DO YOU GET UP WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable. Almost everybody who reads the newspapers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century; discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, uric acid, catarrh of the bladder and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work and in private practice, and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper, who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root, and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble.

When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles are sold by all good druggists. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

PRESIDENT ATTACKED BY MARYLAND SENATOR

of the accusation against him. It permits him to be confronted with the witnesses against him, to have process of obtaining witnesses in his favor, and to have the assistance of counsel in his defense.

The president prefers to try the case without any witnesses for the defense, because if witnesses, he definitely proclaims to use his own language, they could not possibly misrepresent the judgment that he had already rendered.

Mr. Rayner appealed to the senate for a vote on his resolution.

"If the senate refuses to act," declared Mr. Rayner, "the only relief that I can now think of would be speedily come if this officer were to die in the place of his captivity. Then the country would, perhaps, come to the conclusion that no other man should die by the same method. One of England's bravest admirals was shot to death on his quarter deck for committing an error of judgment. It was held that an error of judgment was punishable by death. Parliament never moved, but when the work was done the whole world rang in denunciation of the murderous deed."

"I predict," he added, "that if there is no relief anywhere, if the president's resolve is the final scene in this tragedy, then something will occur that has happened over and over again before now. Public opinion does not realize the situation now; all it knows is that the president has punished an officer of the army because in his judgment he is objectionable to the service.

"It has not yet grasped the entire environment. It does not yet comprehend that the president has taken a stand that no sovereign or monarch in any other civilized land would dare to take at this enlightened day. When it understands the proposition fully then public opinion will move—it will move along the avenues of public intelligence; it will be heard through the channels of public expression; it will move slowly but surely to the place of captivity. It will take the unfortunate officer and transfer him from the custody of the president into the presence of the people, and, tramping with an iron heel upon the desperate experiment of authority that the president has used it will give to his victim, humble, unimportant and unpretentious as he may be, the right to be heard in self defense, a right not only accorded him by the laws of his land, but a natural right which God has given, which it should not be within the potentate in the universe to deprive him of if there is any conscience or humanity in the heart of man, or any justice left upon this earth."
