CONGRESS SPENDS LARGEST SUM IN NATION'S HISTORY

Washington, D. C., May 29.—Representative Tawney, of Minnesota, chairman of the committee on appropriations, today presented to the house his annual review of fiscal appropriations and expenditures. The keynote of his speech was sounded in the declaration that "the insistent demands of the people and of the public service result in an increased aggregate when enacted into law"; and the "efforts of the majority to maintain a policy of greater economy were frustrated by an obstructive and recalcitrant minority." Tawney stated the "total appropriations of the session to be $851,088,670. He said the total revenues of the government estimated to congress by the Secretary of the Treasury are placed at $878,123,011; that in addition to the authorized expenditure of $851,088,670 for the operation of the government during the next fiscal year, appropriations are also made as follows:

In deficiency acts, exclusive of $12,466,750 for public buildings authorized at this session, $44,529,223; for requirements of the sinking fund $18,000,000; for redemption of National bank notes, $25,000,000; for construction of the Panama canal (bonds to be issued), $29,187,000; for miscellaneous and special objects, $1,000,000, including $250,000 for the relief of storm and flood sufferers in the southern states, and $403,000 for the payments of claims of the Roman Catholic Church in the Philippine Islands, making a grand aggregate for the next fiscal year of $1,008,804,894.

Tawney said the estimates submitted to congress by the executive as a basis for the appropriations made amounted to $1,079,449,288, or an excess of $70,440,394 over the total of the appropriations of this session and an excess of $156,651,145 over all the appropriations made at the last session. A subtraction of the totals of estimates and appropriations, he said, showed that the present house cut down the estimates for the ordinary operating expenses of the government $124,347,172.

The grand total of appropriations made at this session exceeded those of last session by $88,006,750.
