us . . .

Two years ago a young man was solicited by us to open an account. We told him that in case he should ever wish to borrow money, he would find it an advantage to have become known at our bank through such an account. He had at that time no occasion to borrow; however, he opened an account. Recently he needed to use some money in a business deal and he came to us for it and was accommodated. If he had not been known to us, it might have been different. This is a representative case. You might also find it advantageous to be known at this bank. We are always prepared to accommodate our patrons and no worthy applicant is ever refused. We will be pleased to have your account.
