MONDAY, APRIL 27, 1908

I'm weary of false prophets crying
Their wicked, inscrutable lies;
While thousands of helpless are dying
As Mammon's and Greed's sacrifice.
I long for the day and the hour
When Greed shall be flung from the throne;
When man in his right and his power
Again shall step into his own.

I'm weary, but duty is calling,
And only the sluggard will shirk
The tasks that are set are appalling,
But honor says simply, "Go work."
I long for the woods in their beauty,
But over the call that they give,
I hear the stern calling of duty
That bids me be worthy to live.

—Will M. Maupin.

EUGENE TO BE BEST PAVED CITY IN NORTHWEST

Eugene will by the end of the year be the best paved city in the Northwest—a distinction that should centreupon it the attention of well-informed investors in city real estate, because paved streets stand for progressiveness and permanency. Twenty-one blocks, about two and a quarter miles, will have been completed by the middle of June, and it is quite likely that this will be increased to forty blocks or more, if the wishes of a majority of the property-owners are carried out.

The Warren Construction Company is not only rushing their work along, because of the plentiful supply of labor this year, but are also doing splendid work, and are putting down pavement that is first-class in every particular. This fact is a good argument in making a practically complete job of paving the principal streets now, while the construction company is so well prepared to do it quickly and well. Money well expended is permanent improvements is the best investment a property owner can make, and some of those who have objected most strenuously to the expense of paving at this time will before long be pointing with pride to our splendid streets and bowing of the enterprise of the community in setting an example that every important town in Western Oregon is already preparing to follow.

JUNCTION PAPER FEELING PRETTY SORE

The Junction City Times is not satisfied with the result of the Republican primaries, as the following editorial remarks tend to indicate:

"Four years ago, when the Times opposed the adoption of the primary law, we cited the fact that it was possible for Eugene to secure every place on the ticket. Only two elections have been held under the primary law, and the truthfulness of our statement is already manifest. 'Tis true Mr. Price resides outside, but the place would probably have been lost had a Eugene man desired the place. But what's the use of kicking against the goad stick. There is no redress for outside precincts. Better men are in the future, under the primary law, and you may as well take your medicine. Recollect you voted for this law to 'down the bosses.' Now stand up for it."

"In the jumble of ballots we thought that the powers that be would give the one place asked by North Lane on the county ticket. Mr. Edwards was defeated right in Eugene where we expected a more generous consideration at the hands of Republicans. Surely the farming interests were entitled to representation."

* * *

An Iowa paper has the following in reference to the results attending upon the adoption of the much vaunted parcels post plan of doing business: "We would like to see one Iowa county settled entirely by the mail order people and see what would happen. The stores would stand it as long as they could, then move away. Banks would close their doors. The newspapers would have to quit. The hotels would go out of business, the mechanics would move away, schools and churches would dwindle, sidewalks go to wreck, buildings would become vacant, unpainted and dilapidated, strangers would take one look and flee. Isn't that precisely what would happen if an entire county were populated with people who bought everything in Chicago? Who would buy a farm located where he couldn't drive to some sort of a town? A sane man wouldn't take such land at half price. Be a friend to your home town, Mr. Farmer, and it will be a friend to you."

A South Dakota editor eloped with another man's wife and the people of his town tried to lynch him when he was brought back. But it is chronicled that when they found out the injured husband was a delinquent subscriber and had refused his paper at the postoffice, they let the editor out of jail and presented him with a gold watch.

As an academic question, those with nothing better to do may discuss the idea of getting recruits for the army by conscription, but it is certain that members of congress that enacted a conscription law in time of peace would find mighty hard sledding at home.

Magnates of the paper trust must find it difficult not to laugh right out in meeting every time they think of the things the house committee of six, provided for by the Cannon resolution, will do to them in that recess probing.

Doubtless Castro does need a good spanking, but if Uncle Sam undertakes to administer it care should be taken to see that no dynamite is concealed in the seat of his trousers.

Though they are not saying so, some politicians are acting as though they favored confining the fight against trusts to those which will not chip in.

Bury I. Dasent has been engaged as official booster for Albany. Dasent belies his name, and is really a daring fellow to undertake a job like that.

Tom Watson has at least one advantage over other candidates—he doesn't have to deny that his campaign is being financed by some plutocrats.

