PORTLAND IS SOLID FOR THE STATE UNIVERSITY

A full set of officers to serve for the ensuing half year was elected at last night's meeting of the Portland Ad Club in the rooms of the Board of Trade, says the Portland Journal. The new president is C. N. Black, formerly of the Head-Black Advertising agency, who has retired from that concern to become business manager of the Spectator. The other officers chosen are: First vice-president, E. J. Jaeger; second vice-president, D. C. Freeman; secretary, Scott Bozarth; treasurer, Fred Johnson.

Following an address by F. E. Beach, the club unanimously adopted a resolution favoring the $125,000 appropriation for the State University, which comes before the voters at the June election under the referendum law.

Commercial Club.
The Portland Commercial Club has adopted the following resolutions: Whereas, A thoroughly equipped State University is not only of incalculable value in the education of the youth of Oregon, but a factor of great importance to Eastern people who contemplate making their homes in this state; and Whereas, The work of the University of Oregon cannot reach its highest efficiency without adequate funds; be it Resolved, by the Portland Commercial Club, That it is the sentiment of this body that appropriation should be made for the maintenance of the University of Oregon commensurate with the needs of the institution, and that every other action should be favored which will enable it to keep pace with the rapid development of the state in other regards, and make every Oregonian proud of the University.

$10,500 IS PRICE FOR TWENTY-ACRE ORCHARD
C. W. Potter and G. G. Gould of St. Johns, Or., have purchased the H. T. Hull orchard, a mile and a half southwest of Medford, of 20 acres, paying $16,500, or $825 an acre, the highest price ever paid for young orchard land in the history of the Rogue River valley.

The property consists of 20 acres of 8-year-old Newtown pippins and Spitzbergen apples and d'Anjou and Howell pears. It is the north half of the 40-acre tract which was purchased by Hull & Parker from J. E. Watt last autumn for $25,000, or $12,500 and the transaction nets Mr. Hull just $4000, or $200 an acre profit in less than six months. The same land was purchased by Mr. Watt two years ago last February for $225 per acre, or $10,000, and the year before that was sold for $150. This is a profit of $600 an acre in three years. Eight years ago the land was purchased, unplanted, for $40 an acre.—Merford Tribune.

POLITICAL LITERATURE

(East Oregonian.)
The state of Oregon has just issued 100,000 copies of a booklet containing 126 pages, and giving in detail all of the initiative measures which will be before the people at the coming election.

In addition to the measures upon which the people will vote next June there are arguments for and against the proposed measures, and taken together the booklet forms an interesting political lexicon of Oregon!

Each voter in the state will be supplied with a copy of this booklet and it is supposed that each voter will acquaint himself with the laws upon which he is to vote. Vain hope of the reformers. Out of the 100,000 copies, at least 75,000 will be cast away unopened, and the sweetness of the initiative measures contained therein will be wasted upon the desert air of listless citizenship.

Since the expense of publishing this 100,000-copy edition of the initiative measures will be considerable, every voter should read the measures. The people will pay the bill, anyway, and some good should come of it.

A grave mistake was made by the legislature when the publication of the initiative measures was taken away from the newspapers and given to the state printer.

The newspapers could reach the voters in a way which would be of some benefit to them; the initiative measures published in the leading papers of the state would have been read and studied, but issued in this prosaic pamphlet as they are, not one voter in every 20 will even read the titles to the measures.

OREGON EASTERN AMENDED MAPS PLACED ON FILE

P. A. Worthington, of Portland, representing the Oregon Eastern railroad, is in the city filing at the U. S. land office amended maps of the railway survey through Malheur and Harney counties, and while he claims to know nothing of the intention of his company, his presence gives rise to much talk of immediate construction work, especially taken in connection with the reports of gathering teams and contractors at Vale and Ontario which have been heard of late.—Harney County News.

(The Oregon Eastern is the so-called Natron extension, which is to be built across the mountains from Eugene by the Harriman people.)

WHERE WILL LANE COUNTY'S POOR BE INTERRED?

Thurston, Or., March 20, 1908.
Editor Guard—I should like to know of Lane county what they intend me to do with the poor who die at the Lane county home?

I was talking to J. T. Donelson, one of the trustees of the Mt. Vernon cemetery, a few days ago and he told me that Lane county could bury no more poor there, as they had refused to help buy an acre of land to help enlarge the cemetery, which is badly needed.

When Dr. B. F. Russell took the poor the trustees gave him the lower east row of lots, all of which are now full.

What does Lane county expect of me? Do they intend for me to buy a cemetery?

Yours respectfully,
MRS. M. E. RUSSELL,
Supt. Lane Co. Poor Farm.

NEGRO COLONY FOR UMATILLA COUNTY

To establish a colored colony in Umatilla county is the plan of Rev. John C. Coleman, presiding elder of the African Methodist church in Washington, Idaho and Oregon, who is now in Pendleton.

It is the desire of the colored minister to bring a large number of sober, industrious and substantial negro families from the Southern states and settle them in a colony upon some of the lands which are being reclaimed in the western part of the county. He thinks the conditions ideal here and believes it would be for the betterment of his people.

NEW ANTI-TOXIN FOUND.

The Germans have found an anti-toxin for the "laziness germ." They claim that it will transform any man of sluggish and slothful habits into an energetic person to whom that "tired feeling" is unknown. This is the reduction of the germ theory to its logical absurdity. Germs are not the only cause of disease. Germs simply multiply in depleted or diseased tissue.—Saturday Evening Post.

Osteopathy seals the fate of germs by restoring the proper circulation of the bodily fluids that are alone capable of impairing the diseased tissue. Does it not seem like the correct and rational method?

Dr. H. L. Studley, osteopath, office over Chambers' Hardware store, Phone Black 1326. Residence, 734 Ferry street. Phone Red 3197.

Good For Everybody.

Mr. Norman Coulter, a prominent architect in the Delbert Building, San Francisco, says: "I tell you all that has been said of Electric Bitters as a tonic medicine. It is good for everybody. It corrects stomach, liver and kidney disorders in a prompt and efficient manner, and builds up the system." Electric Bitters is the best spring medicine ever sold over a druggist's counter; as a blood purifier it is unequalled. 50 cents at W. A. Kuykendall's drug store.
