CALL TODAY FOR LOW FEE.

THE WORLD'S GREATEST EXPONENT OF SCIENTIFIC PALMISTRY. Palmistry is almost the oldest science. In almost every portion of the Bible we find the spirit of prophecy encouraged. We find schools of the prophets, established for such a purpose, and indications that the relations were held in repute by God's chosen people.

The most important verse of the Bible that is used in support of palmistry is in the seventh verse of the thirty-seventh chapter of Job: "GOD PLACED SIGNS OR SEALS IN THE HAND OF MAN THAT ALL MEN MIGHT KNOW THEIR WORDS." Among other verses in the Bible that seem to bear a relation to the point may be mentioned: "LENGTH OF DAYS LAY IN HER RIGHT HAND AND RICHES AND HONOR IN HER LEFT"—Prov. III:46. "WHAT EVIL IS IN MINE HAND?"—First Samuel xxvi:18.

Among famous believers in the science may be mentioned: Alexander the Great, Julius Caesar, Cardinal Richelieu, Napoleon Bonaparte, Cromwell, Sir Walter Scott, Marie Antoinette, Balzac, Victor Hugo, Dumas, Gladstone, and Queen Victoria. Our own George Washington and Abraham Lincoln expressed great admiration for this eminent science.

If you are interested it would bewell to call this week. Grace de Koven will receive callers between the hours of 9 a. m. and 9 p. m. Low fee. Bring this adv. Phone Black 1031.

EUGENE "DINKED" OUT OF 100 DASH. AT CORVALLIS

CREIGER, LOCAL SCHOOL'S CRACK SPRINTER, JOBBED OUT OF PLACE IN SATURDAY'S CONTEST—EUGENE TEAM ONLY MADE ONE POINT IN EN-TIRE MEET

The Eugene high school track team returned from Corvallis yesterday afternoon, the boys feeling more disgusted than discouraged over the poor showing made. The cause of the failure is given as unfairness of the Corvallis officials (O. A. C. students) and hard luck. The deal given Creiger, the hundred-yard man, is said to be, and is even admitted by many O. A. C. students as the "rawest" decision on record. It seems that in the final trial heats for the 100-yard dash Friday Creiger was the man caught by all the timers as first man (time, 10 2-5). However, the judges—or rather one judge, the other admitting that he wasn't sure, even that he hadn't noticed—declared that he didn't know who it was made it, but that he didn't think that the winner's number was the same as Creiger's but the number of the second man. This made it that Creiger didn't even have a place, and left the race as one man short, showing plainly that there was a mistake. Of course there was a protest, not only by the Eugene men, but by anything then the officials said that they would see that it was made right. It was left this way until the last thing before the finals the next day, when Creiger was told that he did not qualify and would not be allowed to run. The comment even among O. A. C. students themselves was that this was a plain "dink," and very bold at that. Practically this same thing was done to "Hal" Bean in the 440-yard dash last year. It is probable that Eugene will not enter another team in this contest.

In the broad jump, where Elmaker expected and was expected by all to take first, he sprained his ankle. This sprained ankle also hindered him in the relay and it was lost by a few feet only. If it had not been for this there would have been no question but that Eugene would have won it. Bailey, who made Eugene's single point in the whole meet, in the hammer-throw, made some splendid throws, but repeatedly stepped out of the ring and would lose the throw.

The boys expect to make this defeat good, however, in the meet here next Friday with Salem high, which took the second number of points in this last meet.

SALEM TEAM SHUTS OUT LOCALS TWICE

The Fairmount team of Salem shut out a picked-up Eugene aggregation at Recreation Park yesterday afternoon twice in succession, the score of the first game being 3 to 0, and the second 4 to 0. The games were only seven innings in length. The locals showed lack of practice, and in fact some of them had not played a game before this year, and the others had been playing but little. A good-sized crowd stayed all through the agony and most of them were glad when it was over. A new rule was established during one of the games. A decision of the umpire was disputed and finally it was agreed to decide whether or not the runner was out by the flip of a coin. This rule should be placed in the official baseball guides.

EUGENE WILL HAVE HUMMER. OF MARKET DAY

Max Zimmerman has got them a-going, and the people of the city are in fever heat over the idea that there is to be a market day in Eugene soon, the same day there will be a horse show. The idea of a market day is a good one, and Max Zimmerman is the man to get the people enthused. He has the right idea. He says the men in the circus who have their wares for sale are successful only to the extent of the noise they make. The man that "hollers" the loudest sells the most merchandise. It is the intention to make this day long to be remembered in Eugene as a day of big things. The facts are that such an event will bring to the city the country folks who have something to sell, and with their money will be in a position to patronize the merchants for their spring necessities on that day.

The horse show will be a big event in itself, but if to that you add the opportunity to sell the stock you have for sale, it is difficult to say to what extent the people will come to the city on that day. There will be the bellowing of cattle, the neighing of horses, the squealing of pigs, the crowing of roosters, the bleating of sheep, and pandemonium will be let loose. Will you be with us?

S. B. FINNEGAN'S NEW BLACKSMITH SHOP OPEN

ONE OF THE MOST UP-TO-DATE PLACES ON THE COAST—ELECTRIC POWER FOR FORGES AND MACHINERY

S. B. Finnegan, who has conducted a blacksmith shop in the McFarland building at the corner of West Eighth and Olive streets for the past several years, this morning began business in his new shop in his own brick block on Olive street just in the rear of the old shop. This shop is one of the most up-to-date places of its kind on the coast, and contains all the latest appliances and machinery known to the trade. There are three forges built of brick and furnished with wind for the fires by an electric fan located in the basement of the building. The drills are also operated by an electric motor. The horse-shoeing, wood-working and wagon and carriage departments of the shop are all separate and in charge of high-class workmen. Mr. Finnegan having personal supervision over all departments. The tire heating and cooling furnaces are inside the building, something out of the ordinary, the usual thing being to heat the tires by a fire out of doors. Traveling men who have seen Mr. Finnegan's new shop all say that it beats anything they ever saw in their territory, and all of them take occasion to congratulate Mr. Finnegan upon his enterprise in establishing such a plant in this city.

After a few days, when everything is in good working order, the public is invited to inspect the shop. Mr. Finnegan will take great pleasure in showing visitors through the place.