Medford has a 25,000 population club. They will have to go some to reach that mark in the five years set for doing it.

NEWS NOTES FROM FLORENCE AND VICINITY

The school at Point Terrace opend Monday morning with Miss Alfreda Lindgren at the helm.

The schooner Mayflower arrived here Wednesday from San Francisco, and brought in some freight for the merchants. She will take out a cargo of lumber.

Joe Stear, of Mapleton, went to Eugene, the first of the week to take the examination for appointment as forest ranger.

A. A. Miner, of Acme, is among the Siuslaw men who are attending the forest ranger examinations in Eugene this week.

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Beach started Monday for a trip to Eugene, where Mr. Beach will take the examination for forest ranger.

Mr. and Mrs. Hasbrouk arrived at Point Terrace Saturday from Aurelia, Iowa, and will probably take up their abode here. They are the parents of Mrs. E. W. Johnson.

Several months ago Martin Nolfsinger, of Acme, received an order to build two launches for use in the government forestry service. The engines for these launches arrived here a few days ago and are now being placed in the boats. —The West.

He Got What He Needed.

"Nine years ago it looked as if my time had come," says C. Farthing, of Mill Creek, Ind. "For I was so run down that life hung on a very slender thread. It was then that my druggist recommended Electric Bitters. I bought a bottle and I got what I needed—strength. I had one foot in the grave, but Electric Bitters put it back on the earth and I've been well ever since." Sold under guarantee at W. A. Kuykendall's drug store. 50c.

THE PRINCE OF MONACO.

In addition to being the owner of Monte Carlo, the greatest gambling place in the world, Prince Albert of Monaco is an author and a distinguished scientist. In fact, he is a man of many accomplishments. What he does not know of the wonders and secrets of the sea is hardly worth study, for he has written four books on oceanographic subjects. He is also a student of aerial navigation and has designed two airships.

Death Was on His Heels.

Jesse P. Morris, of Skippers, Va., had a close call in the spring of 1906. He says: "An attack of pneumonia left me so weak and with such a fearful cough that my friends declared consumption had me, and that death was on my heels. Then I was persuaded to try Dr. King's New Discovery. It helped me immediately, and after taking two and a half bottles I was a well man again. I found out that New Discovery is the best remedy for coughs and lung diseases in the world." Sold under guarantee at W. A. Kuykendall's drug store. 50c and $1. Trial bottles free.

BEGIN NOW TO TREAT HAY FEVER.

April is the ideal time to begin to treat hay fever osteopathically in hope of warding off that scheduled attack next summer. Permanent cures are often accomplished by removing osteopathic lesions. Treatment should not be delayed until irritation of the mucous membranes of the eyes and nose has resulted. In early spring the predisposing cause may be treated alone without the handicap of having to combat the exciting cause also, as becomes the case later, when pollen is blowing.

Dr. H. L. Studley, osteopath, office over Chambers' Hardware store. Phone Black 1326. Residence, 724 Ferry street. Phone Red 3197.

GET BERTHS EARLY

Those who intend going to the fleet celebration at San Francisco May 2, 3 and 4 are requested to apply for berths at once so that they will be able to get them. If enough signify their intention of going from Eugene a Pullman car will probably be set out here so that those going may retire early and save the trouble of getting up in the middle of the night to catch the train.

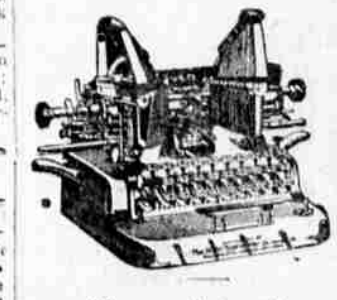
MASTER STROKE OF TYPEWRITER INVENTION



The new Automatic
TABULATOR
A twin improvement to the Oliver Ruling device.

Just a clean-cut mechanism for TABULATING, operated by a single key.

Yet that single key unlocks scores of doors to added typewriter convenience. It does away with the brain-tension of TABULATING. The movements of the carriage are controlled by unseen fingers. The TABULATOR works automatically with unvarying accuracy.

The Oliver Tabulator and Ruling Device supplement each other, now on the No. 5, Oliver without a cent of additional charge.
