A SURGICAL OPERATION

If there is any one thing that a woman dreads more than another it is a surgical operation.

We can state without fear of a contradiction that there are hundreds, yes, thousands, of operations performed upon women in our hospitals which are entirely unnecessary and many have been avoided by

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

For proof of this statement read the following letters.

Mrs. Barbara Base, of Kingman, Kansas, writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"For eight years I suffered from the most severe form of female troubles and was told that an operation was my only hope of recovery. I wrote Mrs. Pinkham for advice, and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it has saved my life and made me a well woman."

Mrs. Arthur R. House, of Church Road, Moorestown, N. J., writes:

"I feel it is my duty to let people know what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I suffered from female troubles, and last March my physician decided that an operation was necessary. My husband objected, and urged me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and to-day I am well and strong."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, and backache.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

ATTORNEY GENERAL TELLS HOW TO VOTE

Attorney-General Crawford gives the following instructions regarding the election law: "Whether a voter is registered or not, he must vote in the precinct in which he lives for county officers. Of course, if he lives, or is registered in one precinct, or both, he may vote in another for state and district officers only by the use of Blank A the same as though he were not registered, but in either case he cannot vote for county officers. He must vote in the precinct in which he lives to vote for them. If he changes his residence after registering, he may change his registration, if the books are still open, in the manner provided in section 2827, by the use of Blank B. If he does not do so, he can vote by the use of Blank A, the same as if he were not registered at all, as he is not registered in that precinct, but in that case he can vote for all officers, as he is voting in the precinct in which he lives."

FOREST RANGERS ARE APPOINTED

Supervisor C. R. Seltz, of the Cascade reserve, whose headquarters are in Eugene, announces the appointment as forest rangers of James L. Furnish, to be located at Rigdon ranch, on the upper Willamette; Ralph Taylor, to be located at Spark's lake, on the east slope of the Cascades, and Archie O. Knowles, to be located at Davis lake, on the east slope of the Cascades. These men took the recent examination conducted by Supervisor Seltz.

laws and inscrutable purposes.

* * * * * * *

Our forefathers had set forth in the Declaration of Independence in 1776 that:

"All men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

Fighting for this principle the revolutionists were successful and the nation was born.

In 1787, forgetting this principle of universal liberty, the founders and people of this nation, while they declared in the preamble to their constitution that their purpose was to secure the "blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity," recognized and permitted the enslavement of human beings.

The soldiers of the Union met the forces of disunion for almost two years on many battlefields and because the guiding minds of the nation were endeavoring to save the nation and at the same time save the favored institution of those who were in rebellion against the nation, God so prevented the triumph of the Union arms that the cause of the Union was well-night lost.

Man in his weakness thought that this government, founded on the eternal principle of freedom to all, could exist on half free and half slave.

But the Almighty, guiding the destinies of the nation, frustrated the weak plans of man, and as the God of battles brought those entrusted with the nation's life to see that the nation could only survive wholly free. And so Abraham Lincoln, realizing that the time had come to bow to the Supreme will, to that divine power which had been so ordering the affairs of this nation that the crisis must come, issued the emancipation proclamation, declaring that all should be free.

Then the nation took on new life, then her warriors, "thrice armed because they had their quarrel just," inspired by their holy cause, that of union in which every man was free, fought on the side of eternal justice and supreme equity and became an invincible host.

What inspired the four score and ten thousand of the Union army to rush into the "imminent deadly breach"? What sustained them as they met the onrush of the enemy? What but that love of country that made it glorious to die, that love of liberty that made the patriot's grave his country's shrine?

And so there died upon this field many thousand defenders of the Union, many thousand patriots, many thousand heroes, who offered up their lives a willing sacrifice that this country might be in fact—as in theory—wholly free.

The great victory was won. Eternal justice prevailed. Supreme equity reigned.

Today we survey this field and see with clarified vision all that its tragedies meant. We see the Union saved, the nation established upon the immovable rock of freedom.

* * * * * * *

Our peril is to be found in weak or insidious acquiescence by our public servants in specious demands for inroads upon the established and tried institutions of our country sometimes in the name of reform, sometimes masquerading as justice.

The highest and most patriotic ambition you and I can entertain is to seek to understand the fundamental principles in American national life and understanding them, to defend and protect them. Defend them alike against those who would narrowly restrict them and those who would destructively expand them.

The individual skirmisher out along the far-flung Union line beyond the crest served the cause as well as the commander of the corps or army directing aggregate movements from headquarters. And often the private soldier has saved the day and retrieved a disaster due to a commander's folly or perversity, dying an inconspicuous hero. In that spirit of vigilance and devotion, let us serve in this army of the Union, which is always in the field. We may not be able to make our service conspicuous, but we can certainly make it useful.

MASS MEETING TO ARRANGE FOR UNIVERSITY VOTE

There will be a mass meeting of citizens at the Commercial club this evening at 8 o'clock sharp to arrange to give the University of Oregon a record-breaking vote at the polls on Monday.

