THIRTY-ONE HOBOS IN JAIL LAST NIGHT

MANY OF THE WEARY WILLIES ABOUT TOWN NOW—PETTY THIEVERY COMMITTED

Chief of Police Farrington reports that there were thirty-one hobos in the city jail last night, and all were glad of the opportunity to spend the night there, as the weather [illegible] was cold and blustery. They were crowded in the cells and corridors of the jail like sardines. All of them were turned loose this morning and ordered out of the city.

More petty thievery is [illegible] about the city, evidently the work of these transients. Last night a [illegible] doormat was stolen from [illegible] the Singer Sewing Machine Company's office, the thief perhaps [illegible] it somewhere for the price of a [illegible].

One of the "Weary" [illegible] back door of Chief Farrington's [illegible] today and asked Mrs. Farrington [illegible] something to eat. She told her husband, who went to the door, and the fellow, seeing the chief's uniform, nearly fainted. Before Farrington had time to say anything the "bo" commenced to beg off and said he would get right out of town if he would let him go and not arrest him for begging. The chief let him go, but said if he found him around town he would be taken into custody. The fellow has not been seen since and evidently got out of town quickly.

GROCERY FIRM WILL CLOSE OUT

Hamilton & VanOrsdel, the grocers who occupy the building on the lot where the I. O. O. F. block is to be erected this summer, the corner of East Ninth and [illegible] streets, have been unable to find a new location and have decided to close out their stock and sell their fixtures. They will have a sale at once. They give up the building on the first of May, immediately after which date the Odd Fellows will move the building off the lot and commence the erection of their five-story block.

MUSICAL FESTIVAL

ROOM AT HOTEL GROSS ENTERED AND ROBBED

DICK RICHARDSON IS LOSER OF GOOD SUIT OF CLOTHES, REVOLVER AND SOME CASH

Some time Saturday night a sneak thief entered Dick Richardson's room at the Hotel Gross and stole clothing, money and other articles to the total value of perhaps $100. Mr. Richardson missed some of the things when he returned late Saturday night, but did not discover the full amount of his loss until morning. The thief took a $60 suit of clothes, a revolver, a separate vest and $15 or $20 in cash, besides a number of articles of minor value. The police were at once notified, and they are now on the track of the burglar with fair prospects of landing him soon. It is probably the work of local talent.
