J. F. Tiffin, Mr. and Mrs. J. Goldsmith, Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Sweeney, Mr. and Mrs. P. W. DeSura, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hobbs.

Miss Ernestine Hestop was the guest of honor at a card party given by Mrs. Lester Luckey on last Saturday afternoon at her cozy home on West Fifth street. What was the name of the afternoon and prizes were awarded to Miss Lulu Renshaw and Miss Lata Dunbar. The rooms were prettily decorated with cut flowers and each guest received a beautiful pink carnation as a favor. The invited guests were: The Misses Myra Loveridge, Lata Dunbar, Ruby Hendricks, Helene Robinson, Bertha Durick, Lulu Renshaw, Louise Bryant, Jan Gilstrap, Elizabeth Elliott, Belle Van Day, Emma Travis, Stella Benn, Alta and Vera Eastham, Agnes Matthews, Ruth Loveridge, Minnie Schwarzschild, Margaret Hetchel, the Mesdames S. D. Read, J. D. Fields, Lloyd Bellman, J. R. Robertson (Hennolier), J. C. McElroy, Guy Davis, Claude Gray, E. H. Gilstrap, J. W. Buxter.

The Mesdames Geo. W. DeSura, P. K. Hammond and Helen Duff were hostesses at a silver tea given on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. DeSura. The ladies present passed a pleasant afternoon with needlework and conversation. Mrs. John Buxer, assisted by some of the young ladies from the University, served refreshments in the dining room.

The twilight musicale given by the Y. W. C. A. on last Saturday evening at the Tau Pi sorority house was a great success. The program was excellent and each number was enthusiastically received by the listeners, the program consisting of vocal, instrumental and violin selections.

Mrs. P. E. Snodgrass entertained this week with two delightful evening parties. On both occasions the house was beautifully decorated with cut flowers, the color scheme in the drawing room being red, and in the dining room yellow. On Wednesday evening five hundred was the pastime and prizes were awarded to Judge F. O. Potter, Mrs. L. L. Goodrich and Mrs. Alton Hampton. The guests were: Messrs. and Mesdames L. T. Harris, L. G. Goodrich, Charles A. Hardy, Frank R. Wetherbee, G. D. Linn, C. B. Willoughby, Richard Daarborn, Alton Hampton, C. A. Burden, W. W. Brown, G. W. Griffin, R. S. Bryson, H. A. Tramp, F. L. Chambers, E. O. Potter, Frank N. McAllister, Robert McMurphy; Misses Ruby Hendricks, Amy Dunn, Lulu Renshaw, Morrie Auten, Louise Yorau; Messrs. H. W. Thomson, David Graham, Ray Goodrich, Fred M. DeNeffe. The hostess was assisted in serving by Mrs. Frank Chambers and Mrs. J. W. Hobbs.

On Friday the guests were invited for an evening at home. Mrs. Snodgrass was assisted in serving luncheon by Mrs. Charles Burden and Mrs. E. L. Chambers. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Dewain Bristow, Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Chelmsan, Professor and Mrs. John Straub, Professor and Mrs. F. G. Young, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. O. Yorau, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Kays, Mr. and Mrs. Will C. Yorau, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hoffman, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Loomis, Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Bogart, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Wilkins, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Williams, Dr. and Mrs.

The Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist church met this week with Mrs. A. T. Cockerline. An interesting program, followed by refreshments, was the order of the afternoon. There were in the neighborhood of twenty ladies present.

Mrs. W. W. Calkins entertained a number of ladies on both Wednesday and Thursday afternoons of this week. Needlework and guessing contests provided the afternoon's amusements, and the prizes for the contest were awarded to Mrs. W. L. Chesire and Mrs. Gilbert on the former occasion and to Mrs. M. E. Watson and Mrs. J. W. Robertson on the latter. The Thursday event was in honor of Mrs. Stafford, who leaves Saturday for Europe. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. F. J. Hard and Mrs. E. E. Mink.

The Sunshine Club met on Friday afternoon with Mrs. R. Welch. The invited guests were the Mesdames Geo. H. Smith, G. R. Christman, Ate Gilbert and S. Wolgamott. The hostess served a dainty luncheon to her guests in the dining room, which was daintily decorated for the occasion with roses.

The reception given to the University faculty, students and the many out-of-town visitors by the Beta Epsilon sorority at their chapter house on Thursday evening was a great success. The rooms were gorgeously decorated with anemones, roses, sweet-brier, honeysuckle and an immense bunch of pink carnations formed the center piece for the dining room. The porch was enclosed with Japanese screens and lighted with many Japanese lanterns, and here music and dancing were indulged in. In the receiving line were the Mesdames Jones, Dearborn, Goddard, Fenton and Dixon to welcome the guests. Sherbet and cake were served by the freshmen members of the sorority in the dining room. The rooms were thronged by guests during the hours from half-past seven until half-past nine o'clock.