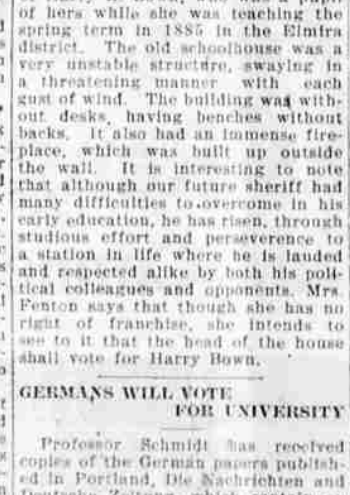
Indications point to strong opposition in Linn, Benton, Marion, Washington, Polk, Yamhill, Clackamas, Wasco and Union counties.

Eugene has 1585 voters registered. A vote here will cancel a vote in any other part of the state. Everybody come to help organize the four Eugene precincts, Fairmount and Blanchie.

Any one who is entitled to vote for state officers can vote on the University bill.

ALLEN EATON.

HENRY STEWART CANDIDATE FOR CLERK



The subject of this sketch is a Linn county boy and a son of the late Jos. W. Stewart, a pioneer merchant of Springfield, who was widely and favorably known in his day for his generosity and for the tender regard he always held for the poor. He was ever ready to help those in their trials and troubles and his memory is cherished by many to-day for acts of kindness performed in the early years of the state.

Henry Stewart was born in Springfield, Linn county, Oregon, and received his education in the public schools of that city. He began his business career as a clerk in the store of Hendricks & Stewart, a pioneer firm of Springfield, conducted by his father and Mr. Hendricks. Mr. Stewart remained in the latter's store, acting as clerk and bookkeeper. From there he went to Corvallis and served fifteen years as operator and freight agent for the S. P. Company. He stood well with his railroad employers and was popular among the employes to a man. Mr. Stewart has also engaged successfully in the mercantile business, and served as postmaster under the administrations of Presidents Harrison, Cleveland, McKinley and Roosevelt. He was also engaged in the banking business, being one of the founders of the First Bank of Springfield. In this institution he had the confidence of the public, as was evidenced by the large deposits and steady increase in business.

By the above it will be seen that Mr. Stewart is fully competent to handle the affairs that accumulate in the office of clerk. This with credit to Mr. Stewart, that he did not seek the office, but was endorsed for the nomination without his knowledge of what was being done. It was simply the office seeking the man, and a legion of his friends in all parties will be glad of this opportunity of helping elect Mr. Stewart to the office for which he is now a candidate.

In his petition to the voters of Lane county Henry Stewart says "he will give to the people of Lane county a courteous and business-like administration," and you can depend upon what he says.

HARRY BOWN'S PUBLIC SCHOOL TEACHER PROUD OF PUPIL'S SUCCESS

A Lost Valley correspondent tells this incident to illustrate the career of a Lane county boy; now grown to manhood, honored and trusted—a self-made man of the people, who received his early education in the pioneer school houses of the county:

"House-cleaning time often resurrects old relics. For instance, on Tuesday Mrs. Effa Fenton, of Dexter, drew from its hiding place an old school register, and in looking through the records found the name of Harry L. Bown, who was a pupil of hers while she was teaching the spring term in 1885 in the Elmira district. The old schoolhouse was a very unstable structure, swaying in a threatening manner with each gust of wind. The building was without desks, having benches without backs. It also had an immense fireplace, which was built up outside the wall. It is interesting to note that although our future sheriff had many difficulties to overcome in his early education, he has risen, through studious effort and perseverence to a station in life where he is lauded and respected alike by both his political colleagues and opponents. Mrs. Fenton says that though she has no right of franchise, she intends to see to it that the head of the house shall vote for Harry Bown.

GERMANS WILL VOTE FOR UNIVERSITY

Professor Schmidt has received copies of the German papers published in Portland, Die Nachrichten and Deutsche Zeitung, which contain an appeal of the German Alliance to all German voters in the state to support the University appropriation. It is thought that this will influence many votes, since the Germans are naturally inclined to favor higher educational efforts, owing to the excellence of the schools and universities of their native country.

GOULD LIVERY, FEED AND SALES STABLES

Having purchased the Gilbert feed stables on West Fifth street, near Willamette, we intend to conduct a first-class livery, feed and sales stable. We are prepared to furnish good teams and ladies' saddle horses on short notice.

Our prices will be found reasonable and our treatment of the public courteous and obliging.

Having had much experience in the livery business we know how to conduct such an establishment in a first-class manner. We respectfully solicit a share of your patronage.

SCHOOL CHILREN PARADE FOR PROHIBITION

Two or three hundred little school children paraded the streets this afternoon in the interests of prohibition, the object being to influence votes for a continuance of "dry" conditions in this county. The children carried banners and at occasional intervals gave yells appropriate to the occasion. Some of the inscriptions on the banners were as follows: "Don't Let Corvallis Lead Eugene"; "Away With the Saloons"; "We Are in Your Hands—Don't Vote to Harm Us"; "We'll Take Your Place Some Day. Vote for Us"; "Would You Vote to Open the Saloon for Your Boy?" "What Does Your Mother Think of the Saloon?"
