

SOCIETY

This truly has been a society week, as in fact has been the entire month of May. On each week day there has been some pleasant gathering for matron or maid, where frivoly and the happy May spirit reigned supreme.

Mrs. L. M. Travis was hostess at whilst parties on Monday and Tuesday afternoons of this week. On both delightful occasions Miss Emma Travis assisted her sister in serving very elaborate luncheons. On Monday afternoon the first prize was awarded to Mrs. J. K. Pratt, while Mrs. Frank Page and Mrs. L. T. Harris received consolations. The following afternoon Mrs. J. W. Quackenbush received the first prize and Mrs. E. O. Potter the consolation. The invited guests were: For Monday—The Mesdames E. E. Mink, L. E. Tidball, Claire Willoughby, G. D. Linn, G. W. Wallis; the Misses Ida and Harriette Patterson.

Mrs. Geo. T. Hall and Mrs. Charles S. Freeland gave two pleasant afternoons on Wednesday and Thursday of this week at the home or Mrs. Hall on East Ninth street. The drawing rooms were beautifully decorated with La France roses and maiden-hair ferns, while the dining room was resplendent with the cloth of Gold rose. The guests were received at the door by little Miss Muriel Freeland. After indulging in needlework for an hour or so, a character game was introduced that caused much merriment. The hostesses were assisted in serving by the Misses Winnifred Cockerline, Barbara Boich, Meta Goldsmith and Jessie Calkins. The guests on Wednesday were: Mesdames R. A. Booth, I. M. Glen, E. C. Smith, J. W. Robertson, A. T. Cockerline, Geo. MRS. LANGTRY IN A NEW ROLE.

Mrs. Langtry, who recently appeared as Mrs. Arundel in "A Fearful Joy" at the Haymarket theater, London, is now fifty-six years of age, but retains much of the beauty which made her famous thirty years ago. She began her theatrical career at the Haymarket in 1881, playing the role of Kate Hardcastle in "She Stoops to Conquer." She is now writing an autobiography, which doubtless will be of worldwide interest.

Mrs. M. E. Watson and Mrs. Dilley entertained the members of the Wednesday Afternoon Whist Club, their husbands and a few invited guests on Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Watson on East Eleventh street. The rooms were elaborately decorated in red, white and blue, in keeping with the near approach of Memorial Day, the decorations consisting of red pennants, snowballs, flags and a liberty bell which hung in the doorway between the parlors. What was the evening's amusement, the score cards of which were very unique. They were crescent shaped cards representing watermelon inside, and each point was awarded with a little black negro. Mrs. Geo. O'B. DeBar won the ladies' prize, Mr. J. W. Hobbs the gentlemen's prize and the consolation prize was awarded to Mrs. John Buoy. The invited guests were Dr. and Mrs. Geo. O'B. DeBar, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Page, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Potter, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Osburn, Mrs. C. D. Emmons, Mr. and Mrs. John Buoy, Mrs. Lou Von Zold Clarke.

Miss Vera Wilson was the complimentary guest at a linen shower given by Mrs. C. B. Willoughby last Tuesday afternoon. Miss Wilson received many beautiful pieces of linen. The guests were each given a clay pipe and asked to dress it as either a bride or groom. In this contest Miss Belle Van Duxen was awarded first prize and Mrs. J. J. Wilson the second. The color scheme of pink was artistically carried out in the dining room decorations, and also in the luncheon, which Miss Myrtle Kays and Mrs. Lloyd Bellman assisted the hostess in serving. The guests were: The Mesdames A. T. Cockerline, R. McMurphy, Archie Livermore, A. E. Whalen, J. W. Kays, Percy Adams, Lloyd Bellman, Frank Wetherbee, Amos Wilkins, Claude Gray, W. B. Dillard, S. J. On the same evening Mrs. Willoughby entertained at luncheon Miss Willson, the Misses Ethel and Jeva Murray, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Bean, Dr. M. C. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bellman.

On Wednesday evening of this week Mrs. Drew Griffin entertained the teachers of the Geary school and a few additional guests for her daughter, Miss Leone, who has just completed the eighth grade. The evening was passed pleasantly with games and music, Miss Nettie Kress winning the prize in the conundrum contest. A coincidence of the occasion was

A KAFFIR WEDDING PARTY.

This is a picture of a wedding party in South Africa. The participants marching at a funeral pace toward the altar where the ceremony is to be held. The bride wears a white satin dress, and in this she posed in a war dance during the wedding reception. The festivities lasted for days.

J. W. BAKER MAKING STRONG RUN FOR JUDGE.

For County Judge J. W. Baker is making an active canvass and reports from different parts of the county are to the effect that he will poll far more than his party strength. Mr. Baker has resided long in Lane county and is well and favorably known, having served as state game warden for one term, in which office he discharged his duties acceptably, and made an excellent record. While he is an unwilling candidate for office at this time, after having consented to run, he started out with his usual energy to get elected, and is determined to succeed.

A Car Load of Gas Ranges Just Arrived! Will Be Sold and Connected at Cost

We want the women who think a gas Range is a pretty good thing but cannot be used for all cooking purposes to consider this fact:

A Gas Range

will do anything a coal Range will do, and some things better. You can prepare a full course dinner or make a cup of tea or toast in a minute; with no dish or ashes, to bother with.

Call and see the full line of gas Stoves on display at our office, or phone and our representative will call on you.

Remember our prices include all piping necessary. Ranges sold at absolute cost with no idea of profit.

Our... Water Heaters are fully guaranteed; will heat a 30-gallon tank in 30 minutes, enough for a bath in seven minutes.

Lady demonstrator will teach you how to use a Range after it is connected, if desired.

COOK WITH GAS

Don't wait until tomorrow but call today and have your Range in use before the rush.
