SUFFERED WITH ECZEMA 25 YEARS

Limb Peeled and Foot Was Like Raw Flesh—Had to Use Crutches, and Doctors Thought Amputation Necessary — Montreal Woman Writes of Cure Seven Years Ago.

BELIEVES LIFE SAVED BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

"I have been treated by doctors for twenty-five years for a bad case of eczema on my leg. They did their best, but failed to cure it. My doctor had advised me to have my leg cut off, but I said I would try the Cuticura Remedies first. He said, "Try them if you like, but I do not think they will do any good." At this time my leg was peeled from the knee, my foot was like a piece of raw flesh, and I had to walk on crutches. I bought a cake of Cuticura Soap, a box of Cuticura Ointment, and a bottle of Cuticura Pills. After the first two treatments the swelling went down, and in two months my leg was cured and the new skin came on. The doctor could not believe his own eyes when he saw that Cuticura had cured me and said that he would use it for his own patients. I used two cakes of Cuticura Soap, three boxes of Ointment, and five bottles of Resolvent, and I have now been cured over seven years, and but for the Cuticura Remedies I might have lost my life. I have lots of grandchildren, and they are frequent users of Cuticura, and I always recommend it to the many people whom my business brings to my house every day. (Mrs. Jean-Baptiste Renaud, clairvoyant, 27, Montana St., Montreal, Que., Feb. 20, 1907."

COAL DISCOVERY BY FARMER AT LORANE, OREGON

Cottage Grove, March 30.—Charles Jackson, a farmer, living near Lorane, 12 miles west of here, arrived this evening bringing a sack full of coal. The vein was found on a hill on his farm. It is not known as yet how extensive it is, as there has been no sufficient developments to demonstrate its extent. The coal was examined and pronounced to be of a choice grade. A coal miner looked through that district some years ago, but failed to locate the mineral in sufficient quantities to warrant expending the necessary funds for opening it up. He was positive, however, of the existence of coal in large deposits.

BRYAN'S CAMPAIGN OPENED IN THE WEST

edy must be admitted. For years the Democratic party has been pointing out the abuses which have been growing under the Republican rule, but those abuses have been denied by Republican leaders and the country has been congratulated upon the possession of everything essential to its welfare. Republican platforms have been full of fulsome eulogy of the Republican party and barren of promises of reform. Even the platform of 1904 upon which President Roosevelt was elected was silent in regard to the government evils, and gave no hope of relief. To the surprise of Democrats and to the surprise of Republicans as well, the president began to recommend remedial legislation, taking as his guide the platform declarations of the Democratic party. He did not follow in the footsteps of democracy out of any desire to compliment the Democrats or encourage them, but simply because the Democrats had pre-empted all the ground in front and he could not go forward without treapassing upon their land. It is not strange that his suggestions were hailed with delight by Democrats and met with indignation by the Republicans. Whether the president cultivated a reform sentiment in the Republican party or only revealed a previously existing sentiment we shall never know, and the question is not material, any way. It is sufficient that it now exists, sufficient that it is so strong that the president is praised by the masses just in proportion as he assails the predatory corporations and pleads for reforms that look to the restoration of equity and fairness in the government. The president is not a Democrat for he leans toward Hamilton rather than Jefferson, and he favors a concentration of power in Washington and a centralization of government which the Democrats regard as distinctly hostile to the national welfare. It is proof that the reform sentiment in the Republican party is not large, but militant, that the corporate interests, powerful as they are, have not been able to coerce the Middle West into the support of any of the Republican candidates who are [illegible] This in itself is the most hopeful sign of a Democratic victory, for the president, having aroused the sentiment, the Republicans party must satisfy the expectations excited or lose the support of the rank and file of the party.

"If in the coming campaign the Republicans have an ambiguous platform filled with glittering generalities and fragrant with the bouquets thrown at the Republican party, a Republican president, elected upon it, would be powerless as the present [illegible] for what has the president succeeded in doing?

"There are more trusts today than there were when he entered office and he has never succeeded in getting a law enacted to strengthen the present law. He has not succeeded in putting a trust magnate in the penitentiary, and the only large fine that has been imposed has aroused more criticism than commendation among the Republican leaders. He has not secured any traffic reforms and yet he has been in office for ever seven years. He has not secured the enactment of necessary labor legislation, he has not secured an income tax law and the Republican senators forced him into a compromise on the railroad question.

"But even a good platform would be worthless without a good candidate who embodied the spirit of the platform, and what candidate have they? If the president had picked out Senator LaFollette a real reformer; if the Republican party had rallied to Senator LaFollette's supoprt it could have compelled the confidence of reform Republicans. Senator LaFollette has a record as a reformer—he has fought corporate domination in his own state for a decade.

