MEXICO FEARS DESIGNS OF U. S.

The information has been given out in a semi-official way at Washington that the Mexican government is not at all satisfied with the attitude of the newspapers of America toward that country.

the price of coal to the average householder. It has climbed to the top notch figure and will remain there until the government does something to those fellows in order to make them release their grip on the throat of the nation.

The latest candidate for the office of president of the United States is Fred S. Wheeler, of Los Angeles, who will probably be the Prohibition standard bearer.

The anarchists are still engaged in their lawless work at Chicago, and the authorities of that city will do well to make a general cleanup of that element and either place the undesirable in jail or send them out of the country.

Fairbanks says tariff revision will be by the present congress, at an extra session of congress, called immediately after the presidential election.

Congressman Clark, of Florida, says Attorney-General Bonaparte has no more than a hazy acquaintance with the law, and that he is out of place in his job.

We fear, from the pessimistic statement of Colonel George Harvey, that 1,200,000 men are now unemployed and that the number will be doubled by November.

A current article on Thomas Jefferson makes the astounding assertion that he was without enemies in the continental congress.

Somehow it isn't flattering to the supporter of law and order to learn that the outrages of the Kentucky Night Riders were only stopped by a compromise between the independent tobacco growers and the tobacco trust.

As usual, the ambassador is said to have made all the trouble. She insisted on going to market on a bicycle, and the Kaiser threw a fit when he heard about it.

The manager of the New York hotel restaurant who ordered Evelyn Thaw and one of the indicted high financiers, who was her companion, out of his place the other night, knows a free ad when he meets it.

No surer way to make hard times has been discovered than to be continually preaching calamity. Therefore, brethren, let us resolve to either preach the other thing, or stick to sawing wood.

Well, at any rate, congressmen will carry back to their constituents an impressive record of bills introduced, together with the best excuses they can concoct for being shy on legislation.

It can be stated with absolute certainty that the couple married at the top of the Washington monument the other day had to come down in the world very early in their married life.

Senator Bourne recently said: "I never did bid the devil good morning, until I met him." We're been wondering if he met him frequently, and if so, where?

Legislators are showing a strong disposition to encroach on the functions of the revivalists by trying to make people good.

The brick for the Eugene depot is being shipped through from Newberg, and instead of being pressed, as reported, is just plain, every brick being some pressed brick will be used, though, in 60% of the trimmings, Albany is correct.

Wrong again. The building will be entirely of pressed brick except the inside walls. Come up and see the walls already up six or eight feet and be convinced.
