was beautiful and for that we all were glad, as the idea of a very early Sunday is not at all pleasant. But just as the sun came out the air is after a shower; the apple-blossoms smell so much more fragrant, the maple trees look twice as green, and the birds sing happier than ever before.

Mrs. Lillian M. Miller was the charming and gracious hostess on Tuesday evening at an informal gathering given in honor of Mr. Henry Smith, of Portland, a senior member of the Portland Academy and son of the late Mr. Henry Smith. The evening was delightfully passed with games

THE COUNTESS OF SKIPWORTH.

The Countess of Skipworth is one of the most influential women in British society. Possessed of great wealth, she is also deeply interested in various charities and has done much for the poor children of London. She is rated as one of the most beautiful matrons in the nobility and is a close friend of the Princess of Wales.

and social chat. Mrs. Miller, assisted by her niece, Miss Eva Frazer, served dainty refreshments at a late hour. The guests of the evening were: The Misses Emma, Cora and Clara Wald, Helen Barber, Bertha Dorris, Edith Prescott, Elizabeth and Sybil Elliot, Frances Young, Kate Kelly, Madge Hamble, Eva Frazer, Helene Robinson and Mrs. Garfield Datson, Portland; the Messrs. Thos.

Miss Daisy Bell. The guests were: Misses Winnifred Cokerline, Hazel Humphrey, Clara Wald, Eva and Adah Allen, Helene Robinson; the Messrs. Burke Williams, Marean Hurd, Bert Schumaker, Sam Robinson, Starbuck, Ormond Bean and William Barker.

The yearly business meeting and supper of St. Mary's Episcopal church was held in the parish house on last Monday evening. At six o'clock about one hundred and twenty-five parishioners sat down to a bountiful supper served by the young ladies of the church. Following this supper the business meeting was held and the following vestrymen were elected for the ensuing year: Professor B. J. Hawthorne, Mr. George F. Crow, Dr. M. L. York, Mr. Frank C. S. Freeland and Mr. E. Smead. Of these vestrymen the following officers were chosen: Professor Hawthorne, senior warden; Mr. Crow, junior warden; Dr. York, clerk and treasurer. On Easter Sunday the sum of $450 was raised, which sum entirely clears the floating indebtedness of the parish.

Mrs. Darwin Bristow and Mrs. C. F. Littlefield invited guests to the home of the latter for an afternoon at needlework on Thursday. The large drawing room was daintily decorated with white clematis and apple blossoms. The hostess served a delicious luncheon late in the afternoon, assisted by the Misses Gratta Bristow, Winnifred Cokerline and Ina Watkins. The invited guests were: Mesdames W. F. Osburn, Mary Griffin, Geo. T. Hall, Sr., F. E. Chambers, Drew Griffin, S. F. Kerns, F. M. Wilkins, Herbert Condon (Seattle), J. L. Page, R. W. Newland, Emerson Fisher, Fannie Barzer, W. H. Alexander, H. C. Mahon, Frank Hampton, Wm. Kuykendall, H. E. Morris, T. G. Hendricks, W. C. Yoran, G. N. Frazer, Lawrence Watts (Athena, Or.), F. W. Prentice, James Woodruff, Gordon Fuller (Boston).

On last Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Alton Hampton was hostess to about fifteen guests at a kitchen shower party given in compliment to Miss Ethelyn Barbour. The shower was in the form of a culinary pie, each article being accompanied by a few lines of appropriate verse and a prize was given to Mrs. W. B. Pinkerton for the authorship of the cleverest lines. Miss Louise Yoran favored the guests with several vocal numbers during the course of the afternoon. The heart idea in the color scheme of pink and white was cleverly carried out both in the decorations and in the luncheon. Mrs. F. G. G. Schmitt and Miss Yoran assisted the hostess in serving a several-course luncheon.

