PAT CALHOUN FIGHTS TO KEEP FROM TESTIFYING

San Francisco, April 29.—To save himself from the stigma of taking refuge behind the ground that it would tend to incriminate me, Patrick Calhoun, president of the United Railroads, is battling today to prevent being placed on the stand in the trial of his subordinate, Tires L. Ford, on a charge of bribery.

The prosecution sprung its sensational card when, after an ineffectual effort to find Thornwell Mullaly, Calhoun's assistant, it placed Calhoun on the witness stand.

As Calhoun took his seat the defense objected to the witness being questioned. This was overruled by the state and Calhoun was compelled to remain on the stand. He refused to answer the first direct question put to him and then requested permission to make an explanation for declining to answer. The attorneys then engaged in a heated argument to decide whether Calhoun could refuse to answer under some other plea than that it might tend to degrade him.

Upon taking the stand Calhoun gave his residence as New York, San Francisco, South Carolina, Georgia and Cleveland, Ohio. After giving his true name he was asked: "When did you come to San Francisco after April 18, 1905?"

The defense objected and Calhoun refused to answer, following his declaration with a request to be permitted to explain.

Special Prosecutor Heney, who had entered the court room shortly after Calhoun took the stand, whispered to Assistant District Attorney O'Gara that there should be but one reason and after O'Gara had objected to the request, Attorney A. A. Moore, for the defense, jumped into the fray, declaring that Calhoun was called to the stand practically to be a witness against himself, and that the defense had a right to argue as to whether or not he should be called as a witness.

After a long argument Judge Lawlor decided that he would draw his own inference from the tendency of the questions put to Calhoun, and should the witness decline to answer and the court sustain his declaration, the witness could not be permitted to give his reason for his refusal to answer. This was acceded to by both sides. Calhoun then addressed the court, an unusual proceeding, although he is an attorney. He declared that he fully stood on his constitutional rights to refuse to answer if pressed by the prosecution, and admitted that should he be sustained by the court in his refusal he had no right to announce his reason. He offered, however, to make a statement of his attendance as a witness, but this the court declined to hear.

Late this afternoon Calhoun will again be placed on the stand and interrogated.

Calhoun Goes on Stand.
The court then acceded to the defense request that the matter of calling Calhoun be argued. Moore held that the calling of Calhoun was virtually calling a co-defendant to testify against himself. He declared that the real purpose of placing Ford on the stand for the third time was to compel Calhoun to give evidence against himself, and to give his defense in advance of his case. He denounced the prosecution's action as the greatest outrage ever perpetrated before any court, and declared that Calhoun never feared the issue and has always been anxious to go to trial.

O'Gara combated the argument, after which the court ordered that Calhoun must take the stand. Court adjourned until 3 o'clock.

HOW WOMEN WOULD VOTE IF THEY HAD RIGHT

The following letter from Mrs. Dunniway, the "mother of the woman suffrage movement in Oregon," is self-explanatory.

Portland, Or., April 23, 1908.
President Campbell, of Oregon State University, Eugene, Oregon.

Dear Sir and Friend:—The undersigned, as one of the large majority of mothers of Oregon, desires to express a hope that the appropriation voted to our State University at the last session of the legislative assembly may be confirmed by the electorate at large.

"Of one thing the mothers of Oregon are certain, and that is that if they could vote, no son or daughter of theirs would be compelled to go away from home to complete a higher education.

"Will you not bring this fact to the attention of the prominent men and women of our beloved University town and ask them while voting such of them as can) for the appropriation they seek to remember also to vote for the equal right of mothers to vote upon every vital question at every election to be held hereafter?"

Respectfully yours for education and liberty,
"ABIGAIL SCOTT DUNNIWAY."

JAPAN SENDS SHIPS TO COERGE CHINA

Pekin, April 29.—Claiming that its presence has no significance and that the visit is purely friendly, another Japanese cruiser squadron has arrived in Chinese waters. The Chinese do not accept protestations of friendship and say that the real purpose of the visit is to frighten China into abandoning the anti-Japanese boycott, which continues to spread. The people are furious and are making threats of all sorts.

The squadron, consisting of four cruisers, has dropped anchor at Ching Wank Tao, near Taku.

The viceroys at Canton advised the Japanese admiral to bring his ships to Canton, fearing that their presence would cause trouble, but the squadron will visit Canton anyhow.

Admirals Ijima and Tongaki have arrived here with their staffs and will be received by the dowager empress on Friday.

BIG CIRCUS HERE
NEXT SATURDAY

During the engagement of Norris & Rowe's circus in San Francisco the past winter, which extended over a period of thirty days, they played to 279,873 paid admissions. Never before under one tent have so many good clowns been seen. There are over 200 circus champions with the circus; most of them are of European reputation and all stars in their respective lines. There are 550 persons with the show and over 350 beautiful horses. It requires forty double-length cars to transport it from city to city. By arrangement the Norris & Rowe circus will be the only big show to visit this section this year. A grand street parade, which is said to be a new and novel one, will take place on the morning of the exhibition at 10 o'clock, rain or shine.

The greater Norris & Rowe circus will exhibit at Eugene Saturday, May 2.

Hot Stove—Cool Kitchen

How do you expect to endure the hot days of summer if you persist all the time over a glowing coal fire?

You need a "New Perfection" Oil Stove that will do the cooking without cooking the cook. It consumes a plenty of heat under the spot and diffuses heat of more through the room. Therefore, when working with the

NEW PERFECTION
Wick Blue Flame Oil Cook-Stove

the kitchen actually seems as comfortable as you could wish it to be.

This, in itself, is wonderful, but, more than that, the "New Perfection" Oil Stove does perfectly everything that any stove can do. It is an ideal all-round cook-stove. Made in three sizes, and fully warranted. If not with your dealer, write our nearest agency.

The Rayo Lamp
a substantial, strongly made and handsome lamp. Burns for hours with a strong, mellow light. Just what you need for evening reading or to light the dining-room. If not with your dealer, write our nearest agency.