Miss Vera Wilson was the guest of honor at a party given by Mrs. Archibald Livermore on Thursday afternoon. The afternoon's amusement consisted of a love story contest, the prize for which was awarded to Miss Winnifred Cockerline. After this a note was read announcing the engagement of Miss Wilson to Dr. M. C. Harris. The rooms were gay with red and white hearts, and this idea was also carried out in the luncheon. Miss Gertrude Livermore received the guests at the door, and Mrs. Frank Wetherbee assisted the hostess in the dining room. The guests were: The Mesdames Amos Wilkins, G. D. Linn, C. B. Willoughby, F. R. Wetherbee, Robert McMurphy, S. J. Wilson, J. W. Kays, Percy Adams, H. G. Keeney, Lloyd Bellman, Claude Gray, A. E. Wheeler, A. W. Livermore, A. T. Cockerline, W. B. Dillard, J. W. Harris, Mount, the Misses Belle Van Day, Zula Richardson, Stella Wilkinson, Alice Swift, Anna Parks, Mary McCormack, Myrtle Kays, Ethel Murray, Geva Murray, Winnifred Cockerline.

One of the pleasant social features of the week was a surprise given by Mrs. Hughes for her husband, J. J. Hughes, the clarinet soloist of the Eugene Military band, at his home, 932 Orchard avenue, Monday evening, May 11. It being the occasion of his 40th birthday anniversary. The Military band was invited, and upon reaching the door they serenaded him. They were soon invited in and presented Mr. Hughes with an elegant chair. Director Read presented him with a beautiful ebony toilet set and Mr. Kuthe a fine pipe. They spent the evening hours with social chat, music and smoking until about 11 o'clock, when they were invited into the dining room, where refreshments were served. After wishing Mrs. Hughes many happy returns of the day and expressing themselves as having spent a very pleasant evening, they left for their homes. The following persons were present: Professor L. C. Read, S. E. Stevens, Andrew Staryerud, Guy Davis, Howard

EUGENE TO EXTEND CORPORATE LIMITS

NEWS GIVES STARTLING INFORMATION THAT BOUNDARY LINE MAY BE EXTENDED TO WILAMETTE RIVER OPPOSITE SPRINGFIELD

The Springfield News indulges in the following bit of pleasantry: The News has been informed that Eugene is intending, in the near future, to extend its corporate limits, taking in Springfield Junction and as far east as the Willamette river. It is the opinion of the News that Springfield will heartily endorse this move and will do everything in her power to encourage her sister city to act quickly. Springfield at one time thought seriously of taking the west side into the incorporation, but after considering the matter abandoned all such thought, as it would be a very foolish and expensive undertaking. When the schoolhouse was built on that side of the river our people made a great mistake, but perhaps this can be sold to Eugene. Even should Eugene decide to expand enough to include the residents of Springfield under her guardian wing, she may find obstacles in her way that will not be easily overcome. The farmers may protest, realizing the enormity of the tax levy of the fast growing city which is sure to follow. The bonded indebtedness of the city must be met sooner or later and of course Springfield Junction will willingly contribute when she is a part of Eugene, or in other words, a "suburb."

Excited over small potato from Oregon. A recent issue of the Artigo (Wis.) Journal contains the following: "Henry Leiber brought a potato to the Journal office this afternoon that he had received from A. W. Fish, formerly of this county, but now living in Eugene, Or. It weighs over three pounds and is a foot long. It is certainly a wonder, but Mr. Leiber says he is going to plant a seed from it and raise a potato that weighs four pounds, and skin Oregon on raising potatoes."

Mr. Fish is naturally pleased with the sensation his three-pound potato produced here, as it is evidence to his old home friends that he has made no mistake in choosing a new location in the West. But, speaking of potatoes, there is one in The Guard office that weighs eight pounds, and does not seem to be such an overgrown specimen for this country at that. The little fellow Mr. Fish sent back to Wisconsin was only a dwarf compared with this big robust product of Lane county, and last fall we had nearly a bushel in this office, picked up by our circulation manager at Blachley, that averaged five pounds apiece in weight. The ambition of the Wisconsin man to grow a four-pound potato is certainly laudable, but it sounds funny out here where four-pound potatoes are as common as initiative amendments to the state constitution.