The Ladies' Altar Society of the Catholic church gave a very enjoyable entertainment on last Monday evening in the parish hall. The first part of the evening was devoted to an apron auction and the serving of refreshments, the course of which was Easter eggs served in basket nests. The remainder of the evening was devoted to cards and dancing. The neat sum of $80 was netted by the society.

That is certainly a laudable step that the ladies of Eugene have taken in organizing themselves into a club for the purpose of lending assistance to the Commercial Club, both in welcoming newcomers and in matters pertaining to civic improvements.

Mrs. C. F. Littlefield and Mrs. Darwin Bristow entertained again today with an afternoon at whist at the Bristow home. The young ladies who assisted the hostess were the Misses Ruby Hendricks, Minnie Hawthorne, Mary Chambers, Gretta and Evelyn Bristow. The guests of the afternoon were: Mesdames J. W. Hobbs, B. J. Hawthorne, F. L. Chambers, L. T. Harris, Warner Brown, G. R. Chrisman, C. W. Lowe, George O. Yoran, F. W. Osburn, S. S. Spencer, R. S. Bryson, Julia Goldsmith, T. B. Luckey, Amos Williams, Edward Hampton, Henry Tromp, Richard Dearborn, Wm. Preston, C. S. Freeland, D. P. Patterson, Walter Griffin, L. H. Bingham, E. O. Potter, James Hayes (Baker City), J. B. Pratt, A. Irvin (Salem), John Kelly and Miss Mary Berger.

On Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Charles H. Fisher pleasantly entertained about twenty of her friends at her home, 566 Charnelton street, in honor of her sister, Mrs. E. McBroome, of Chehalis, Wash. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. W. L. Cheshire and the afternoon was devoted to needlework and guessing games, the prize being awarded to Mrs. Collier. Luncheon was served late in the afternoon.

On Thursday evening of this week Mrs. I. F. Campbell gave an informal party in honor of Henry Smith, a senior in the Portland Academy, but spending a week's vacation with the hostess. The guests assembled early in the evening, and after spending some time in enjoyable conversation the guests betook themselves to the dining room, where games were played and delicious ice cream and chocolate creams were served. The guests present were Misses Mary and Ensel Barker, Hazel Huff, Eva Frazer, Pauline Potter, Beatrice Hale, Clara Meredith, Louise Allen; Messrs. Henry Smith, Jack and Cogswell Campbell and Franklin Allen.

Mrs. A. L. Peter entertained the Priscilla Club in a charming manner last Thursday. As is customary the afternoon was spent with needlework and cards, after which the hostess served a tempting three-course luncheon. The dining table was beautifully decorated with trailing white clematis and white lilies. Mrs. Peter had as special guests Mrs. Geo. H. Smith, Mrs. Lloyd E. Bellman and Mrs. Russell Welch. A few friends of Mr. and Mrs. Peter were also entertained, informally in the evening. On May 8 the club meets with Mrs. Geo. H. Smith.

At Cottage Grove. A most enjoyable afternoon was spent by the ladies at Mrs. D. H. Hemenway's Easter party Friday, April 17. The ladies displayed their artistic ability by painting Easter eggs, which was greatly enjoyed. After a social time they were invited to the dining room, where three long tables were beautifully decorated in yellow and white. The luncheon was served in courses and was most dainty. The hostess was assisted in serving by Mrs. Rouse and Miss Frances Howard.

Those present and invited were: Mesdames W. H. Abrams, J. H. Chambers, Geo. Hall, Marion Veatch, H. H. Veatch, James Hemenway, B. R. Job, L. O. Goodman, C. P. Jones, L. A. Briggs, J. S. Medley, D. J. ALICE M'GREGOR, A BEAUTIFUL MODEL.
Miss McGregor, who is a favorite model with New York and Philadelphia artists, bears a strong resemblance to Evelyn Nesbit. They, Miss McGregor is even more strikingly beautiful than Mrs. Nesbit. Artists declare that her neck and shoulders are almost perfectly formed. She is a brunette with a rich olive complexion, and her features are of the Grecian type.