"The president has picked out Secretary Taft and given him the support of the administration. Without the support of the administration the secretary would scarcely have a state in the country, and with the president's support he is having an up-hill fight. He has no record as a reformer, and his speeches do not indicate a definite purpose or a courageous program. He may be the best man the president could find among his cabinet officers, but Secretary Taft's superiority over his colleagues is due not to his positive virtues, but to the fact that none of the rest of them has any reform tendencies. In fact, the widespread reform sentiment among the Republican masses is not reflected to any considerable extent among Republican leaders.

"What does Secretary Taft stand for? What does he denounce as wrong? What does he propose to do as a remedy? What would he do with the trusts? He tells us that he would not exterminate them, but simply regulate them.

"What does he propose on the tariff question Revision, but not until after election.

"What reform does Secretary Taft propose for the benefit of labor? The laboring men insist that they are entitled to trial by jury; but Secretary Taft went all the way to Oklahoma to find fault with a provision in the Oklahoma constitution securing this protection to the loboring man.

What is Secretary Taft going to do on the railroad question? In one speech he took occasion to explain that the president was not responsible for rate reductions. This would indicate that Secretary Taft does not favor rate reductions. He is in favor of authorizing the interstate commerce commission to ascertain the present value of railways. What does he propose to do with watered stock? Does he urge reduction in freight and passenger rates wherever and whenever such reductions can be made without injustice to honest investment?

"He has given no assurance on these questions, and we must judge what he would do by what he now says or fails to say. If when he is trying to secure the support of reform Republicans, he is so evasive on the subject, what could we expect of him if he were elected?

"Does Secretary Taft favor the national incorporation of railroads as suggested by the president? Would he favor a law withdrawing from the states their control over railways and vesting exclusive control in the government? And if he favors national incorporation would he be in favor of giving the railroad a perpetual franchise and a perpetual guarantee of income? If not, will he explain why he will be more unjust to the Filipinos than to the people of his own country? What chance of reform is there at the hands of the Republican leaders who take the side of corporations against the people, and act on the theory that inducements must be held out to capital no matter how great the burdens imposed upon the producers of wealth? There is no doubt but that the masses of the people, Republican and Democrat, are in favor of reform. If we can only convince the voters that the Democratic party will be true to reform, victory is assured, and the only way in which we can convince the public that we honestly desire to administer the government in behalf of the people is to give them an honest platform, employ honest arguments and conduct a campaign by honest methods and through an honest organization."

CANDIDATES STATE POSITIONS ON PUBLIC ISSUES

There was quite an enthusiastic mass meeting in the Rein hall over Dempster's store in Fairmount last night at which the candidates for city council and for the legislature had been invited to address the people and explain to them their positions on public issues. W. H. Dempster acted as chairman of the meeting and Finis Snodgrass secretary. The several candidates who were in attendance were asked various questions and those who spoke were I. H. Bingham, W. W. Calkins and A. H. Eaton, candidates for the legislature, C. S. Williams and Mr. Roach, candidates for the council, B. F. Keeney and Paulus D. Newell, candidates for assessor.

Mr. Calkins declared himself as opposed to Statement No. 1, and Messrs. Eaton and Bingham declared for it. Each of the candidates for the council declared for municipal ownership of public utilities, first, and last. There was no question as to their attitude on the matter. Mayor Matlock was also there and while he favors municipal ownership of the water plats he opposes ownership of the lighting plant at this time for the reason that the voters of the city had expressed themselves against it at the polls. Mr. Keeney and Mr. Newell spoke of the manner in which they would conduct the assessor's office if elected, and told what they thought were the best methods of assessment.

The following resolution was adopted by the meeting:

"Resolved, by mass meeting now assembled That the city council of the city of Eugene, be and they are hereby requested to procure from the city engineer an estimate of the present water plant, should the same be purchased by the city; that the same be published in the city papers."

A SURGICAL OPERATION

If there is any one thing that a woman dreads more than another it is a surgical operation.

We can state without fear of a contradiction that there are hundreds, yes, thousands, of operations performed upon women in our hospitals which are entirely unnecessary and many have been avoided by

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

For proof of this statement read the following letters.

Mrs. Barbara Base, of Kingman, Kansas, writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"For eight years I suffered from the most severe form of female troubles and was told that an operation was my only hope of recovery. I wrote Mrs. Pinkham for advice, and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it has saved my life and made me a well woman."

Mrs. Arthur R. House, of Church Road, Moorestown, N. J., writes:

"I feel it is my duty to let people know what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I suffered from female troubles, and last March my physician decided that an operation was necessary. My husband objected, and urged me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and to-day I am well and strong."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, and backache.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.
