AN INDEPENDENT PAPER.
Member of Associated Press.

MONDAY, APRIL 20, 1908

The grain crop of the Pacific Northwest has exceeded every estimate made by commercial organizations, railroads, newspapers and exporters. The 1907 crop of Oregon, Washington and Idaho was:

Wheat, 58,000,000 bushels.
Barley, 10,000,000 bushels.
Oats, 12,000,000 bushels.

Farmers received $50,000,000 for this crop. More than fifty per cent of the total marketed was shipped from Portland.

SHOULD SETTLE WATER WRANGLE WITHOUT DELAY

The decisive vote of Saturday's election in favor of issuing $300,000 of water bonds and endorsing the purchase of the Willamette Valley Company's plant for $140,000, is significant. It further emphasizes the fact that the people of Eugene want a mountain water supply, ample and pure, and that they want it without any unnecessary delay. The discussion of the value of the present plant weighed very little with the voters in determining how they should cast their ballots. They simply took the opportunity to settle this vexed question at once and for all time and endorsed it by an overwhelming majority.

It is now the plain duty of the mayor and councilmen, no matter what their personal views may be, to get together and carry out the expressed will of the people. They should not wrangle or haggle over this matter longer, but act promptly and decisively. A few weeks more and the plant should be in the hands of the city and work upon the gravity supply, as well as needed extensions of the system in the city, should be begun.

The election Saturday was the beginning of the end, we all hope, of a long wrangle, and the public official who attempts to set aside or delay the consummation of the positive declaration of the people can be regarded only as the enemy of popular interests and welfare.

There is now in the United States treasury a larger amount of gold than was ever before collected at one place in the world, says the Philadelphia Press. Uncle Sam has invested in coin and bullion a clean $1,000,000,000. In calling attention to this record-breaking hoard of the precious metal Congressmen Boutell says that at the close of 1905 the amount was only $156,000,000. Since that time there has been a yearly average of more than $70,000,000 of gold added to the immense store. That is more than has been mined in the United States during the same period. Americans also utilize a vast amount of gold in a commercial way. If this were placed on top of the huge pile of yellow metal which is in the government's purse, it would be seen that this country has been getting far more than its proportionate share of the world's output.

There is a movement on foot to interest the several social clubs of the city in the work of the Commercial Club in [illegible] a [illegible] of [illegible]. The idea is to impress upon the women the advantages that will accrue to the community if strangers are looked after and made to feel more at home when they come here to locate. The members of the women's clubs will be asked to call upon newcomers and assist them in getting acquainted and to feel at home among our people. There will be a meeting of the ladies at the Commercial Club rooms tomorrow night to formulate a definite plan of work along that line.

With all due deference to Senator Beveridge, who says there never was such a day for young men in public life, we are confident a little study of congress will convince doubters, not only that control is in the hands of the elderly, but that the bulk of the work is done by the same class. The oratory? Well, that's another question altogether.

Saturday morning the Pendleton Tribune, T. T. Geer's paper, appeared without a line of editorial, the ex-governor probably having no language on tap that would express his opinion on Congressman Ellis' renomination and at the same time be suitable for publication in a family newspaper.

It is among the probabilities that the question of again running for governor will look very different to Governor Hughes after the Chicago convention. The governorship of New York is a sizable job, even in the shadow of the White House.

Attorney-General Bonaparte says he has been unable to find evidence to justify proceedings against the paper trust, though he has enough to justify continuing the hunt. Publishers in a position to give him tips please note.

This story about an Indiana man who found a pot of gold buried during the civil war, while cleaning up his yard, is good enough to push along—lots of yards are badly in need of being cleaned up.

It's a good guess that the tariff will be revised a long time before Congressman Nelson, of Kansas, gets his resolution for a select committee of 45, to revise the rules, adopted by the house.

That thrilling rescue story, with Mark Twain for its hero, merely shows that age has not dulled Mark's advertising faculties, even if he does not need the money.

Pat McCarren's plan of giving the courts a hand in seating delegates to a political convention will doubtlessly be endorsed by lawyers—certainly by those employed.

