CAKE ADDRESSES LARGE AUDIENCE IN EUGENE

DR. PAINE INTRODUCES HIM AS A ROOSEVELT REPUBLICAN—INDULGED IN NO PERSONALITIES AND DID NOT ATTEMPT TO DODGE ANY OF THE ISSUES

H. M. Cake, of Portland, Republican candidate for United States senator, delivered a good address to the voters of Eugene and vicinity at the Eugene theatre last night in the interests of his candidacy. Immediately at the conclusion of the grange reception at the armory the Eugene Military band began playing in front of the theatre and soon there was a large crowd assembled. By the time of the beginning of the meeting the lower floor was well filled and there were quite a number on the upper floors.

Seated upon the platform were a number of prominent citizens of this community. Dr. D. A. Paine introduced Mr. Cake, and in doing so said:

"There are many who call themselves Roosevelt Republicans, but there is no such thing, for Roosevelt is a Republican, and the best kind of one. I want to introduce to you a Roosevelt Republican, the kind of man we want in the United States senate. I take pleasure in introducing Hon. H. M. Cake, of Portland."

Almost simultaneously with the closing of his remarks a little girl stepped from behind the curtains, bearing a huge cake, on which were inscribed the words, "Our Cake for Senator." Mr. Cake accepted the present, though it took him completely by surprise, and thanked the little girl.

Mr. Cake was greeted with applause on his appearance and the audience was evidently in hearty sympathy and accord with him from the opening of his remarks. He indulged in no personalities nor did he attempt to dodge any of the issues of the campaign. He is apparently not the kind of a man to retreat from a position once taken.

A feature of his speech that is decidedly worth considering was the emphasis he placed on "Why should this Republican state send a Democrat back to the United States senate, a strictly political position? It is claimed by those seeking the election of a Democrat that there is no difference between the Republican and Democratic parties today; therefore vote for the man. It is a fallacy, a sophistry sought for the purpose of putting the Democratic party in power instead of the Republicans."

Mr. Cake outlined the history of the two parties, and in speaking to those who believe that the man himself should be considered showed no hesitancy to let himself be compared with his opponent. He showed no bitterness to his opponent, nor did he utter a word that might be construed as an attack upon him.

Grand Master Buxton, of Forest Grove, spoke in response to the welcome extended by Mayor Matlock and Judge Harris. Mrs. Clara B. Waldo, state lecturer for the grange, delivered a short address and she was followed by Professor L. R. Alderman, superintendent of Eugene's public schools, on "How to Make Country Life All that It Should Be." This was illustrated with lantern slides and was very interesting. At the close of his address it was announced that the theatres had extended an invitation to all delegates to visit the shows free of charge, their badges being equivalent to the price of admission.

At the close of the meeting the grange voted to send to President Roosevelt a message of commendation for his action toward conserving the forests of the country.

Equal Suffrage Resolution. Following in the resolution adopted at yesterday's session on equal suffrage, this being the first resolution passed by the 35th annual session of the grange:

Whereas, The Patrons of Husbandry recognized the natural equality rights as existing between the sexes when placing its members, men and women, on terms of equality in every position of honor and trust within its jurisdiction; and

Whereas, The National Grange has placed on record a resolution affirming and reaffirming its belief in the enfranchisement of women; and

Whereas, The state of Oregon has an equal rights constitutional amendment now pending, which, being non-political, non-partisan and non-sectarian, comes properly within the jurisdiction of this body; therefore be it

Resolved, That we, in annual convention assembled, reaffirm our allegiance to the principle involved in said amendment, and are proud to reiterate our former denunciation in favor of its adoption.

MARTIN WORE WOLFF'S COAT WHEN HE WAS ARRESTED

Portland, May 13.—When arrested a week ago today Edward H. Martin wore an Oxford gray cravenette raincoat which has been identified as apparel worn by Nathan Wolff when he left home the day he was murdered. By far this is the best evidence held by the state in its prosecution of Martin for the murder of the money lender, and its importance overshadows the bloody shirt, which until last night was regarded as the most clinching evidence against the soldier, lawyer, drug-friend prisoner.

After traversing the entire city Detective Tichenor and Howell secured positive identification of the raincoat last evening, a clerk with Ben Selling pointing to the garment as apparel bought from him by Wolff last February. Later the widow of the murdered man identified the coat as having been worn by her husband either the day before or the day of his murder, and the oldest child of the Wolff family said, when shown the garment:

"That's papa's coat." The hanging band and the tags of the manufacturer and haberdasher being torn from the coat, its identification was at first regarded as a task which would take many days to complete, but when the coat reached the store of Ben Selling, at Fourth and Morrison streets, its identification was prompt. Selling happens to be the only haberdasher in Portland who handles cravenettes of the texture of the incriminating coat, and Edward U. Eubanks, a salesman with Selling, remembered the purchase of the coat by Wolff on February 1. This date and purchase is corroborated by Wolff's diary, wherein mention is made of the purchase of the apparel.

A. T. BUXTON RE-ELECTED MASTER OF GRANGE

bill should be initiated unless it first goes to the legislature an order that publicity be given it, so that the people will have a better understanding of its no remuneration should be allowed for securing names for the initiative petitions; a majority vote should be necessary to make an amendment. He recommended state control of water rights, a subject of importance to the grangers. State Engineer Lewis is expected here during the week to speak on that subject. He also favored the accounting system for all public officials and education on denatured alcohol. In his report Master Buxton stated that there are in round numbers 8000 members of the grange in the state and 123 granges. The two largest granges are Evening Star and the one at Russellville, both in Multnomah county, with a membership of 391 and 175 respectively.

H. Hirschberg, treasurer of the state grange, made his annual report, showing the condition of funds to be as follows on May 8, 1908: May 23, 1907, balance on hand, $6374.48; received during year, $4635.55; total receipts, $11,010.03; disbursed during the year, $5642.70; balance on hand, $5367.33.

At yesterday's session resolutions as follows were introduced and referred to committees: Opposing the single tax; favoring the right of recall; favoring a national highway commission; favoring state control of water rights and opposing the Reddy bill, which would give municipalities the right to make their own charters.

Yesterday afternoon a temperance program was rendered, the principal feature being a stirring address on the workings of local option by Mr. Rutherford, of Portland, who declared that it is the best law of its kind in existence in the United States at the present time. Miss Eula Lilwall favored the convention with a well-rendered recitation and Miss Daisy Gilbert rendered a beautiful vocal solo.

Public Reception. Last night's public reception at the armory was largely attended and was an unqualified success. The band played a few selections and then a number of little girls distributed bouquets of roses to the delegates, this being a beautiful and most pleasing feature of the evening. Dr. D. A. Paine presided at the meeting and introduced Mayor J. D. Matlock and Judge L. T. Harris, who delivered the addresses of welcome. The University Glee Club then sang and
