SERIOUS MISTAKE TO HAMPER UNIVERSITY

The Daily Astorian discusses the U. of O. appropriation and the referendum movement of the Linn county grange as follows:

"It is all very well to be careful of the public funds in this day of extravagance and graft, but legitimate ends must be served with a liberality that, at least, will not cripple them, nor disparage them at the crucial moment of their highest faculty for public service. 'Watchdogs' have been known to overdo the thing, time and again, to the utter negation of the real good for which they were put in place, or which they assumed to guard; and we are inclined to think that the Linn county grange is working its stunt to a degree that will leave the state of Oregon cheapened and discredited if it is to have its way with these appropriations.

"Oregon grows apace; the years and the people, and her own amplified future, are demanding more of her than was essential in the old and early days, and on these especial lines she must range along with the states of her size and class and do her best and full duty by her sons and daughters, as well as by the country at large. It will not do to stop at the dollar-marke every time it is hoisted aloft by some narrow prejudice or chill conservatism. As we shall provide for our young, so shall they honor and protect the land when the crises of their day shall arise; and we have no right to fore-shorten the spirit or capacity wherewith they shall go at it."

EARTH IS HOLLOW, SAYS MR. TEED

A fellow by the name of Teed has developed a new idea, or rather an old one in a new garb. He thinks the earth is hollow and that the entrance is at the North Pole. But the question that is bothering him is how to get to the North Pole. Teed is not the only individual who has been bothering his head on this subject for the past century or more, but the most of his predecessors who have grown gray in trying to solve this complex problem and had no idea that when they reached the north axis of the earth the ywould find a great hole serving as an entrance to the interior of the whirling sphere.

According to an article in a recent number of the San Francisco Bulletin, Teed thinks the explorers of the past, by confining their attention to the rim of the earth, have been shirking their duty. Teed doesn't propose to let error have its way any longer. To his mind humanity, as we know it, is but the "curst of society." Surface indications do not satisfy him; he wants to know the "real inside." Hence the organization of the Teed Hollow Earth Exploring Club, which is going to seek a side entrance where the North Pole is supposed to be just as soon as Professor Teed can raise the money to fit out an expedition.

It is an attractive theory—too bad it is a dream. Every day the need of a hollow earth becomes more apparent. Almost any millionaire will admit that the outside is getting overcrowded. What an advantage it would be to go inside instead of jumping off! Let us hope that if Mr. Teed doesn't find the hole he will bore one.

Some of the Eugene ladies came to Albany last week to do their shopping. The people of the valley appreciate the fine line of goods our merchants carry.—Albany Democrat.

It seems that one of the ladies who attended the Epworth League convention bought a handkerchief in a dry goods store there, and the presence of a stranger in his store was so unusual that the excited proprietor at once notified the newspaperman, giving him the first [illegible] item he had printed in a month. In the circumstances the exaggerated report of the occurrence is pardonable.

Do you know what the legend "Made in Germany" did for the fatherland? It called the attention of the civilized world to the fact that Germany was enlarging her factories and branching out into new lines of industry. The label "Made in Oregon" used as conspicuously on home-made goods will do a like service for this state. If you are manufacturing anything, label it "Made in Oregon."

Surely that $163,000,000 pension bill reported to the senate ought to make the jingoes go slow in talking up another war. Just think what a howl would greet a new proposition for an annual tax of $2 a head on the entire population.

And now political wiseacres have discovered that the reason why President Roosevelt wishes Secretary Taft elected as his successor is because Secretary Taft has promised to make him superintendent of the Panama canal construction.

DeSagan's devotion to a pretty girl while crossing the Atlantic is taken by some of his fellow passengers as evidence that he is not yet married. The world, however, will draw an opposite conclusion from the same premise.

The Ancient Order of Hibernians didn't seem to have their senatorial "pull" on straight, as the arbitration treaty with Great Britain, which it sent a delegation to Washington to oppose, has been ratified by the senate.

According to the railroad magnates the proper way to bring back prosperity is to hoist the freight rates. This recalls the man who charged $2 each for sandwiches because he "needed the money."

An Alabama editor has announced that he will fish this summer with nothing but artificial flies. Are we to understand that prohibition has cut off his customary fishing accompaniment?

It will be noticed that the gentlemen who are claiming that the presidential business is all over but the shouting for their man, are still hustling as hard as members of a football team.

J. Thoburn Ross and State Treasurer Steel are such good friends that it would be positive cruelty to separate them by sending only one to the penitentiary.

Well, anyway, the short men whose girls wear cart-wheel hats will not have to carry umbrellas this summer to preserve their complexions.

THE OWNERS OF THE UNIVERSE

Let us corner up the sunbeams
Lying all around our path;
Get a trust on wheat and roses,
Give the poor the thorns and chaff;
Let us find our chiefest pleasure
Hoarding bounties of today,
So the poor shall have scant measure
And two prices have to pay.