However the legislative record may stand, there is one kind of work that few, if any, congressmen ever neglect—working their constituents.

Pendleton is building a new city hall at a cost of $35,000. Eugene should follow this good example, only raising it to about $50,000.

It may have been only a question of the full dinner pail in Multnomah county. Both Coffey and Cake got good majorities there.

One of the reasons some men are always ready to shout for a change is that they hope to get something out of it.

LOWER SIUSLAW NOTES OF GENERAL INTEREST

Mapleton school closed last Friday for a few weeks' vacation.

Fred Funke is erecting a building on his lot on Howard street near the Evangelican church.

The steamer Roscoe left Wednesday for Astoria, where she will have some repairing done.

The Roscoe went to Marshfield on Monday with a cargo of salt salmon and chittim bark and returned Tuesday morning.

Yesterday W. C. Purdin, of Fiddle creek, was taken before Justice Severy on a charge of catching trout with a net, which is contrary to law. A jury trial was held and a verdict of not guilty was rendered.

Carles Allen, who came here with his family from North Carolina a few weeks ago, has purchased S. B. Colvin's ranch on Whoahink lake, and moved his family over there last Monday. The price paid was $3500 for the ranch and stock. The papers from Mr. Allen's former home speak very highly of him and his family, and we are glad to have them locate here permanently.—The West.

MRS. CHARLES GILPIN.

Mrs. Gilpin is a beautiful and popular society woman of Philadelphia, and before her marriage she was Miss Frederica Berwind. Edward J. Berwind, the New York society man, is her uncle. When not participating in the social gayeties of New York, Newport or London, Mrs. Gilpin makes her home at her magnificent country place near Philadelphia.

WORK SECHEME THEY DENOUNCED AS ROBBERY

The morning paper has a transient fakir at work getting up a special page of advertisements for which it is charging $10 apiece. This is interesting only because a few weeks ago the same paper threw a dozen kinds of fits when The Guard printed a similar page, charging each advertiser $3.50. They called it robbery then to allow a transient solicitor to come in and take so much money out of town. Takes a good deal of cheek to go around and work the same kind of a scheme now—but cheek is the chief asset of the bunch who run the Morning Mummy.

LOST VALLEY NEWS

(Special Correspondence.)

Lost Valley, April 18.—About five hundred persons attended the Creswell District Sunday School convention held here April 5. There was a full attendance of delegates recorded, and our president kept things moving in his energetic way. The convention was a success in every way.

Mrs. Woods is visiting with Mrs. Wm. Williams this week.

E. R. Parker and family were visitors at Dexter convention day.

Miss Alta Williams was a passenger on the overland to Goshen one day last week.

R. W. Jacobs and family have moved their belongings to Pleasant Hill.

Rufus Wood has returned to June to reside.

A. F. Edwards is visiting relatives and friends here at present.

Mrs. R. L. Jacobs has moved to her farm at Zion.

Died—At the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Edwards, April 10, their daughter, Ethel, aged two years. The sorrowing father and mother have the sympathy of their many friends in their bereavement.

Mrs. A. J. Crusan and daughter, of Cloverdale were at Dexter visiting with Mrs. T. J. Crusan last week.

The primaries were very poorly attended here. Most people thought they woould allow the "other fellow" to nominate the candidates. That plan is all right, but those who do not attend the primaries should keep still if the ones they wished for are not nominated.

BEGIN NOW TO TREAT HAY FEVER.

April is the ideal time to begin to treat hay fever osteopathically in hope of warding off that scheduled attack next summer. Permanent cures are often accomplished by removing osteopathic lesions. Treatment should not be delayed until irritation of the mucous membranes of the eyes and nose has resulted. In early spring the predisposing cause may be treated alone without the handicap of having to combat the exciting cause also, as becomes the case later, when pollen is blowing.

Dr. H. L. Studley, osteopath, office over Chambers' Hardware store. Phone Black 1326. Residence, 734 Ferry street. Phone Red 3197.

MOTHER'S KITCHEN

Seventh and [illegible] streets, has opened under new management. Good board and room by the day, week or month. First-class home cooking. Chicken dinner every Sunday.
