

ELEVEN LIVES LOST IN STEAM SCHOONER WRECK NEAR NEWPORT

Newport, Or., May 4.—The steam schooner Minnie E. Kelton, from Aberdeen, Wash., for San Francisco, Captain McKenna, met with disaster near this port during a severe storm Friday night. The deckload shifted and strained the vessel until she sprung a bad leak. On Saturday a big wave struck the vessel and washed the deck load and cabin overboard, leaving the vessel waterlogged and unmanageable, with the deck awash. Eleven of the crew were drowned while an attempt was made to launch a boat. Four succeeded in getting out a raft in an endeavor to reach the shore near Otter Rock, fifteen miles from here. Three of the men were washed overboard and the survivor sustained a broken leg.

The life-saving crew of this port took nine men off the vessel and landed them near Otter Rock. The Minnie Kelton is loaded with lumber, and when last seen had been picked up by another schooner going north. As soon as the news of the disaster reached here the life-saving crew of Yaquina Bay station left for the scene. After a trip fraught with great danger the crew reached the vessel and succeeded in rescuing nine men who remained on the vessel. The lifeboats put ashore twenty miles north of Newport. The known lost are as follows: Chief Engineer Lund, Oiler Walter Peterson, Fireman Barney McVey, Steward A. Peterson, and Robert R. Little and Geo. Johnson, cabin boys. The injured: A. J. Neilson, broken leg; rescued.

THAW'S FIGHT FOR FREEDOM HAS BEEN COMMENCED

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., May 4.—Thaw's fight for liberty and release from the Mattewan state hospital for criminal insane was taken up in the supreme court today, based on a writ of habeas corpus issued by Justice Morschauer at White Plains April 22 and made returnable before him today. Young Mrs. Thaw has offered to appear in behalf of her husband, from whom she is seeking a divorce, if her testimony is necessary in the proceedings. Thaw will undoubtedly go on the stand in his own behalf. His counsel says he is willing to submit to any examination the court or district attorney may desire to show proof of sanity. His counsel will oppose any effort to have the case transferred to New York county. District Attorney Mack, of Dutchess county, moved that the trial be transferred to New York because of the expense which it would inflict upon the county of Dutchess, about $30,000. Assistant District Attorney Garvan that the trial would involve the sending of commissioners to Paris.

Monte Carlo and other places in Europe to obtain evidence of Thaw's sanity, and argued that the case should be concluded under the jurisdiction where it originated. Attorney Graham, for Thaw, argued that the case should be tried in the judicial district where the habeas corpus was made returnable, and that the statement of the proceedings had been exaggerated; that the function of the New York district attorney ended with the murder trial. The New York district attorney could appear only by courtesy of the court, and not the Dutchess county district attorney. Judge Morschauer denied the motion to transfer the hearing, but offered to sit in New York to hear the people's testimony if both sides were in consent. After the relator's side is heard Judge Morschauer will sit in New York to accommodate Jerome. Adjourning to May 11 was announced, and Thaw was taken to the county jail in charge of the sheriff, where he will be able to have meals from the outside and receive any visitors he wishes to see.

ELEVEN DEAD IN FORT WAYNE HOTEL FIRE

HOLOCAUST IN INDIANA TOWN EARLY YESTERDAY MORNING—STRUCTURE WAS OLD WOODEN ONE BUILT FIFTY YEARS AGO—DOZENS SERIOUSLY INJURED

Fort Wayne, Ind., May 4.—The death toll in the New Avellina hotel fire has reached eleven known dead and several unaccounted for. Of the dozens seriously injured by burns or leaping from the burning building all are doing well except E. M. Matthews, of Columbus, O., whose death is expected at any time. The fire department, the police and two companies of militia are aided by many laborers, who worked through the night searching the ruins. The number of deaths cannot be determined until the debris is completely searched.

Fort Wayne, Ind., May 3.—Fire destroyed the new Avellina Hotel, Fort Wayne's principal hostelry, at an early hour today. The entire interior of the building is a smouldering heap of ruins, and now many dead are concealed beneath the debris can only be conjectured. The complete destruction of the interior of the hotel makes the work of recovering bodies a difficult task. A confused heap of charred wood, bricks and twisted girders is piled up between the bare walls to the second story. Piece by piece this must be removed before the roll of the dead can be completed. Some of the bodies taken out are mangled and charred beyond recognition. The fire was discovered at 3:30 o'clock this morning in the elevator shaft by Night Clerk Ralph Hopkins. He rushed to the upper floors alarming the guests, until the flames, which had spread with alarming activity,

ALDERMAN AND EATON TALK TO THE GRANGERS

Albany, Or., May 3.—"Hearing the lion in his den" was the experience yesterday of Allen H. Eaton, representative from Lane county, author of the University of Oregon appropriation bill, who addressed the Lin county council in defense of the appropriation. Eaton spoke in defense of the appropriation and was assisted by Professor L. R. Ackerman, of Eugene, president of the University of Oregon alumni, Eugene Palmer and Cyrus H. Walker, who have been the leaders in the referendum movement, spoke in support of the effort to defeat the appropriation. The Lin county council met with Oak Plain grange near Shedd's in a public meeting notable in that the leaders of both the support and opponents of the University appropriation were present. The entire afternoon was given over to this measure. The two Eugene men were present for the discussion upon the invitation of the grange. Representative Eaton was the first speaker and gave in detail the needs of the University of Oregon, the causes for the increased appropriation and what the money will be expended for. He was followed by Professor Alderman, who spoke in general upon the expense of higher education, and the needs of the University in particular, and told of the injurious effects which would follow if the referendum on the appropriation should be sustained. Following these arguments Eugene Palmer spoke in defense of the referendum movement, and Cyrus H. Walker followed him. Both speakers asserted that the movement was not particularly against the University, but was in general check of excessive appropriations and the means by which they were secured in the legislature. The morning session of the council was devoted to grange business, and some important action was taken. The Lin county delegation to the state grange was instructed not to bring the question of the University appropriation before the state grange unless forced to do so.