NOTICE OF SALE OF WATER BONDS

Notice is hereby given that in pursuance of and in conformity to ordinance number 734, passed by the common council on the 5th day of May, 1908, and approved by the mayor on the 5th day of May, 1908, the common council of the city of Eugene will receive sealed proposals for the purchase of the city recorder in Eugene, Oregon, for the purchase of three hundred thousand dollars in water bonds of said city, or any part thereof, up to the hour of 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, July 7, 1908, and that said proposals will be opened and considered by the council at said time. That the city of Eugene proposes to sell the said three hundred thousand dollars of water bonds to the highest bidder therefor in denominations of from one hundred to one thousand dollars, as the purchaser may desire; that said bonds are to bear interest at the rate bid, not to exceed 5 per cent per annum; said interest payable semi-annually on the first day of July and January of each year from their date until paid; that said three hundred thousand dollars of water bonds will become due and payable by the city of Eugene as follows: On the first day of January, 1948, principal and interest payable at a place to be agreed upon by purchaser and city. That said bonds shall not be sold for less than their par value; that in addition to the general obligation of the said city, the said bonds when sold shall be a first and exclusive lien on all lands, rights-of-way, easements, water rights, pipe lines, structures and appliances of every kind composing the water system to be secured with the money derived from the sale of said bonds; that the common council reserve the right of rejecting any and all bids. That the said bonds will be issued and disposed of under and pursuant to the terms of the act, "To re-incorporate the city of Eugene, and to repeal all acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith," filed in the office of the secretary of state February 18, 1905, and the amendments thereto passed and enacted by the people of the city of Eugene on the 18th day of April, 1908. A certified check of five per cent of the amount of each bid, payable to J. D. Matlock, Mayor, is required to accompany each bid. This notice is published for 60 days in the Morning Register and Eugene Daily Guard, newspapers of general circulation, published at Eugene, Oregon. Date of first publication, May 6th, 1908. By order of the common council, J. D. MATLOCK, Mayor.

SPRINGFIELD ITEMS CULLED FROM THIS WEEK'S NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Fry are moving back to Springfield from Wendling and are now busy remodeling the interior of their store building, preparatory to starting a confectionery and ice cream parlor. They promise our citizens a swell refreshment resort. Grant Roberts came up from Halsey Saturday evening to spend a few hours with Springfield friends. He is now acting as manager and drug clerk in one of the drug stores at Halsey and says he has the finest man to work for that he has ever seen. He likes the little town very much and the people especially are a genial set. Maehen & Cobb have shipped two cars of stock this week, one each of sheep and cattle. They are doing a fine shipping business and find the S. P. stock yards a great convenience. They still experience some difficulty in not having the scales at the yards, but this is hoped to be overcome in the near future, as it is understood that the company will put in scales soon.—News.

JUNCTION'S ANNUAL PICNIC MAY 28

Bills are out announcing the annual Junction May picnic. The date is Thursday, May 28. The county candidates will be there that day and all kinds of speeches will be turned loose. The Brownville baseball club will play the home team in the afternoon. This promises to be a spirited game and well worth seeing. This year should really be played on the Brownville diamond, but the boys have agreed to play in Brownville at the annual picnic at that place in exchange for the courtesy of coming here picnic day. Then there will be different lines in sports for which cash prizes will be hung up. Twenty dollars in nickles will be thrown broadcast for the boys and girls to scramble for. The fund will be divided so that all can have an equal chance. Those who delight in pigeon shooting will have a chance to enjoy themselves during the afternoon. Cash will also be in evidence here. In the evening an opportunity will be given to trip the "light fantastic" at the opera house. "Everybody and all their relations are expected to be here.—Times.

THE EYE AND ITS CARE

(By Dr. Franc Lucille Hard, New Christian Block.)

In our first article upon the eye and its care a brief description of the anatomy of the eyeball will be commenced. As all know, the eyeballs are situated in the front of the head in two hollow cavities called the orbits. The shape of these cavities is pyramidal with the apex directed inward. The walls of the orbits are of bone lined with various tissues and much fat, which forms a soft bed for the eye-ball to rest in. In front, the eye is protected by the eyebrows, eyelids, and eyelashes. The eyebrows help keep the dust and dirt from the eye and also regulate, to a small extent, the amount of light which enters the eye. The eyelids are the shields of the eye, and play a very important part in protecting the eyeball. Their action being involuntary as well as voluntary, they close upon the slightest danger approaching the eye. At the act of winking, the glands which line their inner surface are made to secrete a solution which keeps the front of the eye moist and well lubricated. But perhaps the greatest use of the eyelids is to keep the light from the eyes when at rest, for if one were never able to close the eyes and shut out all light and a motion, occasionally, think what a calamity it would be.

The eyelashes, which are rows of short curved hairs situated at the free margin of each eyelid, also help in keeping dust from entering the eye. Some times these tiny hairs grow in the wrong direction and cause much trouble by scratching and irritating the eyeball. This can generally be helped by carefully removing the offending lashes. The above are the protectors of the eye-ball. The rotators or muscles of the eye will next be considered. There are six muscles attached to each eyeball. The Internal Rectus muscle is situated on the nasal side of the eyeball pulling it toward the nose. The External Rectus muscle which pulls the eye toward the temple and is fastened to the temporal side of the eyeball. The Superior Rectus muscle, situated on top of the eyeball pulls it upward and the Inferior Rectus muscle pulling downward, is located on the under side of the eye. There are two other muscles called the oblique muscles named from their action in pulling the eyes obliquely up and down. Of the muscles of the eye the Internal Rectus is the strongest, the External Rectus is the longest, and the Inferior Rectus is the longest. (To be continued.)
