AN INDEPENDENT PAPER. Member of Associated Press. THURSDAY, MAY 28, 1908

Not an Oregon newspaper is opposing the University appropriation.—Oregon Journal.

LITICAL APATHY THAT AUGURS WELL FOR PUBLIC WELFARE

From every part of Lane county comes the news that there is no apparent interest in the election of Monday. People are not talking politics, the campaign being the most quiet ever known in this county.

The proposition to vote a small tax for the establishment of a county high school has many supporters, and has much to recommend it. A splendid school system has had very much to do with the material upbuilding of many of the Eastern states, and Oregon will make no mistake in following in their footsteps.

Henry Clews, the Wall street banker, says the corporations are resolutely but unobtrusively working to control the Federal government, which isn't half so surprising as that Henry should have blabbed it. They must have been blocking some of his financial gambles.

Another batch of hero medals has been handed out by the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission, and the man who allows his wife to eat his hair again failed to get one.

Reduced to its plain meaning, the advice of some business men, who ought to know better, is that when the head of the house hears burglars at work, he should take an opiate and go to sleep, instead of making a fuss.

Every owner of a flying machine that won't fly knows exactly how the owners of presidential boums that refuse to boom are feeling just now.

VOTERS' ATTENTION! Vote intelligently next Monday on "Proportional Representation" by hearing the championship debate between Astoria and Lebanon, 8:00 p.m. May 29, at 8 p.m. Villard Hall, Good music, State Superintendent Askerman will preside. Beautiful "Regent's Cup" presented. Admission Free.

LADIES OF G. A. R. NOTICE You are requested to bring well-filled baskets to the hall on Memorial Day, May 30, as we have not received any of the money donated for the expenses of this day.

These risk takers to be given away by Wally are attracting a great deal of attention and bringing good news to the county. The contest will be in the county where Wally's tent is located. Wally's tent is located at the corner of Tenth and Willamette streets.

San Francisco Judge has given a judgment against the estate of a man now deceased for the sum of $1420 for three operations performed on the late deceased by pendents. The executor thought that something like $100 would be about right for the service, but the doctor thought otherwise and on the matter was lit out in the courts, with the result that the judge gave the weight of his decision with the man of medicine. It will be noticed by the above that doctors are out of the ordinary class of trades and seem to recognize the general practice of giving wholesale rates. It is not clear what the bill should be under the practice of the ordinary tradesman, but it has been observed by a recent writer that no self-respecting doctor would present a bill for services to the estate of a dead man that would aggregate more than the amount of the property value.

It is more than likely that Mae Wood is all that she is said to be and probably more, too. But that does not make old Tom Platt any better. He is an old reprobate at best and deserves to be sent to the penitentiary on general principles. The mere fact that the Wood woman has so much as even a passing acquaintance with Platt is enough to damn her character, but that is her misfortune and she is paying dearly for it.

L. R. Edmondson, Statement No. 1 candidate for the legislature, wishes the report corrected that he is opposed to the university appropriation. On the other hand he desires it known that he is heartily in favor of this appropriation and will, if elected, use his best efforts at all times to secure ample financial support for that institution.

Sir Wilfred Laurier, the Canadian premier, on the authority of a map issued by our war department, accuses the United States of "swiping" a bunch of Arctic islands belonging to Canada. The administration must have a traitor among its map-makers, as it is not conceivable that it has been hunting a new island-trouble.

Another batch of hero medals has been handed out by the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission, and the man who allows his wife to eat his hair again failed to get one. Some of the hero-sporters must be loafing on their job.

If Nick Longworth doesn't withdraw his threat to take the stump, he is likely to be kidnapped and shipped out of the country before the campaign begins. The people can't be expected to stand for everything.

MISS VALESKA SURRATT. Miss Surratt, the famous vaudeville artist, is almost as popular in London as she is in America. The London pictorial publications, noted for their careful selections of stage beauties, find her a fitting subject for many illustrations, particularly as the true type of the American beauty. This favorite photograph of Miss Surratt shows her splendid cast of features to excellent advantage.

Heart to Heart Talks. BY EDWIN A. NYE. Copyright, 1908, by Edwin A. Nye.

TO THE GUM CHEWING GIRL.

My dear young woman: Do not get the habit. I want to tell you that the evils of the gum chewing habit are clearly explained by Dr. John S. Diamond of Bellevue college, New York, and he ought to know. He says, for instance: That if you chew gum habitually you unduly excite your salivary glands. You actually swallow some phlegm of saliva every day. And if you chew during the hours of digestion you neutralize the acidity of the stomach.

Now, says the doctor, you delay digestion, which in itself is a bad thing, and you run the risk of microbes. Besides: Dr. Diamond says gum chewing is "a neuritic manifestation." That is to say, your nerves are jangled out of tune. You have developed a sort of jaw unrest, which is no trivial affair. "Fish!" you say. All this talk about stomach and nerves does not touch you. But say! Do you know this: Gum chewing persistently followed up will destroy some of the beauty of your mouth and chin and sooner or later put ugly lines in your lower face? It is the honest truth!

Now, I think I see you sit up and pay attention. That warning is worth while. It stands to reason. The machinery of the lower part of your countenance was not made for perpetual chewing. It is geared to work only when there is the right kind of grist. Overwork and strain will rack the working parts just as they do any other kind of machinery, even more so, because muscles and nerves and blood vessels are delicate.

Something also might be said about your face in perpetual motion. You run a great risk in permitting your best young man to see you under such circumstances. Of course where every one in your set is of a like chewing disposition and everybody chews and chews and chews, why, perhaps it is not well to be too fussy. But— Just remember, will you please, about the coming of those ugly lines and creases about your mouth!

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS. Notice is hereby given that the County Court of Lane County, Oregon, will receive sealed bids for the furnishing of all material and constructing a bridge across the Edwards slough on County Road No. 12 in Sec. 15, Tp. 16, S. All bids to be accompanied by certified check of 5 per cent of the amount of the bid, said bid to be filed with the Clerk of Lane County on or before 2 o'clock, in the afternoon of June 24, 1908.

The Court reserves the right to reject any and all bids. By order of the Court. F. F. LEY, County Clerk.