Yes, we'll reservoir the rivers,
And we'll levy on the lakes,
And we'll lay a trifling poll-tax
On each poor man who partakes;
We will brand this number on him
That he'll carry through his life;
We'll apprentice all his children,
Get a mortgage on his wife.

We will capture e'en the wind-god
And confine him in a cave;
And then, through our patent process,
We the atmosphere will save;
Thus we'll squeeze our little brother
When he tries his lungs to fill,
Put a meter on his wind-pipe
And present our little bill.

We will syndicate the starlight,
And monopolize the moon,
Claim a royalty on rest days,
A proprietary noon;
For right-of-way through ocean's spray
We'll charge just what its worth.
We'll drive our stakes around the lakes,
In fact, we'll own the earth.
—Exchange.

FARMERS ARE ENJOINED.

(Ida Grove, (Iowa) Pioneer.)

Between sixty and seventy Ida county farmers who bought the so-called Economy cream separators from the Sears, Roebuck & Co. mail order house, have been notified by the United States circuit court of appeals that the machine is an infringement, and that they must not use them.

The Chicago mail order concern sold a seperator they called the Economy, but the Vermont cream separator asks for an injunction on the ground that Sears, Roebuck & Co had infringed on and stolen their machine. The court granted the injunction holding the Economy to be an infringement and issued an order restraining the mail order fakirs from [illegible] or selling any more of the machines.

At the same time the court ordered Sears, Roebuck & Co. to bring their books into court showing to whom they sold the separators, and these purchasers are now being notified that they must not use them.

The best way is to buy goods at home and then you know what you are getting.

AN ENGLISH JOKE ON THE PRESIDENT.

This amusing photograph of President Roosevelt on board a "ship of the desert" was made in London and reproduced in Sketch. The paper humorously referred to it as a snapshot taken while the president was on one of his hunting trips. It is not, however, a matter of record that Mr. Roosevelt ever rode a camel. The fact is that Sketch's artist took a photograph of President Roosevelt on horseback and substituted a patient camel for the horse. Mr Roosevelt laughed even more heartily when he saw the picture than the likeness itself shows.

MOHAIR MARKET IN DEPRESSED CONDITION

The mohair market continues in a very depressed condition. Because of the absence of demand in the east, local dealers have further reduced their bids to 18 to 18½c. Buying is slow at this price. Conditions in the east are thus described in the Boston Commercial Bulletin in its latest issue:

There is not even a ripple to disturb the calm placidity of a market absolutely without activity. Business is almost at a standstill, for manufacturers are not receiving orders for goods, while at the same time it is understood that they have substantial stocks of hair still unused in their mills. However, prices show no material change, although quotations are only nominal in the absence of actual trading.

Foreign advices state that Bradford is flat, with nothing doing. Cape firsts have been freely offered for sale, but no business resulted. It is considered uncertain when improvement in the situation will be noticeable.

In Constantinople values are being held in abeyance, owing to the lack of activity, while Cape firsts are especially depressed.

Hair is still arriving at the primary American markets, but eastern dealers are displaying little or no interest in the arrivals. At the present time there is a variance between prices wanted by growers and those dealers are willing to pay.

IRVING ITEMS

(Special Correspondence.)

Irving, April 28.—M. P. Withers has been quite ill, but is some better today.

James Offutt, of Eugene, came down to Irving today to look after the orchard planted by George Midgley.

Mrs. J. M. Kitchen returned home from Harrisburg Saturday, where she has been visiting for several weeks.

Miss Lillian E. Beckley is contemplating returning to Chicago in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Maxwell expect to attend the fleet celebration at San Francisco.

Charles Gershach is the possessor of a fine new buggy which he purchased of R. Cook.

Miss Florence Runyon and Miss Livia Bond spent Sunday in Irving.

Henry Marvin is reported on the sick list this week.

Mrs. Smith, of Santa Clara, was in Irving Tuesday afternoon.

GET BERTHS EARLY

Those who intend going to the fleet celebration at San Francisco May 2, 3 and 4 are requested to apply for berths at once so that they will be able to get them. If enough signify their intention of going from Eugene a Pullman car will probably be set out here so that those going may retire early and save the trouble of getting up in the middle of the night to catch the train.

Doctrinal Discussion.

There will be a discussion in Fairmount hall, Eugene, beginning next Monday evening at 8 o'clock, sharp, between J. H. Moore, of the Church of Christ, and W. H. Nosler, Baptist, when the following subjects will be debated:

1. "Does the Bible teach that baptism in water to a penitent believer is for—in order to—the remission of past sins."

J. H. Moore affirms; W. H. Nosler denies.

2. "Does the Bible teach that a child of God will persevere until he finally reacheth heaven?"

W. H. Nosler affirms; J. H. Moore denies.
