In Estimating the Safety of a bank. It is always well to remember that the Capital and Surplus, in other words, the bank's own money, is that which gives security to the depositors. To recently increased capital of this bank, now $100,000, fully paid, is exceeded by but three banks in the state of Oregon, and is twice the amount required by the state banking law for cities of 10,000 or larger. This Capital and the Surplus forms a fund of $125,000.00 that insure absolute security to those who entrust their money to us. We always have on hand a large reserve for the accommodation of customers desiring loans and now carry 70 per cent of our demand deposits in available cash, being more than four times the reserve required by law. Seven years of experience and usefulness to the people of this county, prove that this bank deserves your patronage.
