PORTLAND ROSE FESTIVAL IS WELL ATTENDED

(Special Correspondence.)
Portland, Or., June 1.—The Portland Rose Festival opened with all Portland in a holiday humor, flower wreathed windows and roses in evidence everywhere. Thousands of visitors from outside points are in the city, and incoming crowds are greeted by an immense Arch of Welcome erected at the approach of the Union Station. The Mosquito Fleet lies at anchor in the harbor, an excursion of over 100 people, under the auspices of the Sacramento Valley Development League, arrived this morning from the South. Washington is sending generous delegations and an excursion is expected from Lewiston, Idaho, tomorrow morning. The whole Northwest feels that in addition to the innumerable purely attractive features of the celebration, the event is a marvelous advertisement of the climatic conditions, for no where else in the world can flowers be found more beautiful than the roses of the North Pacific Coast. The grand parades will exceed anything ever shown on the Coast, and besides all the leading towns of Oregon, and Washington, will be represented in the floats and decorated vehicles.

When the Oregon Development League recently asked the co-operation of the state in making a comprehensive exhibit of the products of the Pacific Northwest, heartfelt assurances of help came from every quarter but before definite arrangements could be completed the Trustees of the Commercial Club Building were offered a five years' rental of $21,000 for the exhibit room and felt compelled to accept this in justice to the stockholders. But the officers of the League say that their plan will yet materialize.

Both the "Pacific Monthly" magazine and "Sunset" appear as special Rose Festival numbers for June. Nothing proves the activity of Oregon and Washington communities so forcibly as a glance through the advertising sections of these Coast-published magazines.

Manufacturers in all parts of the United States seem to be taking a new interest in the investigation of conditions here in the Northwest, and especially is this true of the factory which represents a moderate investment.

From every city of any size on the Coast delegates have come to Portland to attend the session of the Pacific Coast Ad Men's Association. It is being held in the Convention Hall of the Commercial Club Building, and the Association will enjoy a unique dinner at the Club tonight; their banquets are probably the most unusual and interesting given by any convention—they have been compared to similar affairs of the famous Gold-iron Club of Washington—and since the Portland Ad Men claim to have the largest Advertising Club in America, they are making special effort as hosts.

A communication went out last week from the Portland Commercial Club to the organizations of the state asking for a supply of literature issued by each community. Special files of these publications are kept for the information and benefit of newcomers, who naturally come to the larger cities first and to whom such a distributing bureau will be of the utmost advantage. The whole Pacific Northwest is included in scope of this work.

GREAT INTEREST LOCALLY IN THE ELECTION RETURNS

Greater interest is being taken locally in this election than in any for years, judging from the crowds on the streets and around the Guard's bulletin boards eager to learn the latest news of returns.

The entire county Republican ticket is elected by good majorities except the sheriff, Harry Bown getting in by several hundred, although it is hard to estimate his majority owing to the slowness of the work of counting the ballots in the large precincts. It will be some time this evening before all the ballots cast in the Eugene precincts will have been counted. A good many of the outside returns are in—enough to tell that the county is dry again, this time by perhaps 300 majority. The University of Oregon appropriation will carry in Eugene by about 1500, very few votes being cast against it here. Some of the county precincts however are about evenly divided on the question, while others give the appropriation a good majority. According to messages received here this afternoon from Portland the indications are that the appropriation will carry.

F. T. Plank, Republican, is again elected constable of the Eugene district by a good majority over George Croner, the Democratic nominee. Constable Plank's majority is probably 300.

R. S. Bryson is elected Justice of the peace again over Geo. W. Kinsey, the Democratic nominee.

L. OF G. A. R. SERVICES ON MEMORIAL DAY

Memorial day was spent by the Ladies of the G. A. R. in performing the sacred duties of the day as required by national orders, first in decorating the graves of comrades of the Civil war, as well as the graves of the veterans of the Spanish-American war. These graves were all decorated by the Ladies of the G. A. R. the previous day as well.

From this the ladies marched to the graves of the G. A. R. plat, where a very able speech was given by Rev. H. N. Mount, which was highly appreciated by the members of Rich Mountain circle No. 4, L. of G. A. R., and was a wonderful revelation to the hundreds of citizens present who did not know the difference between this order and the W. R. C. Next came "America" by Master Daniels, rendered on the cornet. Past Department Commander of the G. A. R. Dr. W. E. Best, of Cottage Grove, who is also a member of the Ladies of the G. A. R., and who helped draft the rules and regulations of the order, and instituted the first circle of Ladies of the G. A. R. at Chicago, November 18, 1886, just three years after the Corps was organized, as taken from the G. A. R. proceedings of the national convention held at Minneapolis, Minn., 1907.

Then the Ladies of the G. A. R. held their memorial service, which is very impressive and solemn.

"God Be With You Till We Meet Again" was then played on the clarinet, when Rev. Mount pronounced the benediction and all repaired to I. O. O. F. hall, where dinner was served to between 400 and 500 persons, including Sons of Veterans and veterans of the Spanish-American war.
